TWENTIETH REPORT ON PRISONS FOR THE HOME DISTRICT.

TO THE RIGHT HONORABLE SIR GEORGE GREY,

Secretary of State for the Home Department.

General Statistics of Crime, 1854.

These Criminal Statistics complete a series of 14 years commencing with the year 1841,—the present year shows a considerable increase in the numbers over those of 1853.

The number "for trial or tried at Assizes and Sessions" in 1853 were 26,804, in 1854, 29,266, being an increase of 2,462 or 9·1 per cent. The Convictions as compared with the Committals show a trifling increase, being in 1853 77·0 per cent., and in 1854 77·8 per cent.

The aggregate "Summary Convictions" also exhibit an increase, the numbers being for 1853 71,580, and for 1854 74,574 + 2,994 or 4·1 per cent. The following are the classes of Summary Convictions in which an increase will be found, viz.—Military Prisoners, 1853 208, 1854 374, + 166 or 79·8 per cent.; Vagrant Act, 1853 15,685, 1854 16,153, + 468 or 2·9 per cent; Malicious Trespass Act, 1853 2,938, 1854 2,959, + 21 or 0·7 per cent.; Larceny Act, 1853 1,604, 1854 1,959, + 355, or 22·1 per cent.; Police Acts, 1853 8,627, 1854 10,593, + 1,966 or 22·8 per cent. All not before included 1853 18,014; 1854 19,097, + 1,083 or 6·0 per cent.

The following classes exhibit a decrease:—Game Laws, 1853 2671, 1854 2,372, — 319 or 11·2 per cent.; Revenue Laws, 1853 768, 1854 678, — 90 or 11·7 per cent.; Bastardy Laws, 1853 835, 1854 714, — 121 or 14·5 per cent.; Assaults, 1853 12,988, 1854 12,843, — 145 or 1·1 per cent.; Want of Sureties 1853 3,390, 1854 3,007, — 383 or 11·3 per cent.; Reputed Thieves, 1853 3,852, 1854 3,825, — 27 or 0·7 per cent.

Juvenile Offenders.—The numbers of prisoners under 17 years of age "for trial or tried at Assizes and Sessions" were in 1853 2,105, 1854 2507, being an increase of 402 or 19·1 per cent.; the summary convictions were in 1853 9,348, and in 1854 10,444, being an increase of 1,096 or 11·7 per cent.

Recommittals.—The numbers recommitted stand thus: 1853 33,565, 1854 35,350, being an increase in the latter year of 1,785 or 5·3 per cent.; of these the juveniles recommitted were in 1853 3,821, 1854 4,100, showing an increase in 1854 of 279 or 7·3 per cent.

Pardons on Medical Grounds.—The pardons on medical grounds in 1853 were 77, in 1854 57, being a decrease of 20 or 25·9 per cent.; their ages were as follows:—

12 Years and under 17			2

Deaths.—The number of deaths among the prison population in England and Wales were respectively 1853 216, and 1854 210, showing a decrease in the latter year of 6 or 2·7 per cent.; nevertheless those from Cholera exhibit a great increase in the year 1854, the number of deaths from that epidemic being as follows,—1853 10, 1854 19; the ages of the total number at the time of decease were as under,—

12 Years and under 17			5

Cases of Lunacy.—The number of lunatics in 1853 was 132, in 1854 116, being a decrease of 16 or 9·0 per cent.

State of Instruction.—It will be seen by the following Table, that the state of instruction of the total number of Criminal Prisoners for the 5 years enumerated, exhibits no improvement whatever; on the contrary, there is an increase of 5·3 per cent. in the last year in the proportion of those who are entirely without instruction, beyond the average of the 4 first enumerated years, although the three classes comprised in the "total with little or no instruction," shows the same proportion as the average of the 4 years preceding 1854. The calculations are based upon the total numbers for trial at assizes and sessions, and the summary convictions together without distinction of age or sex.

TWENTIETH REPORT OF THE INSPECTORS OF PRISONS.

II.—NORTHERN AND EASTERN DISTRICT.

TO THE RIGHT HON. SIR GEORGE GREY, BART., SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE HOME DEPARTMENT.

Uffington, Stamford,
26th September 1856.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to submit the Twentieth Annual Report on the Prisons in the Northern and Eastern District, which have been inspected by me during the year.

I found a general increase in the number of persons committed to the prisons in the manufacturing counties within the district, while the number had decreased in most of the agricultural counties.

There was a decrease, generally, in the number committed for felony.

The sanitary condition of the prisoners has been unusually good. The whole number committed to the several prisons during the year was 34,498; the number of deaths 60. 19 prisoners were declared insane; of this number 12 were represented to be insane when admitted to prison.

I have on all occasions strongly urged the advantage of useful and remunerative labour, as being better calculated to train prisoners to industrious habits; but there is much difficulty in providing such employment in some of the prisons in the agricultural districts. Not only are agricultural labourers generally unfitted for sedentary occupations, but there are few opportunities, except in large towns, of disposing of the work when completed.

Digitized by Google

Unrestricted association in the yards and day rooms, and the practice of confining prisoners in their sleeping cells, without any light or employment, for 15 or 16 hours during the winter months, still prevails in some few prisons; but I have a confident hope that a practice which is so objectionable will ere long be altogether discontinued.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient humble Servant,
HERBERT P. VOULES,
Inspector of Prisons.

REPORTS ON SEPARATE PRISONS.

CHESHIRE.

CHESTER.—CASTLE.

[Inspected 13th June 1854.]

Number of prisoners on the day of inspection:—

	Male.	Female.	Total.
Criminals - - -	88	39	127
Debtors - - -	17	2	19
			146

The daily average number during the year was, criminals 110, debtors 15.

The number of committals:—

	Male.	Female.	Total.
Criminals - - -	300	92	392
Debtors - - -	117	9	126

showing an increase of 28 male and 37 female criminals, and a decrease of 19 debtors, compared with the preceding year.

In the offences for which the prisoners were committed there was an increase in the number of robberies, and a decrease in cases of burglary, and cutting and wounding.

No alterations have been made either in the building or in the discipline of the prison since the last inspection.

The provisions were of good quality; the daily cost of the food was 6½*d.* per head.

The general health of the prisoners is "good." No death occurred during the year, and no liberation on account of illness; but two prisoners committed for trial, one for arson the other for murder, were found to be insane on admission; the former was acquitted on the ground of insanity, the other was removed to an asylum until the next assizes.

The chaplain was too unwell at the time of my visit to attend at the prison, but I saw the chaplain who officiated during his absence. The schoolmaster and schoolmistress are well qualified for their duties, and the progress made by the prisoners generally is satisfactory. There is a good and sufficient library for the use of the prisoners.

The punishments awarded were:—

Male prisoners - - - -	231
Female - - - - -	28
Total - -	259

generally for minor prison offences; there had not been any case of corporal or other severe punishment.

I found all the prisoners, except the debtors, employed, whether convicted or for trial. The clear profit on work done for sale during the year was 159*l.* 6*s.* 1*d.*, the estimated value of work done for the prison was 512*l.* 8*s.* 1*d.* When practicable prisoners are employed at their own trades.

The shirting, sheeting, towelling, shoes and stockings, and clothes are all made by the prisoners in the gaol; the provisions are supplied by contract; the net cost per prisoner last year was 24*l.* 6*s.* 4*d.*

CHESTER.—CITY GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

[Inspected 12th and 13th June 1854.]

Number of prisoners in confinement:—

	Male.	Female.	Total.
Criminals - - -	55	22	77
Debtors - - -	1	—	1
Total -			78

The daily average number was 70.

The number committed during the year was:—

Male prisoners - - - -	427
Females - - - - -	230
Total - -	657

87 males, and 45 females above the number of committals of the preceeding year.

The accommodation is not sufficient for this number of prisoners; the female ward especially was much crowded, out of repair, and ill ventilated. I recommended the magistrates to enter into a contract with the county for the charge and maintenance of female prisoners from the city in the House of Correction at Knutsford; such an arrangement would afford increased accommodation for the male prisoners, and enable the authorities to improve the ventilation of the cells now occupied by female prisoners.

The provisions were of good quality, the daily cost of the food was $5\frac{1}{4}d.$ per head.

Several prisoners made complaints; on inquiry, all, with one exception, were proved to be without foundation. The exception was the case of a prisoner, J. G., who had been kept by the governor in solitary confinement seven hours beyond the period authorized by law, and had been handcuffed without any written authority from a visiting justice. No entry of the excess of punishment or of the use of irons had been made by the governor in his journal.

In explanation, the governor stated that the prisoner was very violent, he therefore placed the handcuffs on him, and made a verbal report of the case to a visiting justice who approved, but made no written order on the subject. I met the magistrates at the gaol on the 13th, when the governor was admonished, and cautioned to enter in his journal every extraordinary occurrence within the prison.

The visiting justices accompanied me round the prison. I called their attention to the defective ventilation, and the crowded state of the gaol, and made several suggestions, some of which have since been adopted by the magistrates.

The general health of the prisoners during the year was "very good," no death had occurred or removal on medical grounds.

There was no change in the duties performed by the chaplain; he states:—

> "I examine the prisoners in classes; they have made considerable progress in religious knowledge; as to secular instruction, several, who on their admission knew little or nothing of either reading or writing, on their discharge had made considerable progress in both."

All the prisoners, however short their term of imprisonment may be, receive instruction in class, daily, for about two hours.

The services of the schoolmaster, when not engaged instructing the prisoners, are made available for the discipline of the gaol; he is well qualified for the duties he has to perform.

The conduct of the prisoners is represented by the governor as "not very good;" the misconduct complained of was general; negligence, idleness at work, and insolence.

Digitized by Google

The punishments awarded were:—

Male prisoners	250
Females	38
Total	288

Much of the misconduct arises from the crowded state of the prison and want of proper supervision. Prisoners are employed making mats and picking oakum. The clear profit on work done for sale was 150*l.*, the estimated value of work done for the prison was 400*l.* Want of room prevents any more extended employment in remunerative labour.

The number of debtors is very small; there was only one during the year, and three in the preceding year.

The books and accounts are properly kept and audited.

The bread and meat alone are supplied by contract, other stores are purchased as required by order of the visiting justices.

KNUTSFORD.—COUNTY HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

[Inspected 15th June 1854.]

Number of prisoners on the day of inspection:—

Male	255
Female	65
Total	320

The daily average number was 327.

The number committed during the year:—

Male	1,590
Female	513

which is 129 above the number committed in the preceding year. The increase was principally in persons committed for trial for larceny.

One ward has been altered and fitted for debtors committed from the county court, there has been no other alteration, either in the building or in the discipline of the prison, since the last inspection.

The provisions were of good quality, the daily cost of the food was $4\frac{3}{4}d.$ per head.

Digitized by Google

The general health of the prisoners was satisfactory. The surgeon states:—

"The prison is never visited by any epidemic, and even when there is more than usual sickness in the district, the prison has always remained free; sickness has not spread in the prison even when cases of infectious disease have been admitted."

Two deaths occurred during the year; one from consumption, the other was a case of suicide. No cause could be assigned for the act. The jury in the latter case returned a verdict of "temporary insanity."

No additional employment for prisoners has been introduced since the last report; but all prisoners are fully employed. The clear profit on work done for sale during the year was 316*l.* 15*s.* 11*d.*, the estimated value of work done for the prison was 730*l.* 17*s.* So far as practicable, the prisoners are tasked at their work, and are punished by a reduction in their food, either for one meal or more, if they fail to complete their task.

The number of punishments awarded was:—

Male prisoners - - - -	1,344
Female - - - - -	346
Total - -	1,690

Of this number, three boys were whipped by order of the visiting justices. Two nights prior to my visit, a prisoner, J. H., under sentence of four years penal servitude for housebreaking, made an unsuccessful attempt to escape by breaking out of his cell during the night. I found on inquiry there were six distinct charges against him when brought up for trial, all for housebreaking; he pleaded guilty to the first charge, and was sentenced as above stated to four years penal servitude; the remaining charges were not gone into; I therefore recommended that he should be prosecuted for the attempt to break prison.

The books and accounts are all properly kept and audited; the provisions and stores are supplied by contract. The net cost per prisoner last year, after deducting the profits on work done by prisoners, was 13*l.* 4*s.* 3¾*d.*

The new ward for debtors having been completed, debtors are now committed to this prison from the county court; the number admitted since June was:—

Males - - - - -	20
Total - -	22

Neither debtors or prisoners made any complaint.

DERBYSHIRE.

DERBY.—COUNTY AND BOROUGH GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

[Inspected 5th July 1854.]

Number of prisoners on the day of inspection :—

	Male.	Female.	Total.
Criminals - - -	187	28	215
Debtors - - -	29	7	36
			251

The daily average number was 199 criminals, and 19 debtors.

The number committed during the year was :—

	Male.	Female.	Total.
Criminals - -	812	145	957
Debtors - - -	264	42	306

showing an increase of 47 criminals and 34 debtors on the committals in the preceding year.

The increase was principally in the number of misdemeanants and vagrants.

There has been no alteration, either in the building or in the discipline of the gaol, since the last inspection.

The diet is the same as that mentioned in my former reports ; the surgeon still considers it is sufficient, but he orders extra food for any prisoner who loses in weight. The food was good in quality. The daily cost was 6*d.* per head.

Two deaths occurred during the year, three prisoners of weak intellect were admitted, but there were no removals on account of illness.

The prisoners made no complaints. The progress made by them, both in religious and secular knowledge, is represented to be satisfactory ; the chaplain adds,—

" The schoolmaster and mistress discharge their duties faithfully."

The number of punishments awarded for prison offences was :—

Male prisoners - - - -	242
Females - - - - -	58
Total - -	300

Digitized by Google

They were for the most part confined to the younger prisoners, and, with the exception of two cases of corporal punishment, were of the ordinary character.

The Governor complained especially of the conduct of four female prisoners, who had been very violent and refractory, amongst them was the girl M. A. H., whom I have invariably found an inmate of this prison on each inspection; the magistrates, on my recommendation, determined for the future to keep her altogether apart from the other female prisoners, supplying her with needlework and books.

The male prisoners are under supervision in the workshops and on the treadwheel, but much harm is done by the unrestricted association in the yards and day rooms after the hours of labour and at meals. Prisoners for trial are without any supervision or means of employment.

The clear profit on work done for sale last year was 526*l.* 2*s.* 9¾*d.*, the estimated value of work done for the prison was 763*l.* 7*s.* 5*d.* The workshops and stone breaking yards or sheds are well arranged.

The books are properly kept, but some of them were not entered up to the day on which I inspected the prison.

The provisions, fuel, and other stores are supplied by contract. The net cost per prisoner last year was 26*l.* 2*s.* 3¼*d.*

Amongst the prisoners I recognized under an assumed name a pardoned convict, who had been liberated from the "Defence" invalid hulk in 1851 on medical grounds; he was under a sentence of 12 months imprisonment for felony, and was described in the register as never having been in prison before.

ISLE OF ELY.

ELY.—HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

[Inspected 23d December 1854.]

Number of prisoners on the day of inspection:—

Male	10
Female	5
Total	15

The daily average number was 18, the number committed 184, which is four less than in the preceding year.

Digitized by Google

The windows of the cells occupied by females have been altered so as to afford more light, and the window in the corridor by which two prisoners some time since effected their escape has been made secure; there have been no other alterations. I found the prison clean and in good order throughout, the clothing and bedding sufficient, and the provisions of good quality. The daily cost of the food was 4¼*d.* per head.

The prisoners made no complaints, and there were none sick on the day of inspection; no death occurred during the year, and no removal on medical grounds.

The prisoners generally are very ignorant when admitted to the prison: there is no regular schoolmaster, but the prisoners are instructed by the turnkeys for two hours daily, and many make satisfactory progress.

The principal employments are mat making and making and mending the prison clothes and shoes. The clear profit on work done for sale was 9*l.* 1*s.* 10*d.*, the estimated value of work done for the prison was 15*l.* 11*s.* Much valuable time is lost owing to the cells not being lighted during the winter months; the prisoners eat their supper in the dark, and go to bed at half past six. I met one of the visiting justices at the gaol, and he undertook to bring the subject again before the magistratas at the next gaol sessions.

The general conduct of the prisoners is good; the number of punishments for prison offences was 39, principally for talking while at exercise, and wilfully damaging the prison property.

The books and accounts are properly kept; the provisions and stores are all supplied by contract. The cost per prisoner is still very high compared with other gaols, being 35*l.* 5*s.* 5½*d.*, exclusive of any charge for repairs.

A prisoner, W. W., who received a free pardon in November 1853 (having been covnicted in October 1852 of stealing money and sentenced to two years imprisonment), is now living in the neighbourhood of the prison, earning an honest livelihood.

KIRKDALE.—COUNTY HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

[Inspected 15th July 1854.]

Number of prisoners on the day of inspection :—

Males	309
Females	82

which was a little above the average daily number.

The number committed during the year was :—

Males	1,726
Females	477
Total	2,203

or 103 more than the committals in the preceding year; the increase was principally in the number summarily convicted for vagrancy and assaults.

No alterations have been made since the last inspection, either in the building or the discipline of the gaol; the wards and cells were clean and in good order, the provisions of good quality and sufficient in all cases; the daily cost of the food was $4\frac{1}{8}d.$ per head.

The surgeon in his report on the medical state of the prison states :—

"It is the most favourable of any of the thirty-two years of my service. In the early part of the year typhus fever of a severe nature made its appearance, but with great care it was limited to four cases, all of which resulted favourably. The cases of diarrhœa have been less numerous than usual. The cases of dysentery have likewise been fewer, and they too have all recovered."

The number of patients treated in hospital were 114, viz.:—

Males.	Females.

Two deaths occurred, both from pulmonary consumption: one of the prisoners who died had received a pardon on medical grounds, but was not taken away by his friends.

Five prisoners had been removed to the Rainhill Lunatic Asylum, as follows:—

Name.	Age.	Offence and Sentence.
Elizabeth C.	31	For trial at assizes for murder, found insane.	Received, being insane, on the 5th October 1853; removed to asylum, 21st December.
Richard R. -	42	For trial at sessions for felony; sentence, 14 days imprisonment.	Received, insane, 16th November 1853; removed to asylum, 27th January 1854.
Ellen W. -	25	For trial, and sentenced to 12 months imprisonment.	Received from Manchester Gaol, 9th August 1853; removed to asylum, 22d February 1854.
George S. -	33	For trial for arson, and found to be insane.	Received, insane, 18th May 1853; sent to asylum, 22d August 1853; received back, as sane, 28th April 1854; again sent to asylum, 29th June 1854.
Margaret M.	26	Summary conviction, two calendar months and 14 days.	Insane on admission, 11th July 1854; sent to asylum, 14th August 1854.

There were also three prisoners still in the gaol who, having been acquitted on the grounds of insanity, are confined during Her Majesty's pleasure.

The chaplain's duties continue to be performed with the same zeal and regularity; there has been no change. The schoolmasters give instruction to the prisoners daily in the school and separate cells alternately. The chaplain considers them to be well qualified for the office. There is a sufficient library, which is distributed by the schoolmasters under the directions of the chaplain.

The number of punishments for prison offences has been great:—

Male prisoners - - - -	3,577
Females - - - - -	1,065
Total - - -	4,642

confined principally to summarily convicted prisoners for not completing their task of work.

There had been two cases of corporal punishment for misconduct in prison.

Prisoners sentenced to hard labour are employed pumping water for the use of the prison, weaving, matmaking, picking oakum, shoemaking, and as smiths, tailors, and joiners; the females in making shirts and stockings, washing, &c.

The clear profit on work done for sale was 823*l.* 12*s.* 8*d.* Estimated value of work done for the prison, 1,051*l.* 4*s.* 9*d.*

Digitized by Google

The net cost per prisoner was 23*l.* 19*s.* 3*d.*, which is 6*l.* 3*s.* 4*d.* above the cost in the preceding year.

The average daily number of prisoners confined in this prison in each of the last six years, was as follows :—

1849	439
1850	440
1851	347
1852	363
1853	379
1854	389

The number of committals, which fell in the year 1851 to 1786, had again increased in the year 1854 to 2203, showing an increase of 417 persons committed to the prison during the latter year.

The average daily number in confinement has also been gradually increasing since the year 1851.

The daily average of the whole six years was 393, of this number 162 were in separate confinement, and 231 were subjected to the contaminating influences of association.

I can only here repeat my recommendation that the views of the committee of county magistrates, as stated in their reports on the prison accommodation and prison discipline in the county of Lancaster, bearing date 10th September 1846 and 7th April 1852, may be carried out.

In the reports referred to, I find the following opinions expressed by the committee:—

"After a full consideration of the subject referred to us, we have come to a unanimous opinion that the separate system of confinement is worthy of adoption as the best and most improved plan of prison discipline."

In accordance with the recommendation of this committee in their first report, a new range of 162 cells for the separate confinement of prisoners was built, leaving 199 old cells capable of accommodating one or more prisoners in each.

The committee in their second report, presented at the adjourned general sessions, held on the 7th April 1852, state :—

"We are of opinion that, from the circular form of construction and other grave objections to the older parts of the building, it would be desirable that, whenever it is thought necessary to extend this prison on the separate system, it should be done by the erection of new buildings, in conformity with the plan already partially carried out, rather than by any alteration of existing buildings."

LIVERPOOL—BOROUGH GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

[Inspected 13th and 14th July 1854.]

Number of prisoners on the day of inspection :—

Males	433
Females	303
Total	736

The daily average number was 712.

The number committed during the year was :—

Male prisoners	5,261
Females	4,287
Total	9,548

Showing an increase of 472 males and 656 females compared with the preceding year. The increase was principally in the number of vagrants and of persons committed under the local Acts; in the former class there was an increase of 344, and in the latter of 633. There had been a decrease of 142 in the number committed for felony and misdemeanor.

No less than 1,657 persons, or 17·4 per cent. on the whole number committed to the prison during the year, were committed for three days each for being drunk.

The following table will show the number of re-committals with the per-centage thereon :—

Number of Times in Custody.	Males.		Females.		Total.		Grand Total.	Per-centage.
	Adults.	Juveniles.	Adults.	Juveniles.	Adults.	Juveniles.

	4,556	705	4,097	190	8,653	895	9,548

It appears that the re-committals amounted to 53·5 per cent., which is nearly the same as in the preceding year, but there was an increase from 28 to 30 per cent. in the number committed to this gaol "four times or more." I was sorry to find the prisoners still confined in the old gaol, which affords no means of carrying out any system of classification or discipline.

The Governor in his report says:—

"I cannot but express my feelings of regret and disappointment that we are still occupying the old gaol; but as the new gaol is now nearly completed, it is most probable that the prisoners, or at least some portion of them, will shortly be removed there."

He adds:—

"It cannot be a matter of surprise that the defective discipline consequent on the imperfect arrangement and accommodation for the great number of persons confined in this prison has in many instances tended to encourage the debased and profligate to return to a place where they would see their old associates; to such, under the present discipline, the terror of the law has all but lost its power, imprisonment has ceased to be a punishment."

The chaplain says:—

"Any extent of improvement amongst the prisoners in the aggregate, under circumstances so unfavourable to its production and growth as exist in this prison, I am aware the magistrates have long since ceased to look for. That individual instances of amendment are to be pointed to the records of the prison journals will prove, and though these cases may be few and far between, they are sufficient to supply encouragement, and to justify a hope of better results when the ruinous influences of the contamination of this gaol shall have ceased to operate. No system of prison discipline will altogether prevent crime,—whilst our nature remains what it is iniquity will abound,—but we may confidently expect that when the long looked for completion of the new gaol shall afford the means of separation, we may at all events avoid the reproach of making men worse than we find them, and escape the fearful responsibility of propagating the evil which it is no less our duty than our interest to correct."

A promise had been made that the new prison should be ready for the reception of the prisoners in the spring. I was therefore much disappointed to find it still in a very unfinished state. Accompanied by the surveyor I inspected the works, and strongly urged that the male side of the prison, or even one wing, should be completed and occupied without delay.

The provisions were of good quality, the daily cost of the food was rather more than 3½*d.* per head. Several prisoners complained that the diet was insufficient, but I saw no reason to interfere, more especially as I found the surgeon made free use of his authority to order extra diet for long sentenced prisoners. An amended diet for the new gaol, where the prisoners will be in separate confinement, is under the consideration of the magistrates, and will shortly, together with the proposed rules, be submitted for the approval of the Right Hon. the Secretary of State.

The general health of the prisoners is represented to be "tolerably good."

Eleven prisoners had died during the year, as follows:—

5 died of consumption.
3 of bronchitis.
1 of effusion on the brain.
1 of fever.
1 of Asiatic cholera.

The surgeon observes:—

"The number of deaths from pulmonary consumption is exactly the same this year as it was last, and I do not think that the proportion exceeds that of the same number of individuals of the same age in other parts of the town. The germs of the disease existed in every instance before they entered the prison, and death occurred principally in those who had before been frequently in prison. The case of fever was never in a proper state to be removed to the fever ward of the workhouse, as is usual in such cases. Although the number of cases of choleraic diarrhœa was very considerable, only one terminated in spasmodic cholera; this I attribute to the constant attendance which was given to check the first symptoms of the complaint. In the case alluded to, death did not occur from the disease itself, but from the consecutive fever."

Six prisoners were pardoned on medical grounds during the year, one lunatic was removed to the asylum at Rainhill, and one female to the fever hospital.

There has been no change in the chaplain's duties, they continue to be performed with the same zeal and regularity; the chaplain has also given much attention to the subject of the reformation of youthful offenders, and through his exertions, assisted by some of the local magistrates and others, we may hope shortly to see a reformatory school, under the provisions of the Juvenile Offenders Bill passed this session, in operation at Liverpool.

Speaking on this subject, the chaplain says:—

"The Philanthropic Institution in Surrey is still open to us, and entitled to our highest confidence, as is also the Dalston Refuge in Middlesex, and of both these institutions we have availed ourselves during the last year. Several prisoners, both adult and juvenile, have also been in various ways assisted on their discharge, partly out of the grant by the Town Council and partly by funds supplied by individual magistrates, who, with great kindness and consideration, have made me the almoner of their bounty."

The chaplain here mentions a strong case showing the necessity for reformatory institutions. A little boy was sentenced at Liverpool to seven years transportation; he was removed to Milbank or Parkhurst prison, thence, under a commutation of sentence, to the Philanthropic Institution at Redhill. After a certain probation it was considered that he might safely be restored to his friends, and Mr. Turner himself accompanied the boy to Liverpool in order to place him with his father. On reaching the house he found one, if not both the parents intoxicated, he therefore took the boy back to Redhill, where he remained some time, when he was again sent down to Liverpool under some false representations professing to come from an uncle, who, it was said, would take the boy with him to America. The boy was afterwards several times summarily committed to this gaol for picking pockets. On the occassion of his last committal, in January last, he evinced such a strong desire to be allowed to return to Redhill "in order to be protected from the cruelty of his "father, who," by the boy's account, "obliged him to steal, "that he might spend the produce of his plunder on his "lusts," that the chaplain was induced to apply for his re-admission. Mr. Turner consented to admit him again; he made his way to Reigate unaccompanied by any officer, and in July last the chaplain received a letter stating that he had conducted himself well, and was about to sail on the following day to America at the expense and under the protection of the society. In closing his report the chaplain records his obligations to certain ladies, "for the kindness and self-"devotion with which they have, with me, visited the female "juvenile class in the prison, and for the valuable assistance

" they have extended to me both within and beyond the " prison walls."

The sympathy and instruction received from the ladies referred to have, I have reason to believe, been attended with much benefit at Liverpool, and must at all times, when under the guidance of the chaplain, be most useful to young girls, especially to those who may be subjected for the first time to the strict seclusion of the separate system.

The general conduct of the prisoners is represented to be " as good as could be expected under the present associated " system." Misconduct was for the most part confined to the vagrants and other prisoners "summarily convicted," the example of the worst prisoners had a bad effect and led others to misconduct themselves.

The number of punishments awarded for prison offences was :—

By the above table it may be seen that the actual profit on work done by the prisoners for sale amounted to 1,154*l.* 1*s.* 5¼*d.*, and the estimated value of work done for the prison was 435*l.* 8*s.* 5*d.*, in addition to a daily average of 97 prisoners employed as cooks, nurses, and in cleaning, painting, washing clothes, &c., &c., not included in the estimate.

The total expenditure of the gaol during the year was 11,636*l.* 12*s.* 4*d.*, or 6*s.* 3*d.* per head per week, showing an increase of 5*d.* per head on the average cost compared with the preceding year.

Four prisoners complained of the medical treatment; the real object of their complaint was that they might be sent to the hospital, where they would receive hospital diet and be relieved from labour.

MANCHESTER.—CITY GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

[Inspected 24th April, 7th August, 7th December 1854.]

Number of prisoners in confinement on the 7th August:

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Criminals - -	363	138	501
			509

The number of commitments was:—

Males - - - - -	1,340
Females - - - -	380
Total - -	1,720

showing a decrease of 201 males and 41 females, compared with the committals in the preceding year. The decrease was principally in the number of offences under the Local Police Act.

The prisoners having generally been sentenced for longer periods of imprisonment than usual, there was a large increase in the daily average number.

Three cells have been fitted in the basement as light punishment cells; there has been no other alteration, either in the building or in the discipline of the goal, since the last inspection.

The general health of the prisoners is represented to be "very good." There were 14 prisoners on the sick list at the time of my visit, three prisoners died during the year, and two prisoners were declared insane; one, after he had been 11 months in the prison, was removed to the Prestwich Lunatic Asylum, from whence he escaped, and has not since been heard of; but there is now little doubt that his insanity was feigned. The other, a prisoner for trial, had only been nine days in the prison; when brought up for trial he was discharged on the ground of insanity; he was subsequently again committed to prison, and found to be a deserter from the Royal Artillery and not insane.

The provisions were of good quality, the daily cost of the food was about 4½*d.* per head.

The chaplain visits daily all prisoners sick or under punishment, and sees all the other prisoners frequently in private. The male prisoners are instructed in their separate cells, the females principally in classes. Many of the prisoners who are sentenced for three months and upwards make considerable progress, and express their gratitude for the instruction afforded to them.

The chaplain stated his opinion that the discipline of this gaol "has the effect of deterring from the commission of "further crime many adults imprisoned for the first time, "but old offenders and juveniles, except in occasional "instances, are not to be deterred by imprisonment." He adds, "I am happy to be able to say that a number of "prisoners, especially females, who have been once, and in "some instances several times in gaol, are now living honestly "and respectably. Females have the advantage of charitable "institutions to receive them on leaving prison; male "prisoners in most cases, if they cannot obtain immediate "employment, are either tempted to return to or compelled "to renew their previous evil courses." I find no less than 15 female prisoners were sent to the "Refuge" last year, from whence they obtained situations in respectable families.

The number of punishments for prison offences was:—

Male prisoners - - - - -	1,818
Females - - - - -	297

of these, 12 were cases of corporal punishment, the remaining punishments were solitary confinement and bread and water diet, for different periods not exceeding three days.

Misconduct was for the most part confined to a few prisoners of whom the chief were vagrants. The offences were principally "attempts to communicate with other "prisoners," "disobedience of orders," "wilful damage to "prison property," and in five instances "assaulting the "officers of the prison." Several prisoners (on the recommendation of the surgeon and with the sanction of the visiting justices) had also been put under restraint, they having threatened to commit suicide, or simulated an attempt to do so. I inquired into these cases, and it appeared, with one exception, the prisoners had used the threat, or simulated the attempt to destroy themselves, hoping to obtain some relaxation of the discipline.

I recommended to the visiting justices that they should invariably inquire into all the circumstances in the case of any prisoner either threatening or feigning an attempt to destroy himself, the result of any such inquiry to be recorded in the visiting justices minute book.

Crank labour continues to be enforced in this prison; there are, as stated in my former reports, 50 cranks on which some prisoners are employed daily. The number of revolutions required to be performed by each prisoner so employed during the day is 14,400 for adults and 12,000 for boys under 17 but above 14 years of age. The maximum period for which they may be so employed according to the scale approved by the visiting justices is 42 days. I recommended that the scale should be reduced both as regards the duration and the number of revolutions, and I met the magistrates at the gaol by appointment to consider the subject, but regret to say that I failed to effect any alteration. I think it right to add that I particularly questioned as to their work the prisoners employed at crank labour; I heard no complaints from any of them, and I found they had all completed their task for the day by half past five p. m.

Prisoners not at work on the crank machines are employed as mat-makers, weavers, tailors, shoemakers, joiners, &c., and in picking and preparing oakum, wool, cotton, or coir. The profit on work done for sale during the year was 1,086*l.* 0*s.* 3*d.* The estimated value of work done for the prison was 153*l.* 4*s.*

SALFORD.—NEW BAILEY.

[Inspected 8th August 1854.]

Number of prisoners in confinement:—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Criminals - -	413	138	551
County Court debtors -	29	1	30

The daily average number of criminals was 479, the number committed during the year 3,997, showing an increase of 72 in the daily average and 428 in the number of committals compared with the preceding year.

The increase is partly accounted for in that 280 more prisoners (summarily convicted) have this year been received from the city gaol at Manchester; but the accommodation in the city goal being the same as formerly, this explanation does not alter the fact of a general increase of crime in the neighbourhood.

There has also been a considerable increase in the number "committed for trial" from the hundred of Salford.

The buildings were in good order and repair. There has been no alteration, either in the buildings or the discipline of the prison, since the last inspection.

The provisions were of good quality. The daily cost of the food was 3½*d.* per head.

The general health of the prisoners (notwithstanding the crowded state of the prison) had been remarkably good until a few days prior to my visit, when diarrhœa prevailed; but I was informed that this disease was more prevalent in the neighbourhood than in the prison.

Five deaths occurred during the year, but it does not appear that the cause of death could in either case be traced to any local cause.

One prisoner, committed for trial, was removed to the Prestwich Lunatic Asylum, and a female prisoner who had formerly been an inmate of a lunatic asylum was waiting her trial at the approaching sessions.

A prisoner, remanded for further examination, was found by a warder on the 3d August suspended in his cell, and quite black in the face; he was restored by the prompt treatment resorted to by the warder who cut him down. The prisoner expressed to me great contrition for his conduct, and stated that he made the attempt in a fit of desperation, having only been one day out of prison when he was apprehended on the present charge, of which he declares he is innocent.

Digitized by Google

He has since been committed for trial, and it has not been found necessary to place him under any restraint.

The chaplain was absent in Derbyshire, in consequence of a family affliction, but the report I received of his department was satisfactory.

The number of punishments for prison offences was very large, as follows:—

Male prisoners - - - -	7,000
Female - - - - -	802
Total - - -	7,802

Of this number 3,800 were the mere stoppage of a portion of a meal for idleness at work. The prisoners are all tasked at their work, and are deprived of a portion of a meal should they fail to perform the task assigned to them. The tasks are allotted, in the first instance, by the taskmaster; the Governor makes inquiry and determines as to the ability of each prisoner to perform his work, referring all doubtful cases to the surgeon. There had been a disposition on the part of many of the vagrants and younger prisoners to resist work; this led to frequent punishments. Although there was no overt act of insubordination, I find there were 45 cases of corporal punishment during the year, principally whipping with the birch rod, for continued obstinacy and idleness at work. The Governor says—

"The treadwheel and cranks unquestionably produce obstinacy, and in frequent instances a determination to resist authority; whipping is the result."

Prisoners sentenced to hard labour work on the treadwheel, or for a short time at the crank machines, before they are put to other employment. Weaving, matmaking, tailoring, shoemaking, and other profitable work is carried on to a considerable extent in this prison; and, considering the short periods for which a large number of the prisoners are committed, (from whose labour, therefore, little or no profit can arise,) the storekeeper's returns are very favourable. The clear profit on work done for sale last year was 1,550*l.* 16*s.* 9*d.*, and the Governor estimates the value of the work done for the prison at 797*l.* 9*s.* 11*d.*

One of the warders, who had been 14 years an officer in the prison, was fined by the magistrates 25*s.* for coming to the prison in a state of intoxication; he was informed except for his length of service and previous good character he would have been dismissed.

LINCOLNSHIRE.

FALKINGHAM.—COUNTY GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

[Inspected 23d November 1854.]

Number in confinement on the day of inspection:—

Male prisoners	31
Female	6
Total	37

The daily average number was 32.

The number committed during the year 172 or two less than in the preceding year.

There has been no alteration either in the discipline or the construction of the prison since the last inspection.

The clothing and bedding were in good condition. The diet sufficient and of good quality. The daily cost of the food was 6*d.* per head.

The prisoners from the borough gaol at Grantham are confined here under a contract which has been entered into between the county and borough magistrates. I found two prisoners lately received from Grantham in a very weakly state. They both complained of the insufficiency of the diet in that prison, where the objectionable arrangement still exists of granting an allowance in money to the officers for providing the prisoners with food.

The health of the prisoners generally was very good; there was no death, and no removal on medical grounds, during the year.

The duties performed by the chaplain have been fully detailed in former reports. There is only one service on Sunday, and morning prayers only twice a week (on Tuesday and Friday) instead of daily, as required in the 10th section of the Gaol Act; neither is the rule which requires that "pro-" vision shall be made for the instruction of prisoners in " reading and writing" carried out in this prison. There is no schoolmaster; and the chaplain, who resides four miles from the prison, attends only twice a week, when he " instructs " young prisoners who can read and are willing to learn." No provision is made for the instruction of those who are wholly ignorant. The chaplain says—

" They (the prisoners) of course do not make that progress in secular or even in religious knowledge which might reasonably be expected if provision were made for their instruction."

The prisoners are under supervision only while at labour on the treadwheel or cranks. One or two prisoners are occasionally employed making and repairing the prison clothes and shoes, but no regular employment is provided for those who are not sentenced to hard labour, or who are not able to do the work on the cranks or wheel. I communicated with the visiting justices, and called their attention to the fifth, ninth, and tenth rules contained in the tenth section of the Act 4 Geo 4. c. 64., referring to the daily prayers in the chapel, and providing the means of instruction and employment for the prisoners.

GRANTHAM.—BOROUGH GAOL.

[Inspected 23d November 1854.]

There were only two prisoners (both males) in confinement on the day of inspection.

The number committed during the year was 26.

Prisoners sentenced for periods exceeding one month are now sent to the House of Correction at Falkingham, under contract with the county magistrates.

I met the mayor and visiting justices by appointment, at the gaol, and again pointed out my objections to the arrangement for providing the prisoners with food. The turnkey is allowed 6*d.* a day for each prisoner under his charge, no regular diet is laid down, and no account is kept by the officer to show how this allowance has been expended. I recommended that a diet table should be prepared and submitted for approval, the provisions to be cooked and issued to the prisoners at the proper hours, instead of once a day, as the practice has been hitherto.

There was no sickness in the prison during the year. The salary of the surgeon, including the cost of medicines, is 5*l.* 5*s.* per annum. The mayor appoints the surgeon each year; it would be better to make the appointment permanent.

The chaplain only attends once a week to perform the service on Sunday. The schoolmaster continues to attend twice during the week, when there are any prisoners in confinement. No prisoner had been punished for a prison offence during the year.

KIRTON LINDSEY.—COUNTY HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

[Inspected 6th June 1854.]

Number of prisoners in confinement:—

Males - - - -	50
Females - - -	7
Total - -	57

There was a decrease of five male prisoners and 22 females compared with the number committed the preceding year.

The daily average number in confinement was 42 males and six females.

The buildings were in good repair, but the prison is not secure; some alterations were being made in the female ward, which will add to the accommodation in the prison, but it is generally insufficient for the number of prisoners.

There has been no alteration in the discipline. The prisoners continue to pass too much time in bed, and they are not under constant supervision during the day except while at labour on the wheel.

Some few prisoners are employed mat-making, weaving, carding and combing wool, picking oakum, and as tailors and shoemakers, but these trades cannot be carried on to any extent from want of room in the prison. The clear profit on work done for sale during the year was 5l. 5s. 6d., the estimated value of work done for the prison was 55l.

The general health of the prisoners has been good. One prisoner died, from natural causes. The surgeon considers the prison to be well drained and ventilated, but states, it is not sufficiently large for the proper classification of the prisoners at all times.

The duties performed by the chaplain have been stated in my former reports; there has been no change; he expresses himself satisfied with the progress made by the prisoners generally. Of the 239 prisoners committed during the year, 84 could neither read nor write, 127 could read imperfectly, and 28 could read well.

The following is a summary of the state of education and general knowledge of the prisoners committed to this gaol from September 1848 to September 1854:—

The number of punishments for prison offences was:—

Male prisoners - - - -	110
Total - -	112

The offences were generally shouting, singing, and fighting, all arising from the absence of proper supervision. There was no offence of a grave character. One prisoner (for trial) made an unsuccessful attempt to escape. In speaking of the punishments, the chaplain stated:—

"The punishments for breaches of prison discipline are less than they have ever been before; for one period of three months no recourse whatever was had to punishment; but it often occurs that the necessary correction of one refractory individual swells the apparent number, which has been the case during the past year; a great proportion of the punishments have been inflicted on only three of the prisoners."

The books and accounts are properly kept. The provisions, fuel, &c. are supplied by contract. The net cost per prisoner last year was 24*l.* 1*s.* 5¼*d.* The recommendation made on my last visit to this prison, that "all prisoners should be employed under supervision until 8 p.m.," is still under consideration, and will, I have reason to hope, be adopted.

LINCOLN CASTLE.

[Inspected 26th May 1854.]

Number of prisoners on the day of inspection :—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Criminals - -	9	2	11
Debtors - - -	5	1	6

The daily average number of criminals was 20 ; of debtors, 8. The number committed during the year was :—

Criminals - - - - -	74
Debtors - - - -	90

showing a decrease of 21 criminals and an increase of 17 debtors. The number severally committed for infanticide, arson, and burglary was still great.

The buildings were in good order and repair ; there have been no alterations since the last report. The ventilation and drainage of the prison appear to be good. The general health of the prisoners during the year had been very satisfactory. No death occurred, and no prisoner had been removed on medical grounds.

The usual duties were performed by the chaplain. He states :—

"The number of prisoners having for some time been small, I have, to a certain extent, attended to the secular instruction of the male prisoners myself. The female prisoners are instructed by the matron. The prisoners generally receive instruction with attention and thankfulness, and I hope not without benefit."

The punishments for prison offences were 13. There was no case of corporal punishment.

The prisoners being for the most part untried no means of enforcing hard labour are provided, a few were employed knitting stockings, but the prisoners generally were idle, and left without supervision in the day rooms. Convicts are placed in separate confinement, but without any means of employment.

A convict under sentence of transportation effected his escape a second time from the castle this year. The inquiry into the circumstances connected with the escape brought to light much ingenuity on the part of the prisoner; but also, I am sorry to say, great carelessness and neglect in the discipline of the prison. The inquiry resulted in the resignation of the Governor, and the appointment of Mr. Foster, late Deputy Governor in Wandsworth House of Correction, to the office of Governor.

One prisoner complained of the treatment he had experienced while in the lock-up at Grantham. On inquiry I found that he had been very violent, breaking the windows in the cell in which he was confined. The superintendent of police had therefore placed handcuffs on him to restrain his violence.

LOUTH.—COUNTY HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

[Inspected 16th September 1854.]

Number of prisoners on the day of inspection, 29.

In accordance with suggestions made in former reports, the female prisoners are now all sent to the house of correction at Spilsby, and the building known as "the Old Prison" has ceased to be occupied as a vagrant ward.

The daily average number of male prisoners was 34; the number committed during the year was 276; showing a decrease of 15 in the daily average, and 74 in the number of committals, compared with the preceding year.

The decrease was principally in the vagrant class.

During the years 1848 and 1849 there were frequently as many as 100 vagrants in the prison. The number of prisoners of all classes confined in this prison in each of the last 10 years was as follows:—

Year.	Number of Prisoners.	Year.	Number of Prisoners.
1844	649	1849	927
1845	493	1850	615
1846	416	1851	800
1847	421	1852	609

making an average of 615 for each year. The number of male prisoners committed during the year 1854 was 276.

In the month of February the female prisoners were removed to Spilsby. The whole number of females received in both prisons (Spilsby and Louth) during the year ending Michaelmas last was 80.

The decrease may be attributed in a great measure to the improvement in the discipline of the prison; but I am still desirous to see the treadwheel yard made more secure, the means of supervision improved, and profitable employment provided for all prisoners not at labour on the wheel.

One large day room has been built in which the prisoners not on the wheel are assembled under the supervision of a warder, and the old day rooms have been converted into separate sleeping cells. A new reservoir has also been made to afford the means of flushing the drains.

The general health of the prisoners is represented as "good." One prisoner had died from abscess of the lungs, and two vagrants (insane when they were received) were removed to the County Pauper Lunatic Asylum.

A boy, 15 years of age, sentenced to 18 months imprison ment, attempted to commit suicide; he was found by one of the warders suspended in his cell; proper means being promptly resorted to by the Governor he was restored, and has since been perfectly reasonable and well conducted. It appears the boy's friends are very respectable, and a letter which he received from them caused much depression and induced him to commit the act. When I saw the boy (two months after the attempt to commit suicide) he had been visited by his friends, and appeared most anxious to improve himself while in prison.

There has been no change in the duties performed by the chaplain; he expresses himself well satisfied with the school-master; but adds, "the prisoners make greater progress in secular than in religious knowledge."

The chaplain furnished me with the following return of 226 prisoners who came under his observation during the year:—

Could read well on admission - - -	10
Could read imperfectly - - - -	143
Could neither read nor write - - -	73

102 had received some religious instruction. 124 were wholly uninstructed.

The punishments for prison offences were of the ordinary character; in number, 31.

Tailors and shoemakers are occasionally employed making and mending the prison clothes and shoes. The value of the work done was estimated at 14*l*. The provisions and other stores are all supplied by contract. The food was of good quality. The daily cost was $5\frac{1}{4}d$. per head.

SPALDING.—HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

[Inspected 20th November 1854.]

Number in confinement on the day of inspection :—

Male prisoners - - - -	42
Females - - - -	14
Total - -	56

The daily average number was 42.

The number committed during the year was 218 ; 24 below that of the preceding year.

The prisoners made no complaints. No alteration has been made either in the discipline or the construction of the prison since the last inspection. The clothing and bedding were sufficient and in good condition. The provisions were of good quality ; the daily cost of the food was 5¼*d.* per head.

The general health of the prisoners has been satisfactory ; cases of diarrhœa had been more numerous, but they were generally less violent than usual.

No death occurred during the year, and there were none sick on the day of inspection. A prisoner (T. A.) for trial, charged with felony, and who had recently been discharged from the invalid convict hulk at Portsmouth, attempted to hang himself while in the police cells at Boston ; he was supposed to be insane, but appeared to me to be feigning insanity with a view to escape conviction. Another man, W. T., who had been four times confined in a lunatic asylum, occasionally gave some trouble, but he was perfectly rational at the time of my visit.

The chaplain says :—

"It is impossible anybody can be more attentive and diligent than the schoolmaster."

Of the male prisoners, he says :—

"Their progress in secular knowledge is most satisfactory, but I am afraid I dare not speak so favourably of their progress in religious knowledge."

The females receive no instruction.

The number of punishments was :—

Male prisoners - - - -	134
Females - - - - -	23
Total - -	157

There had been no offence of a grave character.

The treadwheel is still used for grinding corn. Prisoners not at work on the wheel are employed picking oakum, and in making and mending the prison clothes and shoes. The profit on the prisoners' labour was 72*l.* 7*s.* 5*d.*, but the miller's wages 52*l.* per annum should be deducted from this amount.

Of 14 females in the prison on the day of inspection, five (all young) were servants for robbing their employers; in three of these cases the stolen property had been taken by the girls to their parents' house. The mother of one of the girls was convicted of receiving the stolen property.

The prisoners continue to pass too much time in bed; they go to bed at seven o'clock in summer and half past six in winter. In winter they do not rise until half past seven.

SPILSBY.—COUNTY HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

[Inspected 15th September 1854.]

Number of prisoners in confinement:—

Male - - - - - -	23
Female - - - - -	17
Total - -	40

The daily average number was 43; showing a decrease of 12 compared with the average in the preceding year, though there was an increase in the whole number committed to the gaol, as follows:—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Number of commitments last year -	156	54	210
„ „ in the preceding year - - -	176	23	199

Thus it may be seen the number of male prisoners committed had decreased by 20, while there was an increase of 31 in the number of females; this is accounted for, all the female prisoners for the division of Lindsey being now sent to this prison.

The decrease of male prisoners was in the number of vagrants and poachers.

The prison was in good order and repair. No alterations or additions to the building since the last inspection.

The surgeon reports very favourably of the sanitary condition of the prison. No prisoners were sick at the time of my visit. One death occurred during the year.

Digitized by Google

The chaplain was absent on the day of inspection. The schoolmaster appeared to be well qualified for his office, and the prisoners make satisfactory progress.

The punishments for prison offences were confined to male prisoners, and were 44 in number. One prisoner who was very insubordinate while confined in Louth Prison, before trial, showed the same spirit in this prison after his conviction. The visiting justices ordered him to be flogged; this had the desired effect; there was no other case of severe punishment.

The same prisoner made a complaint to me against one of the warders who had left the prison, but on inquiry there appeared to be no just ground for the complaint.

Prisoners are occasionally employed as tailors and shoemakers, but the treadwheel is the principal employment for the males, and washing, &c. for the females. There is no work done for sale, and no account is kept by which the work done for the prison may be estimated.

The provisions and stores are all supplied by contract, and were of good quality. The daily cost of the food was 5½*d.* per head.

The books and accounts are properly kept, and there was every appearance of system and order throughout the prison. I could only regret that more profitable employment is not provided. The prisoners now pass less time in bed; they rise at six all the year round, and are locked in their sleeping cells at 8 p.m. in summer, and at six in winter.

showing a decrease of 37 felons and 28 misdemeanants compared with the preceding year. The number of debtors was 73.

The prison was in good order; 43 additional cells have been lighted and warmed with gas; there has been no other alteration since the last inspection. The clothing, bedding, and diet are sufficient. The food of good quality; the daily cost was $4\frac{3}{4}d.$ per head.

Several cases of cholera occurred in the neighbourhood during the months of August and September, but the inmates of the prison were free from the disease, indeed, there was less diarrhœa than is usual at that season. There was only one prisoner sick on the day of inspection. Two prisoners died during the year, one of them, insane; he was sentenced to 12 months imprisonment on the 18th October, became insane on the 3d December, and died on the 10th. One prisoner, insane when committed to the prison, was removed to a lunatic asylum.

There has been no change in the chaplain's duties, they continue to be performed with regularity and zeal; he expresses himself well satisfied with the schoolmaster, and the progress made by the prisoners.

The number of punishments was 65. There had been no offence of a grave character; the punishments were principally for talking or neglect of work.

The prisoners made no complaints. I found them all fully employed either on the treadwheel or cranks, or picking oakum, matmaking, making and repairing the prison clothes and shoes. Prisoners are also employed in the repairs and alterations of the prison. The clear profit on work done for sale was 107*l.* 8*s.* 10*d.* The estimated value of work done for the prison was 135*l.* 1*s.*

The inspection which is made weekly by one of the visiting justices is of great assistance to the Governor; it not only supports his authority, but it also creates a general spirit of industry, which would be wanting were the encouragement the prisoners receive confined to the officers of the gaol.

WYMONDHAM.—COUNTY HOUSE OF CORRECTION FOR FEMALES.

[Inspected 22d December 1854.]

Number of prisoners on the day of inspection, 31; the daily average number, 29. The number committed during the year was 201, 48 more than in the preceding year.

The prison was clean and in good order. The matron died in August, and has been succeeded by Mrs. Greenfield, formerly sub-matron. There has been no other alteration in the prison since the last inspection. The clothing and bedding were sufficient and in good condition. The provisions of good quality. The daily cost of the food was 5*d.* per head. The general health of the prisoners is "good." There had been no death or removal on medical grounds during the year.

The chaplain affords instruction so far as he is able to the prisoners, but during the illness of the late matron he had no assistance. He states:—

"The newly appointed matron is well qualified to instruct the prisoners. She renders me great assistance, and many of the prisoners make satisfactory progress both in reading and in religious knowledge."

The prisoners are employed in washing, ironing, knitting, making and repairing the clothing, and some few in picking oakum. The clear profit on the prisoners labour was 46*l.* 9*s.* 7*d.* The prisoners were generally industrious. They made no complaints.

The number of punishments was 50. The offences were chiefly talking from cell to cell. There had been no offence of a grave character.

The books and accounts are properly kept; but the provisions and stores are not supplied by contract.

The cells in this prison although used for separate confinement, have not yet been certified; they are warmed with gas, on the same principle as the cells in Norwich Castle; but the tubes from the gas burners should be lengthened, they merely reach to the windows, and the noxious air is carried back into the cells. I called the attention of the surgeon and one of the visiting justices to this defect. At Norwich Castle the tubes are connected with proper flues, and the noxious air arising from the gas is carried away by the roof of the building.

about four fifths of the offenders belong to the town or neighbourhood.

I found two returned transports (at large with tickets-of-leave) for trial, charged with felony; they both declared their innocence of the crime with which they were charged, and stated that the police had interfered to prevent them obtaining employment.

There has been no alteration in the prison since the last inspection. I met the mayor and visiting justices at the gaol, and pointed out to them the evils arising from the present system of association in the day rooms, where the prisoners are crowded together without any supervision or employment.

I recommended that a contract should be entered into with the county magistrates for the charge and maintenance of the female prisoners at the Female House of Correction at Wymondham; such an arrangement would afford additional space for the accommodation of the male prisoners, and the means of carrying out a better system of discipline. I also recommended that employment should be provided for prisoners not at labour on the treadwheel, and that all prisoners in association should be under the constant superintendence of an officer.

The clothing and bedding were sufficient, and in good condition; the provisions of good quality; the daily cost of the food was 4¾*d.* per head. No death had occurred, and no prisoner had been removed on medical grounds.

There were five prisoners sick on the day of inspection, but no case of serious illness.

The vicar of the parish is the chaplain to the gaol; but the duties are frequently performed by one of his curates. Some objections had been raised to this arrangement; I therefore recommended the magistrates to nominate one of the curates to officiate in the absence of the chaplain, as provided in Rule 131 of the General Regulations.

The duties performed are "two full services on Sunday, " daily prayer in the chapel at 9 a.m., a lecture every Friday, " daily visits to the sick, see all prisoners on admission and " discharge, see prisoners in private and visit those in " separate confinement."

The chaplain states—

" I consider the association in the day wards is productive of great mischief, and renders all attempts at moral and religious improvement useless. The system of separate confinement should be fully carried out; at present there are nine separate cells but 33 prisoners, so that the effect is only partial. The state of the women's ward demands serious attention; a great part of the time of the prisoners is spent in idleness; they are thus encouraged in the habits which have probably led them to crime."

Of the progress made by the prisoners he says—

"They improve in reading and writing; I cannot say that our results show satisfactory progress in religious knowledge."

The number of punishments was:—

Male prisoners - - - -	53
Female - - - - - -	2
Total - - -	55

The offences were principally "using bad language" and "quarrelling when in association;" but as the prisoners are not under any regular supervision in the yards and day rooms, it is probable that much "bad language" and "quarrelling" escapes unobserved.

The schoolmaster is also the taskmaster in charge of the prisoners on the treadwheel. Prisoners sentenced to hard labour have therefore, hitherto, only worked on the wheel about four hours daily.

Arrangements have now been made by which the instruction shall not interfere with the hours of labour, and the prisoners may work on the wheel the usual number of hours.

The daily average number was - - -			33

The number of commitments during the year was 543, or 173 above the number committed during the preceding year; there was a large increase in the number committed for breach of the peace.

The prison buildings were in good order. The following alterations and additions have been made since the last inspection: two of the old day rooms have been divided and fitted, forming four separate cells; gas has been extended to the day rooms; the seats in the chapel have been altered with a view to better supervision; the debtors wards have been made more commodious; dark cells have been fitted in a more convenient part of the prison; the alterations in the infirmary have been completed. A principal warder has been appointed, who is also required to give instruction to the prisoners, and all the officers are now provided with uniform.

The provisions were of good quality; the daily cost of the food was 6*d.* per head.

The general health of the prisoners was good; slight attacks of dysentery were prevalent about the end of September, and there had been one case of smallpox, which showed itself in the person of a male prisoner immediately after his admission; the other prisoners were vaccinated, and no second case occurred.

There was no death in the prison and no removal on account of illness during the year.

The duties performed by the chaplain continue the same as noticed in my former reports. The officer appointed to perform the duties of schoolmaster does not act under the direction of the chaplain, neither does the chaplain consider him to be well qualified to impart instruction to the prisoners; he states—

"The officer called a schoolmaster appears to me to have been engaged more as a turnkey than as a teacher, and is not able to teach arithmetic as far as I could wish; I do not, however, take special cognizance of him and his discharge of his duties."

This prison being a gaol in which prisoners are, for the most part, confined only before trial, I do not think it is necessary to appoint a regular schoolmaster to attend to the instruction. The daily number in confinement is frequently very small, and, as the day of trial approaches, they are generally unsettled, and unable to profit by the means of instruction afforded to them; but the officer appointed to give school instruction should, while so employed, act under the direction of the chaplain.

The number of punishments awarded for prison offences was:—

Male	54
Female	3
Total	57

The punishments awarded were of the ordinary character and confined to a few troublesome prisoners; no case of serious misconduct had occurred.

The prisoners being for the most part untried are variously employed at some light labour and in the ordinary work of the gaol. No account is kept by which the value of the work done for the prison may be estimated.

The books and accounts are properly kept. There is a small sum, amounting to about 6*l.* 12*s.* annually, from which grants are made to destitute debtors on their discharge, to pay their travelling expenses to their homes.

The accommodation for the female prisoners in this gaol is very bad; they are confined in the basement under the Governor's house. I recommended that the vagrant ward should be enclosed and appropriated for female prisoners.

NOTTINGHAM.—TOWN GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

[Inspected 5th May 1854.]

Number of prisoners on the day of inspection:—

Male	48
Female	10

Debtors	6

The average daily number was 64.

The number committed during the year, 372; which is seven below that of the preceding year. There was an increase in the number for trial, and a decrease in the number committed for want of sureties.

The buildings were in good repair, the wards and cells clean and in good order; two day rooms in the female prison have been thrown into one, and a room has been added for sick female prisoners. There has been no other alteration either in the construction or the discipline of the gaol.

The general health of the prisoners is represented to be good. One prisoner (a female aged 65) died from general paralysis.

The prison is well drained and ventilated. The provisions were of good quallty; the daily cost of the food was 5$\frac{3}{4}$d. per head.

There has been no change in the duties performed by the chaplain; he considers the schoolmaster well qualified for his office, but complains that "the prisoners do not make satis-"factory progress;" he adds—"We have such a library for "the use of the prisoners as the magistrates think necessary; "it might be enlarged with advantage."

Digitized by Google

I am afraid the system of discipline enforced in this gaol does not much assist the efforts of the chaplain and schoolmaster; one hour of unrestricted association in the yards and day rooms is likely to do more injury than their influence can remove in a week. Prisoners sentenced to hard labour are under supervision while on the wheel only, but prisoners before trial and those not at hard labour are generally idle and without any supervision. Females are employed "seaming hosiery," for which the sum of 18*l.* 17*s.* 4*d.* was received, in addition to work done by them for the prison; but there appears to be no profit on any work done by the male prisoners. In a town like Nottingham there should be no difficulty in finding some means of remunerative employment which would train the prisoners to industrious habits.

The number of punishments for prison offences was:—

but I am afraid there is much misconduct in the day rooms and yards, which escapes unobserved for want of proper supervision.

Total	154

There was an increase of 16 in the daily average number, and of 165 in the number of committals, compared with the preceding year; the increase was not confined to any particular class, but was general, and is in a great measure to be attributed to the scarcity of work.

In the early part of the year 20 cells which had been fitted for the purpose were certified for the separate confinement of prisoners; there has been no other alteration in the construction or discipline of the prison since the last report.

I found the prison clean and in good order throughout, the provisions were of good quality, the daily cost of the food was $5\frac{3}{8}d.$ per head.

No prisoner made any complaint.

The general health of the prisoners is represented to be "very good." No death occurred in the prison during the year.

A lunatic was committed to the prison on the 29th August, charged with felony; on inquiry it was found that he had effected his escape from the Gateshead Lunatic Asylum, to which place he had been sent from Newcastle gaol. A keeper was sent from the asylum to receive him, but the lunatic again effected his escape on the road, and I understand he has since been committed to gaol on another charge.

The Reverend Alfred Tatham resigned the chaplaincy of this gaol in the early part of the year; he is succeeded by the Reverend James Dimmock, who expresses himself well satisfied with the schoolmaster. Of the prisoners he says, "generally "speaking they make satisfactory progress; with few excep- "tions they show great anxiety for instruction, and frequently "express thankfulness for the trouble bestowed upon them."

The chaplain further states:—

"I consider the discipline as carried out in this prison well calculated to deter from crime. I believe that a large proportion of second convictions mainly arise from the great difficulty in obtaining honest employment after discharge from prison."

The number of punishments awarded for prison offences was:—

They were for the most part confined to a few prisoners, and generally for minor offences. In one case it had been found necessary to inflict corporal punishment on a prisoner who feigned illness and loss of the use of his limbs; finding he was not able to deceive the surgeon he suddenly became very violent, feigning insanity. The visiting justices attended at the gaol, and on the recommendation of the surgeon, ordered him to be flogged. The punishment had the desired effect, for when I visited the prison a few days afterwards the prisoner acknowledged that he had been feigning, and that he had even gone four days without tasting his food, hoping to obtain some relaxation of the discipline, or probably a pardon on medical grounds. I saw the prisoner when I visited the prison again, about two months afterwards, and found he had continued to conduct himself well since he was punished, and other prisoners, who had shown a disposition to misconduct themselves, had been deterred by the example made of this prisoner.

There are in this prison four crank machines, they are worked principally by vagrants or by badly conducted prisoners, whom it is thought desirable to remove from associated labour on the wheel. Prisoners are seldom worked at crank labour more than six consecutive days. The number of revolutions required is regulated by the strength of the prisoner and the weight of the crank, as the machines are not all equal, but in no case does it exceed 10,000 revolutions per day. The prisoners appear to perform the task with much ease, though it keeps them employed.

Matmaking and seaming hosiery have been introduced since the last inspection as employments for prisoners not sentenced to hard labour, but the magistrates generally do not encourage the employment of prisoners in making articles for sale.

The clear profit on work done for sale was only 4*l.* 11*s.* 9*d.*

No account was kept by which the value of the work done by prisoners for the prison may be estimated, in other respects the books are all properly kept.

The clothing and bedding are purchased from Wakefield Prison, the provisions and other stores are supplied by contract. The net cost last year was 20*l.* 13*s.* 8¼*d.* per prisoner.

The number committed during the year was 79; 23 males and 3 females above the committals in the preceding year. The increase in the male prisoners was principally in the number of poachers.

The late Governor, Mr. Farage, having retired, has been succeeded by Mr. Garton, late superintendent of the county police; he appears to be well qualified for the office. There has been no other alteration since the last inspection.

The diet is sufficient; the food was of good quality; the daily cost was 8¾*d.* per head.

All convicted prisoners are not clothed in a prison dress, as required by the General Regulations. I communicated with the visiting justices, and recommended that clothing should be provided for all convicted prisoners. I also recommended that the prison should be lighted with gas, and the prisoners provided with employment and books. They are at present required to go to bed at six in summer, and half past four in winter.

Prisoners sentenced to hard labour work on the treadwheel, but no means of employment are provided for any other class of prisoners, as required by the tenth section of the Gaol Act, Rule 5.

The general health of the prisoners is good; there had been no death and no removal on medical grounds during the year. The surgeon says, "I consider it a great evil the law does not "compel prisoners to work or employ themselves before "trial."

The chaplain says:—

"I have formerly suggested in my reports that it was desirable to have greater facilities for separating the prisoners in certain cases, and also to have some sort of employment for those not sentenced to hard labour."

There is no schoolmaster, but the chaplain instructs and catechizes the younger prisoners: he says, "Upon the whole I have found them anxious to improve."

BURY ST. EDMUNDS.—COUNTY HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

[Inspected 20th May 1854.]

Number of prisoners on the day of inspection:—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Criminals - - -	99	11	110
Debtors - - -	5	—	5

The daily average number of criminals was 111, compared with 144, the average of the preceding year. The number of commitments was 632, showing a decrease of no less than 223. The decrease was principally in the number committed for poaching. About nine tenths of the prisoners belong to the district.

There has been no alteration in the construction or discipline of the gaol since the last inspection.

The buildings were in good repair. The prison clean and in order. The drainage and ventilation are good.

The provisions were of good quality. The daily cost of the food was 3½*d.* per head.

No death had occurred, and no prisoner had been removed on account of illness; but there have been two cases of insanity in the prison since the last inspection; both females. One, committed for trial for the murder of her child, was found insane, and removed to the lunatic asylum St. George's Fields; the other, committed for an assault, was removed to Hoxton Asylum.

The duties performed by the chaplain and schoolmaster have been noticed in my former reports; there has been no change. The progress made by the prisoners is satisfactory.

The prisoners made no complaints. The number of punishments for prison offences was 21. The offences were generally of a trivial character. Prisoners sentenced to hard labour work on the treadwheel and pick oakum; other prisoners are employed making and repairing the prison shoes and clothing, and occasionally basket-making and mat-making. The estimated value of the work done by the prisoners was only 45*l.*

The male prisoners, except those at labour on the wheel, are still without proper supervision or employment; they also continue to pass far too much time in bed. The female prisoners, for want of sufficient accommodation, are excluded from the daily service in the chapel, and the old Bridewell, in which they are confined, affords no means of classification or effective discipline. These defects in the discipline and arrangement of the prison have been brought under the notice of the visiting justices, and a plan for alterations in the chapel, with a view to afford the required accommodation for the females, has since been submitted for approval;—I have reason to believe that other improvements will also shortly be made.

The provisions and stores are all supplied by contract. The net cost per prisoner last year was 15*l.* 6*s.* 8¾*d.*

IPSWICH.—COUNTY GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

Number of prisoners on the day of inspection :—

	Males.	Females.	Total.

The daily average number of criminals was 88. The number of commitments 524, compared with 466 in the preceding year. The increase was in the number commited for felony.

The number of debtors has decreased from 47 to 36.

The buildings were in good repair. The wards and cells clean and in order. Gas has been introduced into six of the cells. There has been no other alteration either in the construction or discipline of the gaol.

The provisions were of good quality; the daily cost of the food was 4¾*d.* per head.

The general health of the prisoners is represented to be good; but there were six deaths during the year, all of which occurred in less than two months, there not having been a death in the prison for more than two years previous.

W. C., aged 25, received 19th March 1853, removed to infirmary 13th March 1854, and died of pulmonary consumption 8th April 1854. This prisoner was discharged from the army in consequence of consumptive tendency.

J. C., aged 31, received 11th March 1854, was immediately attacked with fever, and died on 25th March. This prisoner had been wandering about the country without a home, with insufficient clothing and food; he appeared to be a man of weak intellect.

C. A., aged 23, received 5th November 1853, was recovering from an attack of catarrh, when he took fresh cold, which brought on bronchitis, of which he died on 13th April.

G. F., aged 51, received 25th November 1853, died suddenly on the 18th April 1854, from old standing disease of the heart.

W. S., aged 18, received 9th February 1854, attacked with catarrh 18th April 1854, from which he gradually improved till 9th May, when an attack of bronchitis came on, of which he died 23d May.

J. C., aged 57, received 1st August 1853, removed to infirmary 17th May 1854, died 11th June, from generally broken constitution, having been a free drinker for many years.

The ventilation and drainage of the prison is good, the clothing sufficient, the diet good and wholesome, and having inquired particularly into the several cases, I could discover no local cause to account for the number of deaths in less than two months. The prisoners made no complaints. There has been no change in the duties performed by the chaplain and schoolmaster. The prisoners appear to make satisfactory progress.

the punishments were for the most part confined to prisoners (under short sentences) for not performing their work. The daily average number of criminals was 27. The number of commitments was 152, which is more than double the number committed in the preceding year. There was a large increase in the number committed for felony.

The buildings were in good repair. The wards and cells clean and in order. There has been no alteration since the last inspection. The provisions were of good quality. The daily cost of the food was 5¼*d.* per head.

The general health of the prisoners is represented to be "extremely good." No death had occurred during the year. One prisoner being in an advanced stage of phthisis was liberated on medical grounds. There has been no change in the duties performed by the chaplain and the schoolmaster The progress made by the prisoners generally is satisfactory.

The number of punishments was :—

The offences were principally, "using improper language," and "refusing to work." One prisoner, formerly a tradesman in the town, complained "that his friends were not allowed to visit him." On inquiry, I found that he had, by the special permission of a magistrate, received visits more frequently than is allowed by the rules.

Prisoners sentenced to hard labour are employed picking oakum. There is no trade or other employment carried on, and the prisoners pass too much time in bed.

The books and accounts are properly kept. The bread and meat alone are supplied by contract. The net cost per prisoner last year was 26*l.* 11*s.* 2¼*d.* I recommended that the use of tobacco in the debtors ward should be prohibited unless ordered by the surgeon.

The daily average number was 89. The number committed during the year was 625, showing an increase of 15 committals compared with the year 1853, but a great decrease compared with the preceding years.

About one half of the number were committed for vagrancy.

The privies and drains have been properly trapped since the last report. There has been no other alteration in the prison.

The buildings were in good order. The provisions of good quality. The daily cost of the food was 6½*d.* per head.

One prisoner (a female) died, apparently from exhaustion, about a fortnight after she had been delivered of a dead child. The surgeon states, "her health had been ruined by prostitution and disease."

Two prisoners were released on medical grounds; both cases of pulmonary consumption; one a complicated case with disease of the spine, the other an old soldier who had been discharged from the army on the same grounds. One prisoner, insane when admitted to the gaol, was removed to a lunatic asylum. The total number of sick during the year was 39. The proportion of sick was four per cent.

The number of hospital cases was 11; the number placed on extra diet, 15.

There has been no change in the duties performed by the chaplain, and which were fully detailed in my last report. He says:—

"The prisoners are very orderly and attentive, and the progress made by them, both in religious and secular knowledge, is satisactory."

The punishments awarded for prison offences were of the ordinary character. The number was as follows:—

County Court debtors are not at present sent to this gaol, but I think it is very desirable that debtors committed from the County Court at Halifax should be sent here. I understand creditors frequently decline to prefer a claim before the County Court, being unwilling to incur the expense of removing the debtor to York Castle.

The gaol was clean and in good order. No debtor made any complaint. The diet is sufficient, and the provisions were of good quality.

The debtors are not provided with sheets, which I recommend, both on the score of health and economy.

There is no change in the duties performed by the chaplain, and the health of the debtors is represented to be very good.

HALIFAX.—HOME GAOL FOR THE MANOR OF WAKEFIELD.

[Inspected 22d February 1854.]

There were no debtors in confinement at the time of my visit; the last person confined here died in the gaol in the month of January 1851. The deputy bailiff, who is also inspector of weights and measures, is the Governor of the gaol. He receives no salary as Governor, and does not reside on the premises.

The yearly sum of 40*s.*, chargeable on property in the town, was, some years since, bequeathed by a gentleman to be expended in the issue of bread to poor debtors confined in this gaol.

Upon inquiry, I found that the sum of 1*l.* only had been received during the last eight years, in consequence, it was stated, of there being no poor debtors to receive the benefit of the fund.

A destitute debtor with a wife and four children being confined in the prison at the close of the year, I wrote to the steward of the manor on the subject of this fund, usually called "bread money," and the sum of 8*l.* has since been paid into the hands of the Governor, to be accounted for by him in the usual way.

This gaol is the property of the lord of the manor, and is not visited by any of the magistrates of the district, or other local authority.

A prisoner made a complaint that he was sick in his class five weeks without seeing the surgeon. On inquiry, I found that the surgeon's assistant frequently visited the sick prisoners for him without authority. I referred the surgeon to the 157th rule in the General Regulations for Prisons, which provides, that in case of sickness or necessary engagement, the surgeon may appoint a substitute to be approved by the visiting justices. With regard to the complaint made by the prisoner, the surgeon stated that he was suffering from a scrofulous glandular affection, for which he had been properly and regularly treated, but the disease made him irritable and discontented.

The rules of this prison do not require the surgeon to see prisoners who are not on the sick list more than once a month.

Several prisoners complained of the bread and soup, but I found all the provisions very good on this day. I called the attention of the Governor and surgeon to the complaints, and requested they would frequently examine the food, each making an entry in his journal as to the quality.

The daily cost of the food was 4½*d.* per head. The surgeon recommended that pea meal should be substituted for potatoes in the soup.

There has been no change in the duties performed by the chaplain. He has all the prisoners frequently before him for examination and instruction. The untried prisoners also receive religious instruction from a scripture reader who attends at the prison for this purpose once a week by permission from the magistrates.

The schoolmaster is regular and punctual in his attendance, and is well qualified for his office; he is engaged teaching the prisoners about two hours daily; the remainder of his time is employed in the Governor's office.

The matron teaches the female prisoners about two hours a day four days in the week. The progress made by the prisoners, both male and female, is represented to be "tolerable."

The number of punishments for prison offences was :—

Male prisoners - - - -	177
Female - - - - -	148
Total - -	925

There had been no case of corporal punishment during the year for a prison offence.

The means of employing prisoners continue the same as those mentioned in my last report. The profit on work done for sale was 478*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.* The estimated value of work done for the prison was 130*l.* 10*s.*

In speaking of the discipline of this gaol, and how far it is calculated to deter persons from the commission of crime, the chaplain says :—

"There are only two classes of persons who in general return to prison ; the one consists of persons under the age of 21, whose whole life hitherto has been spent in the commission of crime, who, having been neglected or forsaken by their parents, have left their wretched homes, and grown up to 12 or 14 years of age in ignorance of all that is good, and have then fallen into the hands of such persons as are to be found in all our large towns (the keepers of brothels and houses for young thieves, or the bullies of prostitutes ;) these among the male prisoners are the persons whom no strictness of prison discipline can deter from crime, and on whom no religious or moral teaching can have (except in very rare cases) a permanently beneficial effect. The other class consists of the younger prostitutes, who, in general, are much more drunken, more shamelessly profligate, and more frequently before the magistrates than the older ones ; these return over and over again to the prison in the course of the year, undeterred by any amount of sufferings, either mental or bodily, which they have experienced in or out of prison. At the two last quarter sessions 10 individuals (eight males and two females) were severally sentenced to four or five years penal servitude ; six of the males were under 21 years of age, and had each pursued a career of crime for several years. One of these was transported from Beverley in 1847 for seven years ; on the expiration of his time he returned home, and had not been more than a month or two in England when he was summarily convicted, and sentenced to one month's imprisonment ; he was no sooner liberated than he committed a felony, for which he has now been sentenced to five years penal servitude ; he is only 18 years of age. Another, of the age of 17, has been in prison eight times since he was 11 years of age, once for 12 months for felony. Another, of the age of 16, has been five times in prison ; he was sentenced to 18 months imprisonment for felony, but the sentence was commuted to six months ; he was only a few weeks out of gaol when he committed the act for which he is now under a sentence of four years penal servitude. The same or nearly the same may be said of the other three youths, and of one of the females."

The average daily number was :—

	Male.	Female.	Total.
Borough Prisoners - -	194·12	50·42	244·54
Government Convicts -	46	—	46

The number of commitments was 1,366, compared with 1,273 in the preceding year; the increase was in the number committed for "drunkenness," as "riotous and disorderly," "assaults," and "leaving their families chargeable on the parish;" of the latter class it is supposed the increased number of committals arises from the adoption of more energetic measures on the part of the poor law authorities rather than any greater frequency of such offences.

The buildings were in good order and repair. I met the visiting justices by appointment at the gaol on the 28th August, and called their attention to the defective drainage, there being at present a closed cesspool into which all the drains of the prison terminate. Application has been made to the town council, and it is proposed immediately to construct a main drain which shall effectually carry off the contents of the prison drains.

The provisions were of good quality, the daily cost of the food was $5\frac{3}{4}d.$ per head.

The general health of the prisoners is represented to be good. There has been no return of the epidemic which broke out with such violence last year. Three deaths occurred, and two prisoners were removed on medical grounds, but in neither case had the health of the prisoners been affected from any local cause.

The only change in the duties performed by the chaplain has been the addition of a short exposition of Scripture to the daily service in the chapel. The system of instruction as pursued by the schoolmaster has undergone no change. I annex tables which afford much useful information as to the number of committals, with all particulars as to the previous character, occupation, and degree of education of the prisoners on reception, together with their progress in general and scriptural instruction while in prison.

The conduct of the prisoners is represented as being "on the whole good," the number of punishments was:—

Male Prisoners - - - -	493
Female - - - - -	56
Total - - -	549

The punishments were of the ordinary character, except in one case in which a boy was sentenced by the visiting justices to receive 12 strokes with a birch rod.

There has been no change in the mode of employing the prisoners, the profit on work done for sale during the year was 928*l.* 17*s.* 7*d.*, the estimated value of work done for the prison was 296*l.* 5*s.* 2*d.*

No prisoner made any complaint; I found them all fully employed. Two officers who had given much satisfaction to the authorities in the performance of their respective duties have this year left the prison, viz., Miss Matheson the matron, and Mr. Gibson the schoolmaster; the former having been appointed matron in the House of Correction at Wakefield, and the latter chief warder in the city prison at Bath.

RIPON.—HOUSE OF CORRECTION FOR THE LIBERTY OF RIPON.

[Inspected 15th March 1854.]

Female - - - - -	—

The Liberty of Ripon is of very ancient date; it comprises 25 townships including the borough of Ripon, and is under the jurisdiction of the Archbishop of York. The corporation of Ripon are seeking to obtain a separate jurisdiction; the effect of such a measure would be that separate quarter sessions would be held for the borough, whereas there are now frequently no prisoners for trial from the whole liberty. The mayor of the borough is ex officio a magistrate for the liberty.

I found the prison clean and in good order; the diet, clothing, and bedding are sufficient; the provisions were of good quality.

No prisoner made any complaint. There was one prisoner sick at the time of my visit.

The prisoners were employed cutting up wood, and in cleansing and whitewashing the prison; they have no other employment, and there are no means of classifying them properly.

There is also a debtors gaol within the liberty, but only one debtor has been confined here since the passing of the County Court Act. I found all the debtors rooms occupied by the keeper and his family.

The deputy bailiff for the liberty is the keeper of the gaol; he receives a salary of 39*l.* per annum.

The daily average number of West Riding prisoners was 679.

Number committed during the year, 4,060; of whom 1,211 were vagrants, 929 felons, and 578 were committed for assaults.

About one half of the prisoners were resident in the West Riding.

No alteration has been made in the building since the last inspection. The drainage is good in all parts of the prison, the diet sufficient and of good quality.

On the day of inspection there were 20 prisoners on the sick list in the West Riding prison, and 14 in the convict prison. The surgeon of the West Riding prison states,—

"The health of the prisoners generally has been satisfactory, and, with the exception of a few cases of typhus fever, the diseases have not been characterized by any epidemic character. Although there have been an unusual number of cases of hallucination, the majority of them were feigned. There have been no removals to the asylum, or pardon on medical grounds."

The number of prisoners admitted into the infirmaries was 270; the proportion of sick to the daily average was 2·9 per cent.

Nine deaths occurred during the year; two were cases of suicide. In neither case had any symptoms of despondency been observed, but in one much chagrin and disappointment had been produced by the refusal of friends to find bail. In three other cases the disease which terminated fatally had been contracted previous to admission into prison.

The surgeon of the convict prison states,—

"During the past year there has been more than the average amount of sickness, and a greater number of hospital cases. This increase has been produced by the following causes: the severity of the winter, the great number of prisoners received in bad health, the unusually long time invalids have been left in the prison, and the existence of cholera in the country rendering the cases of diarrhœa more numerous and obstinate."

The number of cases placed on the sick list was 340, of which 28 were hospital cases.

Four prisoners died during the year.

One prisoner was pardoned, and eleven were removed to other prisons on account of disease, or as being unfit for the discipline.

The following return shows the state of health of the prisoners when received and discharged during the last three years, and whether they had gained or lost weight in prison.

There has been no change in the duties performed by the chaplains; but the chaplain of the convict prison refers to the following changes as affecting the educational and moral improvement of the prisoners:—

Precautions taken to prevent any prisoner working on Sunday (five prisoners were detected and reported; one of the number was a man who feigned insanity).

The removal of the separate stalls in the chapel.

The withdrawal of the prisoners' tools from their cells during school hours.

The recommencement of class instruction for the convicts who cannot read, or who read imperfectly, in lieu of a cellular visit from the schoolmasters on the usual school-days.

The allocation of an hour on Friday to a portion of these men for cellular instruction. The chaplain states:—

"The progress of the prisoners in religious knowledge has been on the whole satisfactory; but during the last three years their progress in secular knowledge has been inferior to that of preceding years. The cause of the falling off in the educational department is, in my opinion, undue attention of the prisoners to industry; the daily lectures in chapel will account for their progress in religious knowledge."

The chaplain again expressed his opinion that the moral improvement of the prisoners is not sufficiently recognised as the paramount means of reformation.

It appears to me that sufficient precautions have been taken to prevent undue interference with the instruction of the prisoners, and that every encouragement is given to their moral improvement. I attach great importance to industrial training as a necessary aid to the means of moral improvement and reformation. Idleness and consequent association with former bad companions are amongst the greatest impediments that a well disposed prisoner has to contend with on his discharge from prison. The inculcation of industrious habits affords, therefore, additional security against the temptations which will most assuredly beset him on his return to the scenes of his former life.

The chaplain of the West Riding prison has a different class of prisoners under his care; a large proportion are committed for very short periods, and are frequently too unsettled to profit much by the instruction afforded. He says:—

"Many of the prisoners who have been some time in prison make very fair progress. Some will not try to improve."

Of the schoolmasters, he says:—

"They are well qualified for the office, and discharge their duties most satisfactorily. They are engaged eight hours daily in the performance of their duties under my direction."

The Governor died on the 13th April, and has been succeeded by his son, who was in the habit of assisting his father; he is a joiner by trade. The widow of the late Governor has been continued in the office of matron. The prison was clean and in good order. Two of the male prisoners had only just been received at the time of my visit to the prison, the other male prisoner was breaking stones; the female was employed in the wash-house.

The provisions were of good quality; the daily cost of the food was 6½*d.* per head.

In a dry season there is great difficulty in procuring good water. The water used in the prison for all purposes is rain water, collected in an open lead tank within the roof of the building; it is not filtered, and the tank or cistern is only cleaned out once in two years.

The surgeon assured me that the water is very wholesome, and is better than that which is supplied by the water company in the town.

The chaplain had been for some time seriously unwell, and unable to attend at the prison; during his absence the services were performed by his curate, but other duties required by the rules were not attended to.

SHEFFIELD.—DEBTORS GAOL FOR THE LIBERTY OF HALLAMSHIRE.

[Inspected 4th March 1854.]

This gaol is the property of the lord of the manor, the Duke of Norfolk. Debtors formerly were committed to this gaol by the Court of Requests for the manors of Hallamshire and Ecclesall Bierlow; but this was abolished in 1847, and compensation was granted to such officers as were not provided with office under the County Court.

The Duke of Norfolk, as chief bailiff of the liberty, appoints the deputy bailiff. The cost of all repairs and other expenses, including the maintenance of prisoners, proceeds from the chief bailiff; but, a few years since, on a question submitted to counsel, an opinion was given that he is not legally liable. He has not the power to close the prison.

Debtors from the superior courts only are sent here. I found one debtor in confinement at the time of my visit, by sheriff's writ addressed to "The Chief Bailiff of the Liberty of Hallamshire."

The number of debtors committed to this gaol during the last five years is as follows:—

SHEFFIELD.—POLICE CELLS.

[Inspected 4th March 1854.]

The cells are dark and badly ventilated. The situation is so confined that it would, I fear, be impossible to improve the present cells.

The following table shows the number of prisoners taken into custody by the police during the years 1851, 1852, and 1853, with the result.

Year.	Taken into custody.		Discharged by Magistrates.		Summarily convicted or held to bail.		Committed for trial.		Convicted and sentenced.		Acquitted.		Bills not found or not prosecuted.

1853	3,326	538	716	271	2,434	236	176	31	147	26	26	5	3	—

Of this number, in the year 1851, 22 were fifteen years of age and under, 34 in 1852, and 43 in 1853.

I would strongly recommend that new cells, with suitable accommodation for the police force, may be built in a site affording more space for yards, and proper ventilation.

YORK CASTLE.

Number of prisoners on the day of inspection:—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Criminals - - -	118	6	124
Debtors - - -	72	—	72
			196

The daily average number was 116 criminals and 59 debtors. The number of committals during the year was, criminals, 279; debtors, 361; showing an increase of 38 in the daily average of criminals, but a decrease in the number committed compared with the preceding year.

The number of debtors had decreased.

The buildings were in good order. The provisions of good quality; but I do not consider the diet sufficient for prisoners employed at hard labour. I expressed this opinion to the visiting justices, and have reason to believe that an amended diet table will shortly be submitted for approval. The daily cost of the food per head was, criminals, $5\frac{1}{2}d.$; debtors, $7\frac{3}{4}d.$ The cost of the diet has been much increased by the addition of one pint of milk daily and six ounces of rice per week to prisoners employed at hard labour.

The general health of the prisoners, the surgeon states, has been "tolerably good." Three deaths occurred, and one prisoner, a female, was released on medical grounds. The chaplain states:—

"The prisoners uniformly behave well, both in school and in chapel; I have had no complaint to make on this head since I have been chaplain. The schoolmaster is qualified for his office, and the prisoners make satisfactory progress both in religious and secular knowledge."

Several prisoners complained of the insufficiency of the diet. Two prisoners also made other complaints, which, on inquiry, were proved to be without foundation.

The number of punishments for prison offences was:—

Male prisoners - - - - -	120
Females - - - - -	13

The chief offences were quarrelling and attempts to communicate with the prisoners in another class. There were no offences of a grave character. Prisoners sentenced to hard labour are employed sawing and polishing marble, and sawing timber; the other employments carried on are matmaking, chopping wood, tailoring, and making clogs. The clear profit on work done by the prisoners was 243*l.* 2*s.* 4*d.*; the estimated value of work done for the prison was 200*l.* 7*s.* 2*d.*

The debtors confined in this gaol are permitted to smoke; indeed, the debtors' gaol was redolent of tobacco, and there was an absence of order in many of the rooms; some were not even clean; one room especially was half full of furniture, the property of one of the inmates. I called attention to these things, and communicated with the visiting justices, recommending that the use of tobacco should be prohibited except in special cases, under the orders of the surgeon.

The daily average number of debtors confined in this gaol exceeds 50. They are without employment, and are to be seen throughout the day, either walking about the wards in idleness with a pipe in their mouths, or smoking in their rooms. I certainly observed two or three reading, but none of them were otherwise profitably employed.

TWENTY-SECOND REPORT OF THE INSPECTORS OF PRISONS.

III.—SOUTHERN AND WESTERN DISTRICT.

To the Right Hon. Sir GEORGE GREY, Bart.,
&c. &c. &c.
Secretary of State for the Home Department.

Westbourne Street, February 1857.

Sir,

I beg leave to submit to you my Annual Report upon the state of the Prisons under my inspection, in conformity with the provisions of 5 & 6 Will. 4. c. 38.

In the period which has elapsed since the date of the last report, I have continued to visit the Reformatory Schools in the district, and have recommended for the sanction of the Government four not previously certified. Since the enactment of the Statute of the 17 & 18 Vict. c. 86., there had been received into these schools, at the date of my last inspection, the number of children shown below:—

Schools for Boys.
Satley, near Birmingham	45
Hardwicke, near Gloucester	72
Kingswood, near Bristol	54
Stoke, near Bromsgrove	25
Devon and Exeter Reformatory	24
Leicestershire Reformatory at Peckleton	24

The Birmingham Girl's Reformatory	23

Of the individuals alluded to in this list very few can yet have been set at liberty, inasmuch as the shortest term for which any of them can have been sent to the schools under the Act is two years, and little more than that time has elapsed since it first came into operation. For the same reason it would be premature to pronounce any opinion upon the results of the discipline pursued in them, as those effects cannot be safely judged of while the children are still under restraint.

In the prisons of the district improvements continue to be made in the construction of the buildings, all of which are directed to fitting them for the adoption of separate confinement. So universal indeed is the testimony in favour of the separate system in the English prisons of the district, that there remain only two county prisons in which it has not been adopted, either wholly or in part; and in those exceptional instances new buildings are now in progress, which promise soon to assimilate them to the more perfect establishments of the kind.

It would be gratifying to be enabled to add that the discipline pursued in these improved prisons is always consistent with the principle of the system for which they were designed. But although in the greater number much attention is devoted to the teaching of what may be called abstract morality, and the advantages of an honest course of life are theoretically inculcated, sufficient care is not always taken to institute such a course of productive industry as shall practically demonstrate the truth of those principles, and thus tend to induce a taste for labour. It is true that the views I am advocating are, year by year, becoming more extensively received; but there remain, nevertheless, more than one instance in which it is studiously endeavoured to divest prison labour of all but its punitive element, and in which the remote advantages which might be reaped from it in its results both to the prisoner and to society are blindly disregarded. It is right to add, however, that even in many of those prisons in which "hard-labour cranks," and other such ineffectual inventions, founded on the notion of repressing crime by mere severity of punishment, have been erected at great cost, and persisted in for a time, they are now altogether abandoned; while in others the authorities are meditating their abandonment, and the adoption of productive labour in their stead.

I have hitherto dwelt only on the moral bearing of the question as incomparably the most important; but the experience and observation of many years have satisfied me that if the productive system of labour were generally adopted and carried out by the governing authorities with the zealous energy which is to be expected of intelligent men bent upon the accomplishment of a great object, the articles manufactured would go far to pay the expenses of prison establishments.

But after all has been done during the confinement of the criminal to amend his character, and to inculcate a reliance upon his own honest endeavours for his future maintenance, there is danger that these objects will be practically defeated, even in the case of those who leave prison with the best intentions, by the want of some asylum which shall afford the means of employment and support in the perilous interval which almost invariably intervenes before the discharged prisoner can obtain regular employment.

This great desideratum, the indispensable nature of which has been long recognised, has only of late begun to be supplied in some parts of the kingdom by the Institution of Refuges for Discharged Prisoners, where they can obtain employment and wages during this critical period, and thus be enabled to earn a character for steadiness and honesty which may recommend them to permanent employment.

Among the earliest of these experiments were the London Reformatory, in Smith Street, Westminster; the Preventive and Reformatory Institution of Mr. Bowyer, in the New Road; and the Metropolitan Industrial Reformatory at Brixton; but although these establishments have severally effected a considerable amount of good in the case of the individuals who have had the good fortune to be received into them, the great expenses of their management have made so great demands on voluntary contributions, that it is not to be expected that charities of the same nature will be founded elsewhere at all commensurate with the needs of the persons discharged from prison.

Digitized by Google

It is on this account that I feel peculiar satisfaction directing attention to some experiments recently made upon a far less costly scale, whose chief value arises from the circumstance that, so far as can be judged of at this early period of their existence, reasonable expectations may be formed of their becoming entirely self-supporting.

As the plans upon which these establishments are conducted are very different in their details, I purpose to give a brief description of three of them, which present distinct types of management, premising that their managers will readily give any further information that may be desired upon application being made to them by those who may wish for more detailed explanation of the systems pursued.

"The Gloucester Refuge for Discharged Prisoners" was commenced on the 15th of April 1856, in a small house in a retired street in that city; and one of the subordinate officers of the county gaol was installed as its resident manager. Prisoners on their discharge from the county gaol are received on the recommendation of the visiting justices or chaplain. They are lodged free of charge for the first fortnight, but are afterwards charged 1*s.* 6*d.* per week for lodging, fuel, light, and washing. When they find employment, to obtain which they are assisted by the manager and directors, they are required to pay over the whole of their earnings to the former or to allow him to receive them on their behalf. These receipts are duly credited to them, and paid over on their leaving the Refuge, and during their stay the inmates are supplied out of them by the manager with such small sums as the scale of allowances permit to be expended for subsistence.

The stay of each inmate unprovided with employment is limited to fourteen days; and after having obtained employment he is generally not allowed to avail himself of the advantages of the institution for more than one month. Both these limitations are, however, often extended by the Directors under special circumstances. Fines are imposed for disobedience to rules and for bad conduct, short of that which would call for expulsion, their amount being deducted from the fund in the hands of the manager.

The Directors conclude their Report upon the first year's operations of the establishment with the following encouraging observation:—"It appears that a subscription of about 25*l.* or 30*l.* will amply suffice for all expenses beyond what an establishment accommodating forty or fifty men, during the course of a year, may supply towards its own expenses; and it would perhaps be difficult to devise any means by which such a small sum could be made available for so much good, not to the individuals only, but to society in general."*

The next establishment of the kind to which I beg leave to call attention is in operation in the Town of Birmingham, under the title of "The Birmingham Discharged Prisoners' Aid Society," and it will be necessary to notice this more at length from the novelty of its character, combining as it does some of the features of a Patronage Society, such as exists in France in behalf of young offenders, with those of a Guarantee Society.

The nature of this Society cannot be more succinctly explained than in the following statement, which has been drawn up, with the authority of the Committee, by the Rev. J. T. Burt, Chaplain to the Borough Prison, who has undertaken the office of honorary secretary:—

"This Society took its rise in the conviction of its founders that crime is to a considerable extent the result of external circumstances. This may be regarded as an axiom in moral science. I can hardly suppose that it will be questioned. Any man who reflects at all on what passes within himself must be conscious that he is powerfully acted upon from without. The internal endowments by which men resist the pressure of external influences are,—the intellect,—the influences of education,—the vigour of the will, and—the higher and holier influences of religion. Now these are the moral conditions in which criminals, as a class, are characteristically deficient. They have less than average intelligence,—far less than average education,—wills characteristically feeble,—and they are of course lamentably deficient in religion. At the same time they are in many cases exposed to more than an average pressure of temptation; and this is especially the case after a conviction, and on discharge from prison. Many have no home or a bad home, no work, no friends, and all are without a character. If they apply for work, they commonly conceal or deny their previous imprisonment; and if they succeed, they are frequently detected and discharged. They are, moreover, thrown unavoidably into the most depraving society. Thieves and receivers of stolen goods are continually loitering about the gaol, in the morning, waiting for prisoners to be discharged.

"Now this Society is established for the purpose of relieving the discharged prisoner from the excessive pressure of temptation to which he is exposed from the causes which I have enumerated. I beg to call particular attention to the limited extent of the Society's object. This Society does not expect to make all discharged prisoners honest; it does not propose to lodge and board all destitute criminals in idleness; nor to create, artificially, a supply of labour for this numerous class; neither to neutralize altogether the heavy disabilities consequent upon a criminal career. But when men, women, and especially children, are discharged from gaol, in some cases there are difficulties in the way of their living honestly, which result in an excess of moral pressure such as men of ordinary and even of high virtue would fail in resisting, and against which it is hopeless to expect these persons to bear up. To relieve these persons from this excessive pressure of temptation is the object of this Society.

"I have next to state the plan upon which the Society proceeds. Its operations are carried on through the services of an agent; and the extent and populousness of this borough make it necessary that he should devote the whole of his time to the business of the Society. The most important duty of this agent is, to canvass employers for work for such discharged prisoners as are unable to procure it by their own exertions. Employment is, if possible, procured for them immediately upon their discharge. But a short time must often elapse before work is found for them; and for this short period, in the event of their being destitute, they are assisted with lodging and food.

"The second part of the Society's plan, therefore, is to procure lodgings in the cottages of poor persons of good character, where these discharged prisoners may be placed between their leaving the gaol and obtaining work.

"It forms part of the Society's plan to purchase a few tools, or a small supply of materials, or a little clothing, when such aid is indispensable. And in order to check abuse of the Society's provisions, the money thus expended will in some cases be advanced as a loan, to be repaid at the discretion of the Committee.

"It is a fourth part of the Society's plan, in special cases, to give a guarantee to a moderate amount, and for a limited extent, to bear a master harmless in the event of his sustaining any loss through the person recommended to him. One member of the Committee has generously undertaken to make himself individually responsible for four such guarantees; another member of the Committee has undertaken to give one guarantee.

"In addition to his other duties, the agent continues to visit those persons who have received assistance; and if prisoners have been a very short time in prison, or if their intentions are doubtful, the agent makes inquiry whether they are deserving of aid.

"These are the only kinds of assistance which the Society has at present decided to grant. But I think that at no distant period it will be found to fall within the scope of the Society's object to assist proper persons to emigrate. Great caution will be required if this mode of relief is attempted. If I may be permitted to express an opinion upon so important a question, it is my earnest recommendation that every effort should be made to find employment for the intended emigrant at home for a time, in order to allow of his re-establishing his character, and then to take advantage of the Government emigration grants, the Society only assisting with clothes and the deposit required by the regulations of the Emigration Commissioners. I do not mean that this should necessarily be done in all cases; but that this plan should be the rule, and direct emigration the exception. Discharged prisoners emigrating will then be dealt with by the Society upon the same principle on which those who remain at home are dealt with. They will be raised, as far as may be, to a level with other persons of their class, the Society merely helping to lift them out of degradation so deep, that without such aid they could never rise to honesty and independence.

"I also anticipate another extension of the Society's plan to meet the case of convicts discharged from Government prisons. The appeals for aid made by some of these men are such that it is impossible to resist them, and a few have consequently been assisted. If, however, these convicts are to be assisted by local associations, the gratuities now allowed to them by Government when they are discharged ought to be made available for this relief. Those gratuities are now often spent most injudiciously, if not in drink. The same sums of money, placed at the disposal of such societies as this, would often be expended much more advantageously for the convict.

"I have now to state shortly what has been done. The agent entered upon his duties on the 17th of July, a few cases having been previously relieved. The masters whom he canvasses receive him favourably; they very generally approve of the Society, and he obtains promises of work from many. In the short time he has been engaged, work has been found for thirteen discharged prisoners. But he reports that in many cases he does not succeed until he shows the circular of the Society. It is the respected names of the Committee that give confidence to employers. This is conclusive evidence in proof of the necessity for such an agency. If our agent cannot procure work for a discharged prisoner without difficulty, and if he succeeds only by the influence of this Society, what chance would there be for the unbefriended prisoner himself? But when the agent does succeed, there is concurrent evidence as strong that the object of the Society is as practicable as it is necessary.

"The agent has been equally successful in procuring lodgings. No difficulty is found in meeting with poor persons of good character willing to receive a discharged prisoner; and it is not found necessary to engage these lodgings permanently; they are paid for only during the period for which they are occupied. In this way eleven prisoners have been lodged during the three months, at a cost of 18*s*. Our experience in this part of our plan appears to me important and satisfactory."

While these remarks are in the press I am favoured by Mr. Burt with the following memorandum, which is valuable, not only as bringing down the history of the proceedings of the Society to the end of March, but from the just views it contains of the qualifications with which it is necessary to regard the statistics of such undertakings, in order to avoid erroneous conclusions:—

"This Society began to give aid to discharged prisoners on the 12th of July last. The number of persons to whom aid has been given from that time to the 30th of March last is 46. Of these persons 22 have been placed in lodgings, 28 have been supplied for a time with food, 9 have been supplied with clothing, 7 with small sums of money to assist them in returning home, or for the purchase of materials for work, and 6 have been provided with tools. Work has been provided for 36, 5 have been sent home or assisted to leave the town, and 1 has been assisted to emigrate.

"The amount of money expended in affording this aid to these persons, the salary of the agent, and incidental expenses not being included, has been:

"Of this amount as much as 8*l.* has been expended on one case which has been quite exceptional, and has been an unusually long time in hand from repeated attacks of epilepsy.

"We have reports of 22 going on well; we have no information of 16; the remaining 8 are going on badly.

"The return of cases assisted by us which are going on well or ill, I am always unwilling to give without some explanation.

"The great majority of the prisoners have homes to return to, or they are able to procure work for themselves. These are the persons of the least criminal character, or they are the best workmen. The persons requiring our aid are in many cases persons of the worst character, or persons not skilled in any trade. One of these conditions is, in fact, the reason why our assistance is wanted. If we extend a helping hand to such persons we do it at the risk of having a good many unfavourable cases appear in our returns. My own feeling, however, has been to incur that risk rather than to ensure a return to crime on the part of these persons, which, unless we render assistance, is in all these cases inevitable. Some persons have therefore been assisted when there was only small chance of their working if we helped them, but no chance of it whatever if we did not.

"But in helping such cases we give the smallest possible amount of assistance, and endeavour to procure for them such kind of work only that if they do no good they can do no harm at it.

"As examples of what we have done I will specify two or three cases:—A young woman of profligate habits was about to be discharged; she had one relative only, a sister, who was also profligate. If she had been turned away from the prison door, a return to vice and to crime was certain and immediate. But she was "flighty," verging towards mental derangement; and there was hardly a hope that she would be steady. Still we gave her a chance. She was placed in a lodging for three or four days, and tried with needlework; but she was found unfit to earn her living either by her needle or as a servant; and she went away, finding herself restrained, and returned to her former habits. Nothing but the trial could have proved her case to be hopeless, and only a few shillings were spent in giving her the trial.

"In one case we did not spend anything whatever upon a lad; we merely found him a place of work in a blacksmith's shop. We had scarcely a hope that he would be steady; but he begged for a trial, and we gave it him without any outlay of money, and without any risk.

"A third case was that of a young man who acknowledged that he had been 19 times in prison; but he said he was tired of it; and came to us of his own accord some time after he had been discharged from prison, and begged us to find him work. We bought shoemakers' tools to the value of 10*s.* 9*d.* and placed him with a small master shoemaker, and he worked steadily for six months. He then went away, and we hear he is in prison elsewhere; but he was working honestly for six months instead of thieving; and as he was one of the best pickpockets in Birmingham, he would have stolen a very considerable sum of money in those six months if he had not been at work; and this trial did not cost anything. He was perfectly honest at the shop, and he left the tools, which are now being used by another discharged prisoner.

"It is most important that I should add, that two or three of this class of cases, of whom little hope could have been entertained, have turned out remarkably well. One young man of the same class is earning his 12*s.* a week.

"This explanation appears to me necessary if the returns of good and bad cases are given.

"I ought also to state, that in many of the cases in which we have not any information, we could not expect any. One has emigrated, and others have been assisted with a trifle to help them homewards.

"You will be the best judge what use to make of this explanation. I confess I do not much regard the return of good and bad cases, as it is generally looked at. The public look to the proportion of the one to the other. I rather look at the good cases positively. It is an old maxim, that it is better for twelve guilty men to escape than for one innocent man to be convicted. I would say, similarly, it is better for a few cases to be aided which turn out badly, than for one person who would be honest to be turned adrift.

"I have to apologize for troubling you with so long a letter; but I must ask you to observe the very small amount that we have had occasion to spend upon lodgings. This shows, I think, the great advantage of this part of our plan over the "refuge" system. Indeed, the whole of our plan works satisfactorily; our only difficulties are those which are beyond our power to remedy, —human depravity,—and in some cases a scarcity of employment."

The same benevolent design which has originated the two experiments last adverted to, has exhibited itself under another phase in the "Industrial Home," first opened in November 1856, at Wakefield, under the auspices of Mr. Shepherd, the Governor of the House of Correction for the West Riding in that town. I allude to this institution with the more satisfaction as it has established beyond a doubt that it is possible by good management to render the experiment self-supporting, a condition without which no permanent success can be depended upon.

The Industrial Home consists of an old building formerly used as a warehouse, in close poximity to the prison, consisting of three floors, in which are several frames for mat making; that being the only trade as yet carried on, with the exception of some shoe making and tailoring, done by individuals already instructed in those trades. When a prisoner who is about to be liberated does not appear to have any prospect of immediate employment, the option of entering the "Home" is offered to him upon the condition that for the first month he shall receive no wages, food and lodging only being provided for him in return for his labour. This condition is imposed under the idea that he will not acquire before the expiration of a month sufficient skill in his craft to make his labour of greater value; but the period is shortened as soon as it is found that he can make a good mat. At the end of the period of probation he begins to receive wages, at the rate of 10*d.* for each well-made mat, a small deduction being made for those which are carelessly manufactured.

At the time that I visited the institution, in the last week of January, there were 54 persons employed, each, on an average, receiving for his labour 8*s.* 2*d.* In the previous month the average wages received by each were 8*s.* 9*d.*, but at that time 1*s.* was the rate of payment for making a mat. Some were receiving 12*s.* or 15*s.* a week.

The inmates do not sleep on the premises, but lodgings are found for them in the town; the rent being paid for the learners by the establishment, but by the inmates themselves when receiving wages. A very sufficient dietary is provided for the learners, which those receiving wages are often glad to avail themselves of, at a charge of 4*s.* per week, as they cannot procure for themselves so good and wholesome a dietary at the same cost.

Of 366 destitute persons discharged from prison between the 4th of November 1856 and the 31st of March 1857, 89, or 24 per cent., have been received into the Home. Besides these, 34 applicants, not from the prison, have been received, making 123. 42 remained in the Home on the day last named, and of the 81 who had voluntarily quitted it, or been dismissed, 11 had returned to prison, or 17 per cent.

It has been proposed to build a workroom for carrying on the manufactures done in the prison, and a plan was shown me which appeared suitable for the purpose, by which a room would be obtained at very small expense, measuring 49 feet by 10 feet.

The articles of diet examined by me were of good quality, but the soup is not made according to the formula certified for adoption by the Secretary of State. The error consists in making the soup of the liquor in which the meat (to be given to the prisoners on the following day) has been boiled, with some vegetable additions, omitting the solid meat, of which each pint should contain three ounces. I have to observe that if there is any suspicion that the meat ordered by the certified dietary is superfluous, an amended formula should be submitted for approval; but until that be done the present formula should be strictly adopted.

The prison was very clean within and apparently in good repair, but the exterior required some slight repairs, especially the plastering of the part not built of stone and the inside of the boundary wall,

The Chaplain and Surgeon attend at the prison twice a week, and the latter comes when sent for to examine prisoners on admission. The chaplain does not converse privately with prisoners, but speaks to them individually only on their admission and discharge.

The expenditure and receipts of the prison are shown in the following abstract :—

No change has been made in the construction of the prison calculated to diminish the evils of close association so often complained of in former reports, but as plans have been certified by the Secretary of State for a very considerable enlargement of the prison, and for the adoption therein of the separate system of discipline, and as in the course of the period which will elapse before the publication of this report the foundations of the new building are expected to be laid, I feel it unnecessary to call further attention to these deficiencies upon the present occasion. It is intended to occupy the winter in laying the foundation of the new boundary wall, and very early in the ensuing spring to commence the work of the main building. A new drain has already been made, which will, of course, be equally available hereafter.

The articles of food examined by me were of very good quality. The bedding was clean, but no sheets have yet been adopted, except for the sick. I feel it necessary again to urge the expediency of this improvement, which has now been almost universally adopted, and which, where it has been introduced, has been found as conducive to economy as to cleanliness.

A more important deficiency is that of a schoolmaster, no individual having yet been appointed in that capacity. The chaplain, in addition to his proper clerical functions, gives some elementary instruction to the prisoners, and there is a sufficient assortment of books for the use of those whose degree of education admit of their availing themselves of them; but there is still a large number of prisoners quite destitute of instruction. The chaplain, after the daily services in the chapel, often instructs the prisoners in the church catechism, and occasionally converses separately with them.

The prison was very clean throughout, and good order is maintained at the expense of a small amount of punishment. The operation of the treadwheel raises a large quantity of water, which is turned to good account in periodically flushing the drains.

No complaint of any consequence was made by any of the prisoners.

Two of the male prisoners were employed on the tread mill; the rest, including the woman, were picking oakum. The latter had been in prison between 20 and 30 times for assaults committed during intoxication. Two of these imprisonments had been of 6 months duration, and the present is for 12 months.

The cells and passages were very clean, as well as the bedding; but the recommendation so frequently made of sheets had not been adopted, in which the prison forms an exception to most others.

The yards are generally paved, a measure of almost absolute necessity in this humid climate, but no steps have been taken to pave the yard belonging to the untried male prisoners, although I am given to understand that it is intended to pave it very shortly. The women's washhouse, recommended in the last report, has not yet been made, although very much needed, as the women are now obliged to do the washing either in the open air or in a passage very unsuitable to the purpose.

The following abstract shows the expenditure and receipts of the prison in the last year:—

The visiting magistrates, either singly or collectively, attend at the prison 4 or 5 times in a quarter; but a custom prevails of requiring the bills to be taken for inspection to the clerk's office, which seems to be inconvenient in a prison with so limited a staff, besides which it deprives the prison of the advantage of the quarterly meeting of the visiting justices.

ABERYSTWITH.—COUNTY GAOL AND LOCK-UP HOUSE.

Since the date of the last report upon this prison, arrangements have been made under which prisoners for trial and those under summary conviction are conveyed to the County Gaol at Cardigan, I am assured that no prisoner is now kept at this place after his conviction or committal for trial.

Ninety-four male and eleven female prisoners have passed through the prison in the last year, and the whole cost of the maintenance of the establishment was 81*l.* 9*s.* 5*d.* There were three prisoners in confinement on the day of my last inspection, but they were removed to Cardigan on the following day.

The prisoners when questioned made no complaints.

Those who were under sentence of hard labour were employed on the wheel; the others were either at oakum picking or engaged in their own trades. The women do the washing, mending clothes, oakum picking, and needlework.

All the prison was very clean and orderly, the bedding and clothing in good order, a single sheet being allowed, with blankets, and a rug to each prisoner.

A pension has been given to the chaplain on account of his being disqualified by age, and a successor has been appointed. It is much to be lamented that no schoolmaster has yet been engaged, as in the long imprisonments which often take place here much might be done in instructing prisoners in knowledge which would greatly tend to their moral improvement.

The duties of the chaplain are very regularly performed, and the prisoners are very frequently seen by him privately. The frequent instructions he gives to the prisoners supply in some measure the want of a regular schoolmaster.

The surgeon attends almost daily. There has been little disease of any kind in the prison in the last year.

The food was of good quality, and sufficiently abundant for the maintenance of health.

The following table shows the total number confined in the course of the last year under each denomination, and a comparison with the preceding year as to the gross amount:—

The accommodation for male criminal prisoners and debtors is quite sufficient, but the same lamentable deficiency exists in that for females which has been adverted to in former reports, no less than fourteen women and two children having been confined in the five beds in the females' division. More than one plan of remedying this defect has been suggested, and I may observe that one of them only appeared to me suitable for the purpose; that, namely, which contemplates the enclosure within the walls of an adjacent piece of garden ground, without which, in my opinion, the space would be too confined.

In the last year there have been 37 prisoners committed under the Criminal Justice Act, of whom 9 were females.

P.S.—With reference to the defective accommodation for female prisoners, alluded to above, I have great satisfaction in inserting the following extract from a report of the visiting justices to the Michaelmas Sessions, which, having been very ably advocated by Sir James John Hamilton, Bart., was unanimously adopted, and will, it is hoped, by the accomplishment of the plan therein suggested, effect a remedy for the deficiencies complained of.

"The visiting justices feel that they should be guilty of a dereliction of their duty did they not press upon the earnest and immediate attention of the Court, the very inadequate and defective accommodation for female prisoners that exists within the precincts of the gaol. The only day-room, which is also used as a washhouse, allotted to these unhappy inmates measures but 13 feet in length, 8 feet 10 inches in breadth, and 8 feet 2 inches in height. Their sleeping cells, of which there are but three, measure respectively :—

No. 1.—12 feet in length, 6 feet 9 inches in breadth.

No. 2.—12 feet in length, 6 feet 10 inches in breadth.

No. 3.—9 feet 3 inches in length, 6 feet 8 inches in breadth.

The height of No. 1 being 8 feet, and of Nos. 2 and 3, 8 feet, sloping to 4 feet 3 inches respectively.

"In these dormitories there are five bedsteads, and the maximum number of females that has occupied them during the present year, at one and the same time, is 13, and 2 children; the minimum, 4; and the average 8.

"The visiting justices take leave further to draw the attention of the Court to the limited extent of the yard, but 670 superficial feet, appropriated to the female prisoners for the combined purposes of a yard for exercise, and for drying linen.

"They would also advert to the want of a receiving room for prisoners on admission, of a proper schoolroom, of a laundry and drying room, of a store room, and of a suitable office for the Governor, which might also serve as a magistrates' room. These deficiencies, as well as some others which might be enumerated, have been severely animadverted upon by Her Majesty's Inspector of Prisons.

"The manner in which these evils might best be remedied has occupied the serious and anxious attention of the visiting justices:—They are unanimously of opinion that the most effectual remedy would be an enlargement of the prison on the south-west side, by taking in a portion of the Cursitor's garden, and erecting thereon suitable accommodation; although the portion of the garden that immediately abuts the prison wall in that direction does not belong to the county, yet were this idea entertained by the Court, the Committee do not anticipate that any difficulty would arise in purchasing from the noble proprietor the small portion of ground that would be required, or in effecting an exchange with his Lordship for a corresponding plot of ground in some other portion of the garden.

"While the visiting justices desire to record their unanimous conviction that the above plan would best meet the existing requirements, they at the same time deem it right to inform the Court that the expense which it would involve would amount in round numbers to about 1,800*l.*

"The plan that has already been submitted to the Court for the erection of a new residence for the Governor, and the appropriation of his present quarters to the use of the female prisoners, would embrace an estimated expenditure of 731*l.* 12*s.*, and, by occupying an additional area within the walls of the prison, necessarily curtail the free circulation of air.

"Should the Court decline to entertain the idea of enlarging the prison, the visiting justices would respectfully suggest that a sum not exceeding 500*l.* be intrusted to them, with authority forthwith to expend it, or such portion of it as might be required in such improvements, under due professional supervision of the female portion of the prison as would prevent it continuing to be no less discreditable to the county than repugnant to every feeling of propriety and decorum."

The gaoler, in his report to the same Sessions, referred to the fact of his having discharged, on her arrival, a female prisoner, sent to him in August, upon a warrant dated in April, for imprisonment for a week, conceiving that the period of imprisonment should be reckoned from the date of the warrant of commitment. As the conduct of the gaoler in this case had given rise to much discussion, application had been made to the Secretary of State, who had confirmed the view taken by the gaoler.

The cases of the convicted prisoners are inserted in the Appendix, p. 85. The debtor was under sentence of 40 days' imprisonment by order of the County Court.

The male prisoners were mostly employed in picking oakum, in mat making, in making spun yarn, in platting coir, and in weaving light mats. The female prisoners were sewing and picking oakum. The men are required, after being in confinement a fortnight, to pick 7 lbs. of oakum, the women 4 lbs. The former have the assistance of a stove, which is wanting to the latter.

Digitized by Google

The prisoners, of whom a few could speak English, made many complaints of the rule by which they were obliged to pick so large a quantity of oakum of whatever quality the rope might be from which it is made; and also of the custom of depriving them of their meals in default of picking the whole amount required. I shall refer to these complaints hereafter.

No change has been made in the construction of the prison, except that a door has been opened by which the female prisoners can enter their part of the prison without passing through the debtors' division.

The main defects of the prison remain as described in former reports. The cells are equally confined; the punishment cells and those for newly received prisoners are not warmed. Untried and convicted prisoners are still kept together, contrary to law, from the want of room to separate them. The Visiting Justices whom I met at the prison are feelingly alive to all those defects, as well as to the insecurity of the prison (from which three male prisoners escaped only a few weeks before my visit, by the aid of the female prisoners, who held the cord while the men employed it to scale the wall), and are quite persuaded that the only means of applying a suitable remedy to them would be to rebuild the prison upon another site (a conclusion in which I entirely concur), but plead the impossibility of procuring the requisite funds at the present moment. The same plea is urged against the adoption of any measure calculated to give temporary and partial relief, as it is thought unwise to spend any money upon a building which it is hoped, although scarcely expected, will soon be replaced by a better.

The following table shows the number of prisoners of all kinds who have been confined in the last year, the total being compared with that of the previous year:—

The duties of the chaplain and those of the surgeon are the same as those described in former reports, but I regret to say that there is no longer any schoolmaster employed, the very meritorious officer who formerly performed that function being now a warder, and his place not being supplied. Although the chaplain, by his acquaintance with both the languages spoken by the prisoners, is enabled to have private intercourse with all, it is much to be regretted that his labours are not assisted by the efforts of some person qualified to communicate to the prisoners the elements of instruction. As might have been anticipated the loss of this auxiliary is much deplored by the reverend gentleman alluded to.

I have referred above to the complaints made to me by prisoners that when they have not finished their work at supper time the supper is withheld from them by the Governor, and that they are sometimes obliged to work until 10 o'clock at night. These complaints, on inquiry, were found to be quite confirmed by the evidence of the books and the admissions of the Governor, some of the prisoners having had many meals withheld on this and other grounds, and one of them, who had been nearly 12 months confined, having suffered this privation no less than 60 times. It having been clearly shown, in the case of another prison, that the Governor has no power to inflict for any offence a greater punishment than 3 days' solitary confinement on bread and water, referring to the Visiting Magistrates cases of repetition of the offence, I explained the law upon this point to the Governor, who readily undertook to abandon the practice complained of.

Justice requires that I should refer to some other complaints of a more serious nature, as they were fully confirmed by the evidence of the subordinate officers.

G. H. a prisoner, said that on Sunday the 10th of August he had his bread weighed by the head turnkey, who found it under weight, but that it was not made up to him. The turnkey, although not recollecting the particular day mentioned by the prisoner, admits that he has several times found this prisoner's bread short of weight,—that he generally made it up, but that on one occasion he was not allowed to do so, on the ground that the full weight had been sent out, although he was sure that the prisoner could not have made away with it.

G. H. further stated that on the 17th of the same month his bread was short of weight two ounces, but that it was made up to him by the other turnkey; that on the following day, suspecting that his bread was again short, he had it weighed, and it was found of full weight; and that the Governor stopped his supper for having given the officer the trouble to weigh it. This statement was fully confirmed by the turnkey, who stated that he had entered in his journal the fact of the bread being of full weight, expressly stating that the man had not been insolent, and that he had only entered the occurrence in order to show at a future time that it was of full weight. The Governor, however, deprived the man of his supper by a marginal order to this effect: "Supper stopped, as he is never satisfied."

G. H. further stated that on the 30th he had again complained of his bread being short, and that the same turnkey found it on weighing to be two ounces short; that the Governor would not give him the difference, saying that the deficient portion must have fallen into the soup. The turnkey fully confirmed the prisoner's statement in every particular, and added his firm belief that the missing bread had not fallen into the soup.

I have selected these cases of complaint because they were fully established upon the evidence of the turnkeys, given in the Governor's presence.

The punishment and reception cells are so cold that it is improper to keep prisoners in them at night. I have so frequently described the sleeping cells of the prisoners that I need only say that they continue as unsuited to their purpose as formerly.

Sheets have been adopted since the date of the last report, and the economy resulting from the change is spoken of as very considerable.

The male prisoners under sentence were engaged in picking and platting coir, and in making brushes and matting in the intervals of treadmill labour. Those excused from the treadmill on account of infirmity are confined to the lighter kinds of labour adverted to. Employment in picking coir is given to those untried prisoners who desire it. Convicted prisoners not sentenced to hard labour have light labour provided for them if they are well conducted; but if their conduct is not satisfactory they have to walk round the yard while the better-behaved men are at work.

The number of prisoners has been so much reduced of late that there has seldom been any necessity to place two prisoners in one bed. In the last year it has never been necessary to do so, except in the reception cell. The following table shows the numbers of the several classes in confinement in the course of the year:—

The cells were very clean, as were also the passages and every part of the prison. Sheets are not provided for prisoners of either sex, except in the infirmary. The clothing and clogs of the prisoners are made in the prison, and appeared in good order.

When prisoners have been well conducted they sometimes receive on their discharge a small assistance, varying from 3*d.* to 2*s.* 6*d.* In some instances sums of much greater amount have been advanced to them under special circumstances.

A great improvement has been effected in the present year by the appointment of a schoolmaster who attends for two hours every evening and instructs the prisoners in a class, the two turnkeys being present. The prisoners are instructed in reading, writing, and arithmetic.

An order has been made for laying on gas throughout the prison.

The duties of the chaplain are the same as those that have been described in former reports. The surgeon's attendances are very frequent, and his attention to the complaints of the prisoners is highly spoken of.

P.S.—Since writing the above I have had the pleasure to learn that, in compliance with my recommendation, sheets have been supplied to all prisoners, and gas has been laid on throughout the prison.

FLINTSHIRE.

FLINT.—COUNTY GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

The following prisoners were present on the last inspection :—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Convicted at Assizes or Sessions -	5	2	7
Summarily convicted - - -	3	1	4
	8	3	11

The particulars of the cases of these prisoners will be found in the Appendix. None of the prisoners made any complaints, although privately questioned.

The male prisoners were employed in mat-making, oakum-picking, and stone-breaking; the females in making shirts for the male prisoners. One of the women had an infant with her.

The supply of water which was alluded to in the last report as having been deficient has not failed since that time. The building is in very good repair, but there are some alterations which seem to me to be absolutely necessary. The most important of these is the building of a day-room for the County Court debtors, who have at present no shelter of any kind except their bedroom, with which their airing yard has of course no communication. This is rendered necessary by the distinction which the law has made between the debtors of this class and the sheriff's debtors, the latter of whom are very well off in accommodation, having a very comfortable day-room to which they can at any time retire. I would suggest that the County surveyor be consulted as to the best mode of providing the day-room recommended, without incurring the risk of escape. Another but smaller alteration, which is not less necessary, is the insertion of a draining pipe to carry off the rain water which comes from the roof in front, and the stone-breaking shed should have an opening for ventilation made in the roof, but capable of being occasionally closed. A new cooking apparatus has been put up since the date of the last report.

The prison was generally very clean throughout, as were the clothing and bedding of the prisoners. Sheets are allowed to all the prisoners except those for the shortest sentences. These ought on every account to be included, as cleanliness and economy would be thereby at once consulted.

The chaplain continues to visit the prison three times a week, but he does not generally stay and converse with the prisoners. The schoolmaster comes from the National school 5 times a week for 1½ hour each day.

The surgeon, who lives at Mold, attends twice a week regularly, and is sent for by a special messenger in case of being required on any extraordinary occasion.

The punishments are few in number, and not marked with much severity.

The labour usually performed by the convicted male prisoners is that of the treadmill, but as that machine was out of repair and would require some weeks to set it in order, there was unfortunately no labour for them to do. Oakum-picking is done to a small extent, but there is great difficulty experienced in procuring junk to pick.

The women were employed in oakum-picking, knitting stockings, and doing the washing and mending for the prison. Among them was a mad woman sent from Merthyr for a month, who, being extremely violent, ought to have been in the lunacy ward of a workhouse, but as her sentence was too short to admit of the proper steps being taken to procure her removal, she was placed under the charge of 3 of the best conducted prisoners. I allude to this case to point out the great inconvenience arising from the committal of insane persons to prison.

I forbear to repeat the observations I felt it necessary to make in my last report upon the improper crowding of the prisoners, and the consequent necessity for a new prison, as at the time of my visit the new prison was in progress of erection. As nearly a year must elapse, however, before any part of it will be habitable, the present system of indiscriminate association must continue for the present. It should be borne in mind that the present extent of the evil has been occasioned by the rapid increase of population which this County has experienced, almost exceeding that of any other locality in Great Britain.

Although at the time of my last inspection the number of prisoners was below the greatest amount that had been in confinement, it was necessary to lodge them so closely that it was difficult to conceive how the larger number had been accommodated. The following table shows the number confined in the previous year:—

The difficulties encountered by the Governor in providing room for all the prisoners in times of the greatest pressure is a source of great anxiety to him, as he is actuated by the most conscientious desire to discharge his trust in the best manner, and has the greatest difficulty in so disposing of the prisoners as to avoid a violation of the law. His efforts would be much assisted and his time saved for the more important duties of his office, if a clerk were engaged to conduct the book-keeping, the preparation of returns, and other matters for which the Governor is now responsible.

The increased population of the prison imperiously demands that a much larger portion of the chaplain's time should be devoted to his duties, an alteration which will be absolutely required when the new building shall be completed.

It is due to the chaplain to mention that his salary is only 40*l.* per annum, although the law would sanction a salary for the chaplain of such a prison of 150*l.*

The office of schoolmaster was vacant at the time of my inspection, but I was assured that it was about to be filled by a new appointment.

SWANSEA.—COUNTY GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

The prisoners in confinement on the last day of inspection were as follows:—

	Male.	Female.	Total.
Prisoners for trial - - -	5	7	12

	95	34	129

There have been committed under the Criminal Justice Act since it first came into operation 74 males and 34 females.

The particulars of the cases of the convicted prisoners will be found in the Appendix. The debtor was confined by order of the County Court for 18 days.

From the great increase which has taken place in the population of this county, and especially of the district in which this prison is situated, the number of commitments has enormously increased. During the last few months the number in confinement has occasionally attained 159, of whom 38 were women. Much difficulty has of course been felt in providing accommodation for so large a number, and a brick building has been constructed as a dormitory to receive 40 men, by which some relief will be obtained.

The convicted prisoners were employed on the treadmill, in breaking stones, in oakum-picking, carpentry, sawing timber for the new building in progress, stone-dressing, and mason's work, tailoring, shoemaking, mat-making, and repairs of different kinds. The dormitory has been completed by prisoners' labour, with the aid of two free labourers. The whole cost for paid labour in the erection of this and the cook-room has been about 7*l*. The female prisoners are employed in knitting stockings and in making and mending for the prison. They also do all the washing and their spare time is filled up by oakum-picking.

The prisoners, on being questioned apart, made no complaints of any consequence.

It is needless to speak of the infractions of rule which have resulted from the great influx of prisoners, as they have been inevitable, and as the rapid progress of the new prison holds out an expectation that the time is at hand when they will no longer be necessary. It is only an act of justice to the Governor to allude to the ingenuity and activity with which he has effected the improvement referred to above, by which a large temporary increase of accommodation has been procured.

The portion of the new building now in progress contains 96 cells for males and 42 for females, besides baths and reception cells.

It is necessary again to refer to the very sparing amount of religious instruction afforded to the prisoners. In a prison of the size of that under consideration, and having a number of prisoners exceeding 100, the 4th of Geo. 4, cap. 64, enables the magistrates to engage the whole services of a clergyman at a salary not exceeding 250*l.* per annum. In this prison, however, a gentleman is appointed to the office with a salary of only 40*l.*; and the duties required of him being in proportion to his salary, it has been necessary in every report upon the prison for some years past to show how insufficient they are to meet the requirements of the prisoners. In the re-consideration of the duties and salaries of the officers which will be necessary before the new building is occupied, it will be most essential that the duties of this officer, and, of necessity, his salary also, should be taken into consideration.

SWANSEA.—DEBTORS' PRISON FOR THE LIBERTY OF GOWER.

This prison has been so often described in former reports that I feel it only necessary to refer to those descriptions to show how desirable it is that it should be abolished, and that the debtors of the Liberty of Gower, like those of the rest of the county, should be sent to the County Gaol of Cardiff.

The particulars of the constitution of the prison, and and of the Royal Charter by which it is placed under the sole control of His Grace the Duke of Beaufort, have been fully explained in the 16th, 18th, and 20th Reports on the Prisons of the Southern and Western District.

MERIONETHSHIRE.

DOLGELLY.—COUNTY GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

The only prisoners present on the last day of inspection were the following:—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
For trial - - -	2	0	2
Convicted at Assizes and Sessions	2	0	2

No female prisoners or debtors were in confinement. The number of prisoners committed to this prison has been very low for some time past, a circumstance partly attributed to the want of an efficient county police force.

The prisoners were engaged at the time of my visit in making mats of platted coir and in picking oakum; the untried at their own request being employed at the former kind of work.

The prison was very clean and orderly throughout. The bedding was also very clean, and I was glad to find that an order was about to be made for the adoption of sheets.

The chaplain appears to attend the prison more frequently than formerly; but as five weeks sometimes elapse between the occasions on which he converses with prisoners, I cannot regard even this amount of duty sufficient to produce any sensible improvement in the characters of prisoners, to say nothing of those individuals among them who, being committed only for very short terms, may pass through the prison without a single opportunity of listening to the admonition of the chaplain.

The above remarks upon the rarity of the chaplain's visits puts in a stronger light the necessity that exists for the appointment of a schoolmaster. The small number of prisoners usually confined here renders it inexpedient, perhaps, to engage the whole services of a schoolmaster, but I see no reason why some teacher from a neighbouring school might not be engaged to give a portion of his time to the instruction of the prisoners.

The following table shows the total number of prisoners who have been confined in the last year:—

MONTGOMERYSHIRE.

MONTGOMERY.—COUNTY GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

No change had been made in the construction of the building since the date of the last report. It appeared in good repair, and very clean throughout. The bedding was clean, but the blankets of the prisoners had the appearance of being very thin and discoloured, no doubt from the frequency with which it is necessary to wash them, from the circumstance of no sheets being allowed. In almost all the prisons with which I am acquainted sheets have been adopted with a view to economy quite as much as to cleanliness and health, and although in many instances this has been done very unwillingly from an impression that the use of sheets would be regarded as a luxurious indulgence, and would cause an unnecessary expense, it has always been found very conducive to economy in saving the wear of the blankets, and so far from being regarded as an indulgence by the prisoners who have been unaccustomed to their use, the obligation to use them has been objected to by them as a grievance, only equalled by the rule which requires them to practise daily ablution.

The prisoners present on the last day of inspection were the following:—

Complaints were made to me by three of the long sentenced prisoners of their strength having been for some time declining, owing to the insufficiency of the allowance of food. I carefully examined these prisoners, and was clearly of opinion that two of them were reduced to such a state of exhaustion that their health was likely to suffer permanent injury. I therefore brought the cases to the notice of the surgeon as the person intrusted by the law with the power and obligation to act in such cases

The greater number of the male prisoners were employed at the time of my visit on the treadmill; one man was breaking stones, and the rest were unemployed. The women were engaged in needlework.

The supervision over the prisoners is most insufficient, as is apparent from the fact that there are only 2 turnkeys to overlook the prisoners in 4 yards, 2 of which contain treadmills. In the day-room there is no supervision at all.

With the female prisoners the case is even worse, as the matron has no female officer under her orders, and there are 2 yards and a washhouse or workroom, besides the day-room of the unconvicted women requiring the eye of an officer.

The duty required of the chaplain is on the most limited scale, it being confined to the performance of one Sunday service a week. I understand from that gentleman that he generally pays also one voluntary visit in the course of each week, in the course of which he speaks to some of the prisoners apart from their companions, but in the same yard where the others are assembled, with what effect towards the amendment of the character it is unnecessary to observe upon. But allowing that contrary to the universal experience elsewhere, these occasional conversations in the presence of the other prisoners are attended with any good effect, they must be allowed to be very insufficient in a prison in which they constitute the only attempt to effect moral improvement. I have had occasion in former reports to point out the strong necessity that exists for appointing a schoolmaster, but that want has not yet been supplied, neither are there any books except the Bible, the Prayer-book, and some religious tracts for the instruction of those who are able to read.

The punishments are very few in number, and not generally severe, but one prisoner has received corporal punishment for violent conduct to the Governor.

The articles of food examined by me were of good quality, but the dietary for long sentenced prisoners seems to me deficient in nutriment. The soup, of which the long sentenced prisoners have 3 pints in a week, contains only 3 ounces of meat per pint, weighed with the bone, whereas in general the meat is weighed without the bone. The surgeon, whose attention to the sick is highly spoken of, assures me that this circumstance has not escaped his notice, and that he is quite aware that his power to order extra diet is not confined to cases in which prisoners are suffering from disease, failure of strength being as much to be guarded against as actual disease. There are not as yet any reception cells, so that he cannot comply with the provision of the law which requires him to examine prisoners before they are received into the general prison.

Several complaints were made by long sentenced prisoners of the insufficiency of the food and its want of variety, and I can state from personal examination of the complainants that the representations were well founded. I have frequently before represented the dietary of this prison to be unfit to maintain the strength of prisoners under long sentences. In reply to these complaints the magistrates urge that the diet is the same as that of the peasantry. This, however, I beg to observe is a fallacious view of the matter. It is true that the bread, which is made of barley alone, is the same bread as is consumed by the peasantry of the country, but the total privation of animal and fresh vegetable food has no parallel among the peasant population. I confidently state, upon the credit of a long medical experience, that few persons can undergo these privations, for the long terms to which these prisoners are occasionally subjected to them, without serious injury to their vital powers, and the risk of shortening their lives. I have already on former occasions reported upon the great prevalence of scurvy in the prison, occasioned no doubt by the same error in diet. On the present occasion, although this disease was not apparent, I found three cases of very great reduction of strength, calling in my opinion for increased nourishment.

Digitized by Google

In theory the interference of the surgeon is supposed to prevent any bad consequences, such as I have described, but there are very few medical officers in prisons who would venture to order an improved dietary except in the case of positive disease, whereas it is well known to all thinking men that a man's strength may be seriously undermined by privation of sufficient nutriment, without his exhibiting any such symptons as would characterize a recognized disease. In the case of this prison there is a difficulty altogether peculiar, the surgeon living at 5 miles distance is precluded from the performance of much of the duty which properly devolves upon that officer, and in all cases of emergency is represented by another gentleman living in the town, who is in no degree responsible to the magistrates for the duty he undertakes. This arrangement I cannot but regard as extremely inconvenient.

Another complaint was made by an untried prisoner that although by the rules of the prison he was allowed to purchase food for himself, that permission was rendered nugatory by his being deprived, by the officer who took him, of all his money. Upon inquiry of the Governor I learned that the practice complained of is very general. As the offence for which the prisoner was committed was an assault, it could not be urged that the money found upon him was required as evidence upon his trial, and the Governor suggested that it was probably taken to pay his carriage to prison. If this were the correct solution it appears to me that the man's complaint was just, as I am not aware of any power possessed by the police to make an untried prisoner pay for his conveyance to gaol, the only object of which is to secure his presence at his trial.

The passages, cells, and bedding were very clean, but the persons of some of the prisoners were very dirty. Sheets are allowed to all prisoners in compliance with my recommendation.

The following table shows the number of prisoners of each denomination in confinement in the last year, and the total amount in the preceding year:—

The male prisoners were generally engaged on the treadmill and in picking oakum. The females in washing and baking.

The surgeon, in consequence of the distance at which he resides, is unable to comply with the law which requires the examination of all prisoners on admission, neither does he keep any record of their state of health.

The chaplain attends on Sundays and Fridays to perform divine service and to read prayers, and as appears by his journal he speaks to the prisoners individually on the first Friday in every month. It is too obvious to need remark that this amount of religious instruction cannot be expected to be productive of much amendment of character in the prisoners, as it must often happen that a prisoner leaves the gaol without having had a single opportunity of being spoken to by the chaplain. No schoolmaster is employed, nor are there any books for the prisoners who are capable of reading except the Bible and Prayer-book.

The cases of the convicted prisoners are shown in the Appendix. The debtor, H. P., had been nearly three months in custody for contempt of the Court of Chancery. The gaoler was absent, and as he does not keep any journal of occurrences, I was unable to obtain information upon some points relative to the management of the prison, upon which it would have been desirable that I should be informed. His son was nominally on duty for him during his absence, but without any formal authority. As he holds no appointment of any kind in the prison, he cannot properly be employed as his father's substitute without a special order in writing from the visiting justices.

Some of the suggestions in the last report have been complied with, as, for example, the adoption of sheets for all prisoners, the putting up of a stove in the hall which indirectly heats the chapel, and the purchase of some books for the use of the officers as journals. With reference to the latter I must observe that the journal of the surgeon being written without any regard to the columns, in which the particular facts should be recorded, is of little value as a record of the cases.

An alteration is in contemplation for the separation of young prisoners from those of adult age, but no schoolmaster has been engaged. The prisoners have still no means of washing themselves except in the presence of each other.

The male prisoners were employed in breaking stones; the only female in washing.

No complaint of any kind was made by any prisoner, although they were all separately interrogated.

The greater number of prisoners under sentence of hard labour, were on the treadmill or employed in the works appertaining to the buildings, to be afterwards referred to. Those who are not under sentence of hard labour, and the untried prisoners have no regular employment, except breaking stones and cleaning the prison. It would be very desirable to have oakum to pick, but until the completion of the railway from Plymouth, the difficulty of obtaining the junk to pick will continue to be very great. One man was employed as a tailor, one as a shoemaker, and one as a maker of scrubbing brushes.

The following Table shows the number of prisoners confined in the year 1855, under their several denominations:—

Forty-three men and seventeen women have been committed under the Criminal Justice Act, since it came into operation, in September 1855.

A very extensive improvement was in progress at the time of my visit in the erection of a new prison. The foundation was laid of the new boundary wall, which will enclose an area of much larger extent than that now occupied by the prison. The stone for the new buildings is being quarried upon the premises, and the labour of prisoners (for which the contractors will pay the county) will be extensively employed on the buildings.

The building was as usual extremely clean throughout, as well as the clothes and bedding of the prisoners, but no sheets are allowed to any of the prisoners, except in the infirmary. It seems to me very desirable both on the ground of economy and on that of cleanliness, that sheets should be allowed, and I would advise that they should be of coarse cotton.

The debtors should have gas light in their day rooms, as few can afford lights, and they consequently pass the whole of the long winter evenings in darkness.

The treadmill grinds all the corn for the use of the prison, and the bread is of excellent quality.

Two prisoners for trial made their escape from the sleeping berths in the gaol division of the prison some months before my visit, and had not been captured. This is not much to be wondered at, considering the flagrant faults of construction in the present building; but, as a new prison is in the course of construction, there is good reason to hope that the high qualifications of the present governor will, in the course of a year from this time, have a more favourable field of operation.

The infirmary contained four cases of sickness, one of which was likely to terminate fatally. The surgeon's kindness and attendance to the sick are highly spoken of.

The punishments are not of a severe character, and not by any means numerous, when the construction of the gaol, admitting all kinds of irregularity, is taken into account.

FALMOUTH.—BOROUGH GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

The following prisoners were in confinement on the last day of inspection :—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Convicted at sessions - -	2	0	2
Summarily convicted - -	6	1	7

The particulars of their cases will be found in the Appendix. The prisoners made no complaint of their treatment within the prison; but some seamen complained of what they considered the undue severity of their sentences, concerning which, the gaoler in my presence, undertook to furnish them with the means of writing a petition to the Secretary of State.

With reference to the condition of the prison on the score of want of accommodation, I have only to repeat the same narrative which has occupied the greater part of every report I have made upon it. The small confined cells were occupied on the night preceding my visit by two and three prisoners each, thus crowding the cells, and in the first case, disregarding of the law, which forbids the putting of two male prisoners together in a cell.

In the building on the east side, which is divided into two equal parts, were confined a man on one side, and a woman on the other, using the same airing yard, which is not even divided as it might be by a wall or even a wooden partition. The woman was not allowed a bedstead or blankets, the bedding consisting of a dirty flock bed, some rugs, and one dirty sheet. The men sleep in hammocks with no bedding but rugs, blankets and sheets not being allowed them. No prison dress is furnished to the prisoners nor any shoes, so that they are compelled to wear out their own clothes during their imprisonment. The yards being paved with round stones, and the prisoners being employed in oakum picking, the destruction of their shoes and clothes is very rapid.

No religious teacher of any denomination is attached to the prison; but a Wesleyan missionary, who is paid by some charitable individuals, attends two or three times a week.

When any Roman Catholic is in confinement, the priest comes to see him daily. The rector comes in about three or four times a year, but he has no stipend for his services.

Some of the visiting justices, whom I met by appointment at the prison, expressed themselves very strongly upon the discreditable state of the prison, and promised their aid in procuring some improvement of it. Unless the prison be enlarged or a better one be built upon another site, it will probably be the best course to require, that all convicted prisoners be sent to the County Gaol; the improved accommodation in which, after the completion of the new building, will enable the county to consent to a contract with the borough.

No proper supervision can be exercised over the prisoners, as there is no male officer employed, except the governor, who also holds a police appointment in the town, which occupies much of his time.

HELSTONE.—BOROUGH GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

No prisoner was in confinement at the time of my last inspection.

SALTASH.—BOROUGH GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

Neither convicted prisoners nor those for trial are now retained in this prison, a contract having been made with the borough of Devonport for the maintenance of all prisoners in the prison of that borough. In the last year twenty-one males and one female prisoner have been so removed, and the cost of their maintenance over and above that portion paid by the Treasury has been 23*l.* 3*s.*

PENZANCE.—TOWN GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

There were only four prisoners in confinement at the time of the last inspection. They were all under sentence; one for deserting his wife and family, the rest for disorderly conduct in the streets.

No change had taken place in the prison to which it is necessary to advert, except the appointment of a chaplain, with a salary arising from a legacy left by a private individual to endow the office. The chaplain attends about twice a week, reading prayers and speaking to the prisoners separately.

A custom has been adopted similar to that described before as prevailing in some other Cornish prisons of making a fresh appointment to the office of surgeon annually on the day of the mayor's accession, the office being in the gift of that functionary. If there were more for the surgeon to do this custom would be found inconvenient, but with so small a population confined the office is almost a sinecure.

The prison was very clean throughout. The punishments, considering the small number of prisoners in confinement, are very numerous as well as severe. It is not possible to form any opinion on the propriety of their infliction as the nature of the offences is seldom defined.

The expenditure in the year was 138*l.* 1*s.* 3*d.* of which 60*l.* 10*s.* was expended in salaries (the chaplain's not being included), and 32*l.* 16*s.* in food for prisoners.

The only labour performed in the prison is the picking of oakum, of which a considerable amount is performed for the use of Her Majesty's dockyard, and occasionally some stone-breaking. Some of the prisoners sentenced to hard labour are occasionally made to work at the hard labour crank; but, as there is happily only one of these worthless instruments in the prison, it cannot be used to any very mischievous extent. The women are employed in picking oakum, in washing, and in making and mending the prison clothing.

The punishments have been very few in number, and in only two instances have men been confined for a single day in the dark cell.

There have been no additions or alterations made in the course of the last year, and the building is in excellent repair. There is a very good supply of water of good quality, but it is discoloured by the action, as is supposed, of the iron pipes through which it is conveyed.

The attendances of the chaplain are very frequent, and divine service is almost daily performed. The chaplain also converses apart with prisoners in the cells, and superintends the operations of the schoolmaster and the purchase of books. The schoolmaster visits the prisoners in their cells in rotation, and is engaged about five hours a day in teaching. The supply of books is very good, and comprises many of general information as well as those of a strictly religious character. Only one book has been defaced in the last three months, and the injury in that case consisted in a woman having written her name in the book.

The surgeon visits the prison regularly three times a week, but in cases of urgency he comes as often as required. The prisoners are usually examined by him at the Guildhall before they are removed to the prison.

The expenditure and receipts on account of the prison are as follow:—

A custom prevails in this prison, as well as in that of the neighbouring borough of Devonport, of keeping all prisoners for terms not exceeding 14 days continuously in their cells during the whole of their imprisonment, unless exercise in the air shall be ordered for them by the surgeon. Having explained the sanitary objections to this unusual restriction to the governor and one of the visiting justices, I have reason to believe that it will be removed.

DEVONPORT.—BOROUGH GAOL AND HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

The prisoners present on the last day of inspection were as follow:—

	Male.	Female.	Total.
Prisoners for trial - - -	2	1	3
Convicted at assizes or sessions -	15	10	25
Under Criminal Justice Act -	5	1	6
Others summarily convicted -	16	3	19
Total - -	38	15	53

The cases of the convicted prisoners are referred to in the Appendix.

The prisoners, on being separately questioned, made no complaints. The males were employed in oakum-picking, and also in pumping water for the prison.

The same custom has prevailed here as at Plymouth prison, of withholding from the prisoners sentenced for terms not exceeding 14 days the advantage of daily exercise in the open air, unless it has been ordered for them by the surgeon on the ground of health. The governor who has only continued the custom which prevailed before his time readily undertook on my representation to discontinue the exceptional practice, and to give all prisoners daily exercise.

The prison was very clean and orderly, and the bedding and clothing were clean. The supply of bedding was, however, so deficient in quantity with reference to the increased number of prisoners that some were without sheets and others had additional sheets substituted for blankets. An order had been recently made, however, which, when executed, will remedy both those deficiencies.

The food of the prisoners was of good quality, and no complaint was made to me of any deficiency of quantity.

The chaplain attends daily, and reads prayers, and occasionally converses separately with all the prisoners several times during their stay. The schoolmaster gives class instruction to the prisoners four times a day, the prisoners being divided into that number of classes. The supply of books, including those of general instruction, is as limited as possible; but, small as it is, it is painful to state that a bill of 1*l.* 2*s.* 11*d.* for some necessary additions to the library ordered by the visiting justices had been demurred to by the town council shortly before my last inspection.

The number of prisoners who pass through this gaol in the course of the year has been nearly doubled in the last two years by the reception of the persons committed from the neighbouring district of the county, including the very populous town of Stonehouse. If the contract under which these additional prisoners are received is to continue, it will probably be necessary considerably to enlarge the prison.

There was one boy nominally aged 16, but apparently older, under sentence of six weeks' imprisonment in this prison, and two years' detention at Hardwicke Reformatory.

All the able-bodied prisoners were working on the treadmill, and the boys were picking hair for the beds. The females were engaged in washing and needlework. None made any complaints.

It is probable that the average number in the prison may be somewhat raised by the partial closure of Northleach prison.

An additional warder has been appointed in compliance with the recommendation in the last report, and some slight alterations have also been made which were therein recommended.

The prison was very clean throughout, as well as the clothing and bedding of the prisoners, to all of whom sheets are allowed.

No change has been made in the routine of duty of the surgeon and chaplain.

No schoolmaster has been expressly appointed, but one of the turnkeys, who is considered qualified for the task, is charged with the duty of instructing the prisoners. No addition, however, is made to his salary in consideration of that service.

Thirty-eight children under fifteen were committed to this prison in the last year; a very large number when viewed with relation to the whole number received.

NORTHLEACH—COUNTY HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

The greater facility that exists for conveying prisoners from Cheltenham and Cirencester to the County Gaol than to this prison has induced the magistrates to recommend that in future all the commitments from the former place and about two-thirds of those from the latter should be made to Gloucester Gaol. It is also intended that all prisoners sentenced by Quarter Sessions shall be withdrawn for the future from this prison. These alterations will cause a very great reduction in the number of prisoners at Northleach, a circumstance which has led to a proposal to dispense altogether with the services of a schoolmaster, and very much to reduce the ministration and salary of the chaplain, and to transfer a portion of his duties, and all those of the schoolmaster, to the governor.

With reference to these proposals I am bound to observe that the privation of the services of a schoolmaster renders the ministration of the chaplain the more necessary. Although the whole number of prisoners in the House of Correction will in future be very much reduced, there will be among those who will remain nearly as large a proportion sentenced to long periods of imprisonment as heretofore, for it is not proposed to send to Gloucester any of the prisoners from the divisions of Northleach, Fairford, Stow, Campden, or Winchcombe.

Of all the duties performed by a prison chaplain that of holding private communication with the prisoners is among the most indispensable, and it is proposed that under the new arrangement the chaplain should not be called upon to pay more than one weekly visit to the prison for that purpose, and that on an uncertain day. He will be required to perform divine service on Sundays, but the daily services will be read by the keeper. By this arrangement it may happen that a prisoner ten days in confinement may not have the advantage of a private interview with the chaplain during the whole of his stay.

If the keeper be qualified to perform the office of schoolmaster there would probably be no objection to his doing so; but it appears to me that the chaplain's attendance should take place at fixed hours, and twice, at least, in every week. There is great advantage to the prisoners in the regularity of the chaplain's visits. As he is the officer in whom they are the most accustomed to confide, they soon learn to look forward to his attendance, and to the opportunity it affords them of conversing with him, and the anticipation begets confidence and encourages good resolutions.

There were fifteen prisoners in confinement under summary conviction on the day of my last inspection, the particulars of whose cases will be seen in the Appendix. The greater number being sentenced to hard labour, work on the treadmill, but when there are any sentenced to simple imprisonment there is no kind of work in which they can be employed, so that they are completely idle unless some occupation in cleaning the prison can be given to them.

It would be better that all prisoners sentenced to imprisonment without labour should be sent to the County Gaol.

Seventy-one prisoners had been committed under the Criminal Justice Act up to the end of the first year.

The dietary is far too scanty for the maintenance of health and vigour, especially under the labour of the treadmill.

The dietaries of the prisons of this county present an anomaly not found elsewhere ; namely, that the well conducted prisoners confined for ten days and working at the treadmill are allowed a smaller quantity of food than those who, having been guilty of offences of an aggravated kind, are punished with close confinement under the 42d section of the Gaol Act. This will be seen by the following table :—

REPORT.

TO THE RIGHT HON. SIR GEORGE GREY, BART., G.C.B., HER MAJESTY'S PRINCIPAL SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE HOME DEPARTMENT.

SIR, London, 28th February 1857.

I BEG to present to you the Twenty-second Annual Report of the Inspector of Prisons for the District of Scotland, being that for the year just ended.

The separate reports show the Prisons I inspected in the course of the year, as well as the condition in which I found them. They include those in the Islands of Orkney, Shetland, Skye, and Mull; while the greater portion of the principal ones on the main land were visited several times.

It will be seen by these separate Reports, that the Prisons of Scotland generally, as well as those of the English Counties annexed to that district, are in good order and under excellent management; the only marked exception is the Borough Gaol of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, to which I have so often had occasion to direct your special attention, and to the separate report on which, I again respectfully request your notice, for the Prison is in no respect improved.

The general health throughout the district has been most satisfactory during the past year, and I have every reason to be satisfied with the system of discipline in operation in the Prisons of Scotland, which has also been adopted in Cumberland, and partially in Durham.

The experience of some years in the former Prisons, shows that crank labour, under judicious rules, may be worked with perfect safety; and although by some, it is objected to, as not being productive employment, I hold that the most productive labour to which a convicted prisoner can be subjected, is that which will prevent him, on his release, returning to the same employment, which I conceive crank labour is calculated to do.

The use of the guard bed, too, is found to have a most deterring effect, without being in the slightest degree detrimental to health; and many of the Governors of Scotch Prisons are anxious to have its use extended from one to two months after conviction, in the belief that nothing is so likely to induce a thief to consider the propriety of resuming an honest life, as an extended use of such beds.

The district of Scotland, I believe, is the only one in which prisoners are subjected to a like amount of penal discipline, in conjunction with the reformatory principle, and, from the experience I have had of its working, I am of opinion that the deterring system, as there carried out, might be extended with advantage to the public and to the ultimate benefit of the criminal.

In addition to the Prisons, I have in the course of the year visited, with one exception, the several Reformatory Schools in the District, certified under the Acts 17 & 18 Vict. cc. 74. & 86.

Some observations on these Reformatories will be seen in p. 67 of this Report, but I cannot help noticing in this place, as something remarkable, that so little advantage is taken in Scotland of the Act 17 & 18 Vict. c. 74, commonly called Mr. Dunlop's Act, seeing it is such a valuable instrument in the hands of magistrates, if carried out in all its integrity, yet, strange to say, while in Paisley there is one such reformatory, in Greenock two, in Perth three, in Ayr one, in Kilmarnock one, and in Arbroath one, all certified under that Act, yet, up to the 31st December last, there had not been ten children altogether committed under the Act to these nine institutions, although the streets of the populous towns I have mentioned, appear to be swarming with children of the lowest class.

For the usual statistical information on the Prisons of Scotland, I beg to refer you to the Eighteenth Report of the General Board of Directors, which has just been presented to Parliament.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your very obedient Humble servant,
JOHN KINCAID.

REPORT ON SEPARATE PRISONS.

IV. SCOTLAND.

ABERDEENSHIRE.

ABERDEEN PRISON.

[Inspected August 21, 1856.]

Present in confinement:—

West Prison	-	34 male criminals.
East Prison	-	10 male ditto.
„	-	19 female ditto.
„	-	2 male civil prisoners.
Total	-	65

They made no complaints entitled to notice.

Daily average number in confinement during the year, 74, being five less than the year preceding.

There had been no change in the prison buildings, nor in the management, with the exception that the services of a male warder had been dispensed with in consequence of the reduced number of prisoners.

The prison buildings were in good repair; the several cells and wards, as well as the clothing, bedding, and personal appearance of the prisoners, were all very clean and creditable to the management.

There had been very little sickness, and the general conduct had been good.

The only thing that seemed to call for special notice, was at finding a prisoner, named James Sharp, seven days in a dark cell, which had no ventilation except through the chinks of the cell door, which appeared to me to be a very insufficient ventilation for such confinements.

The usual employments here are, weaving, shoemaking, needlework, knitting, picking oakum, crank labour, &c.

The provisions are supplied by contract, and the accounts, after being duly audited, are settled annually.

The books appear to be well and regularly kept; the library is well supplied, and the education of the prisoners seems to be very satisfactorily conducted.

Aberdeen Prison.

I am indebted to Mr. Chalmers, the governor, for a report on the state of crime in Aberdeenshire, from which I quote a few tables of general interest.

"The number of committals during the year was as follows, viz.—

"TABLE I.

PRISONS.	CIVIL.			CRIMINAL.			CIVIL & CRIMINAL.			Daily Average Number.
	Males.	Females.	Both.	Males.	Females.	Both.	Males.	Females.	Both.
Aberdeen - -	45	1	46	376	265	641	421	266	687	66 222/365

Total - -	45	1	46	436	317	753	481	318	799	70 172/365

"During the year 1855, the number of criminal committals exceeded those of 1854 by 23 per cent., which I attributed mainly to circumstances connected with the late war. These circumstances having been removed, a reaction has taken place, and for 1856 the committals have decreased to a large extent, as appears from,—

"TABLE II.

Male criminals committed in 1855 - -	547
Do. do. 1856 - -	436
Decrease - -		111	= 20·2 per cent.
Female criminals committed in 1855 - -	383
Do. do. 1856 - -	317
Decrease - -		66	= 17·1 per cent.
Total decrease -		177	= 19 per cent.

"In the year 1849, the number of committals amounted to no less than 1,011, being 258 more than for the present year, from which it may be inferred that considerable improvement has taken place in the habits of the lower classes, more especially when the increase of the population during that period is taken into account.

"AGES of CRIMINAL PRISONERS committed during the Year.

Decrease in 1856 -	—	31	16	47	89	177

"The number of committals of boys not exceeding 12 years of age, is the same this year as in 1855; while there has been an increase of six in the committals of young girls. Of the nine committals of these girls, only one was to the prison of Aberdeen, two to the prison of Peterhead, and six to the prison of Fraserburgh. The decrease of the committals of juveniles, above 12 and under 16 years of age, is very gratifying, and may, it is hoped, be attributed in some measure to the enforcement of the Reformatory Act.

"Whilst it is satisfactory to find that there has been a considerable decrease this year in the number of new offenders, still it should not be overlooked that they compose upwards of one-half of the committals, and that a good many of them find their way back to prison. Already have 24 of these been re-committed once, and 10 of them twice. Amongst the old offenders, this year, there have been five who had obtained "Tickets of Leave." As this system is at present occupying so much of public attention, it may not be out of place to repeat here what I stated in regard to it in my Report for 1854:— "The Ticket-of-Leave system, I am fully convinced, will never answer in this country, where employment is often so difficult to be procured by the industrious and well-behaved. If a convict returns to the locality where his crimes were committed, he is regarded with suspicion by the honest, and assailed with temptation by the vicious. If he betakes himself to a strange place, his only character is his 'Ticket of Leave,' which at once discloses his previous history, and will generally shut the door to employment in his face. The sooner, in my opinion, that the system is changed, the better will it be both for the community and the convicts too." To this opinion I still adhere.

"During the years 1852, 1853, and 1854, the proportion of prisoners who had received no education gradually increased from 18 to 26 per cent., but during the last two years, it will be observed that there has been a decrease of three per cent. on this class of prisoners. Of the 175 stated above as not being able to read, 153 were committed to the prison of Aberdeen; and of these 45 males and 50 females had been imprisoned before; while 36 males and 22 females were new offenders. Of these last, 11 males and 9 females were charged with theft; and 7 males and 5 females were under 16 years of age.

"From the above it appears that, during the last two years, the proportion of prisoners belonging to the town has increased nearly seven per cent.; while there has been a decrease of four per cent. on county prisoners. Betwixt 1849 and 1854, the latter gradually increased from 18 to 24 per cent.; but last year a reaction took place, from which it may be inferred that a better state of matters is prevailing in the country

Daily average number in confinement during the year, 13, being three more than the year preceding.

There had been no alteration in the buildings, or in the management—very few cases of sickness,—and the general conduct had been good.

The chaplain remarks on the nature of the offences for which persons are committed to this prison:—"That were there no "spirits in the county, the jail might remain untenanted; this, "and not ignorance, is the prevailing origin of criminal acts "among us."

The library books are in passable order and very generally used.

The usual employments of the prisoners are sewing, knitting, netmaking, and teasing oakum.

The different supplies are purchased by the keeper, and the accounts settled quarterly.

The prison buildings were in good repair, and had undergone no change, except that the wall in the church-yard, formerly complained of as being built against the boundary wall of the prison, had been removed.

The duties of the chaplain and the surgeon seemed to be very regularly attended to. There had been very little sickness.

The general conduct had been good, but a desperate assault, with a view to escape, had been made on the warder on the 21st of September by a ticket of leave convict, while in the act of removing him from the airing yard to his cell.

I pointed out to the keeper that two cells, hitherto considered male cells, in the gallery adjoining the kitchen, ought only to be used for females, and that the debtors' apartment, which is very rarely required for civil prisoners, be used, when necessary, by male criminals, as by the former arrangements, the male prisoners had an opportunity of conversing with the females, in the same gallery, as well as hearing what was passing in the keeper's kitchen. Store room is very much wanted, and I beg to recommend, as the best and most convenient place for a store, to build it against the prison wall, adjoining the entrance door of the prison.

The Library is well supplied, and the books in good order.

The usual employments are, teasing oakum, &c.; the keeper complains that he has a difficulty in finding profitable employment.

The chaplain reports the library books to be generally read and well taken care of, but finds the supply rather too limited both in number and variety.

The chaplains, both here and at Ayr prison, remark—the latter more especially—that the most ignorant classes they find in the prison are the Roman Catholics; but that they show great willingness to learn and great aptness in acquiring learning, and that, though they are usually committed for offences caused by drunkenness, they are remarkably well behaved while in prison.

In the year ending December 1856, there had been a greater number of juvenile committals than for many years before; and it is to be regretted that there is no reformatory establishment in that part of the world for the reception of such offenders, for a prison is the last place to which one would wish to see children of tender years consigned, however grave the offence committed.

The daily average number during the year, 30, is 5 less than the year preceding.

At my first visit, I inquired into a complaint made to the General Board by the debtors confined in the prison, that their convenience was not sufficiently attended to by the officers. The only part of the complaint that I found entitled to notice, was the want of access to an adjoining water-closet, which, on the recommendation of the General Board, has since been remedied.

There has been no alteration in the discipline or management. There had been very little sickness. The general conduct had been good, and the punishments few and trifling.

The library was said to be extensively used, and the books generally well taken care of.

The usual employments here are, mat making, sewing, and knitting; teasing hair and oakum, and bruising oats.

At my last visit, I found two oat crushers at work, the weight of which labour appeared to be equal to 12 lbs. of crank labour, but those employed at the former task were relieved every two hours. The two machines are calculated to bruise 20 bushels of oats per day, for which they charge a penny per bushel. The price of one of the machines is about 4*l.* 10*s.*

The average daily number in confinement during the year was 359, being 16 less than the year preceding.

The buildings were in good order, and the following alterations were being made.

A new chapel has been erected, and will be ready for occupation about May. It is constructed upon the open plan with the exception of, or about 18 separate stalls, for such prisoners as may wish to be separate, or whom it may be desired to keep separate in chapel. It will accommodate about 300 prisoners.

Nine of the cells in the small prison have each had a window put into the side wall. These cells were formerly lighted from the roof, and the ventilation was not satisfactory. The alteration is a very great improvement.

Two new reception cells have been built.

Alterations of Prison Buildings.

The small prison called the lock-up house, having been long considered unsuitable for the purposes of a prison, was pulled down in the early part of the summer; and 12 cells in the buildings under the courts of law acquired by the board to be used as a lock-up house. The locality is, perhaps, not the very best, but the cells are large and well constructed. There are also two rooms for a keeper's house. The entrance to the cells will be from the Fishmarket Close, and the necessary fittings will be finished in the course of a short time. They will probably be ready for occupation in about two months.

There has been a further decrease in the total number of prisoners in custody. The number at 31st December 1855, was 332, and the number at 31st December 1856, was 301.

There has, however, been an increase in the commitments of juveniles below 14 years of age, as will be seen by the following table for four years ended 30th November last.

Dates.	Total Commitments.	Juveniles under 14.		Numbers between 14 & 16 years of age.
		Total.	Centesimal Proportion.
1853	5,872	117	1·9	295

1855	4,304	81	1·8	142
1856	4,247	137	3·2	134

Note.—The number of commitments of prisoners between 14 and 16 years of age it will be observed has slightly decreased.

There has been no change in the discipline or the management. The separate system has been adhered to as much as possible.

The prisoners appear to have been remarkably healthy throughout the year, and there had been only one death.

The chaplain's department continues to be very satisfactorily conducted, and he reports that the books are extensively read, and with advantage. The teachers were also reported to have been very zealous in the discharge of their duties.

The governor stated that the general conduct had also been good; the punishments recorded were neither numerous nor severe in character.

I tried the several cranks at work in separate cells; the prisoners employed at them did not appear at all distressed by the labour, nor did they make any complaint.

The buildings were in good repair, and the general arrangements remain the same as shown in my last report, with the exception of the cooking, which is now done by male prisoners under the superintendence of a male warder.

In March last, the warders were furnished with uniform for the first time, at the expense of the prison, which adds to their efficiency as well as to the respectability of their appearance.

The discipline of the prison seems to be rigidly attended to; there are 144 cells for criminals, and as the highest number in confinement during the year was 127, there had been no difficulty in carrying out separate confinement.

The prisoners have been very healthy during the year. There had been no cases of fever or other epidemic, and no deaths.

There is still no chapel, but divine service on Sundays, has been regularly performed by the chaplain, under the same arrangements that were introduced last year. A paid precenter has since been engaged to conduct the psalmody in the services.

The male teacher has been directed especially to devote his attention to the moral and religious improvement of the prisoners who are not entitled by the letter of the rules to claim educational instruction.

The governor reports that females have the utmost aversion to the crank-machine, and, in consequence, the number of punishments of old offenders for refusing to work at it, have been pretty numerous, otherwise the conduct of the prisoners generally had been good.

The governor remarks that drunkenness is one of the most frequent sources of re-commitments, and as he understands that the maximum term of imprisonment by law in Dundee, for drunkenness, is only seven days, he thinks it would be beneficial were the powers of the magistrates extended in dealing with old offenders of that class.

The governor considered that juvenile crime was on the decrease in Dundee, but still the numbers that continue to be committed were considerable; 24 boys had been sentenced to be whipped without imprisonment, and five to imprisonment in addition to whipping.

The prison buildings were in good order, and had undergone no alteration.

One female prisoner, with a child in her arms, complained that though a sufficient quantity of food was given her for the child, it was not of a kind suited to its age. I referred the case to the surgeon, who reported to me next day, that he had inquired into it, and that there was no ground whatever for the complaint.

A male prisoner, named David Mitchell, complained that he was obliged to sleep on a sort of bench on which he was then sitting; it was seemingly about 2 feet wide, and 4¼ feet long, and standing a considerable height; on turning to the governor for an explanation, he said that the prisoner, according to rule, ought to sleep on a guard bed, but as they were all occupied, the bench in question was the nearest thing to it that he had in the prison; I pointed out that it was not fit for any person to sleep on, and as a guard bed was the extreme penal sleeping to which a prisoner could be subjected, he ought to have substituted something better rather than worse, if he had no guard bed to give.

On further inquiry into the case of this prisoner, I found he had been sentenced for trespassing, to three periods of confinement, the first for two months, the second and third for 21 days each,—the imprisonments to be continuous,—the second, commencing on the termination of the first; that he was then on the commencement of his second period, having already been 30 days on a guard bed during the period of his first sentence.

I explained to the governor that as the prisoner had been convicted of the three offences at the same time, and the sentences were continuous, he could only be required, by law, to sleep on a guard bed for the first month after conviction, and was not subject to the same course at the commencement of his second sentence; the governor in consequence undertook to supply him with a regular bed.

The general health had been good as well as the general conduct; a subsequent report for December shows that the use of guard beds had been discontinued for the present, by order of the surgeon, on account of the extreme cold.

The chaplain, the Rev. H. Stuart, in his quarterly report for June, remarks, " My opinion of criminals has ever been, " that there is a great number of them who have a natural " defect in their mind; others commit crime not so much " because they are ignorant of the first principles of religion, " but because these have had no hold in their hearts, to " enable them to stand out against temptation, and that in " almost all instances, on their liberation, it becomes a ques- " tion whether what has been impressed on their minds in " prison, or the untoward circumstances in which they again " find themselves, is to have the mastery. I believe most of " them, more or less, mean to do well sometime."

The general health, as well as the general conduct, had been good.

The chaplain remarks that the chief causes of the small number of prisoners were, that labour was plentiful during harvest, and wages high; also that when the militia was disembodied, some of the most worthless characters enlisted or left town, and that a number of street pests gradually dropped away from that time.

The prison library is well supplied, and the keeper states that all the prisoners who can read take an interest in the books.

It will be seen by the following quarterly averages during the year that there has been a considerable reduction in the number of committals, viz. :—

	Males.	Females.
During the June quarter -	14	6
„ Sept. „ - -	4	3
„ Dec. „ -	5	2

The governor accounts for the decrease by saying that labour was abundant for all who were inclined to work, and that the guard beds are very much detested by a certain class, who, at one time, used to look upon the prison as a home; and he suggests that the use of the guard beds be extended from 30 to 60 days after conviction.

The governor remarks, with reference to juvenile crime, that there had been a considerable diminution during the past year; that there were only nine males committed under 16 years of age, three of these were whipped, and two were sent to the Reformatory Institution.

The general health had been good; but a private of the Forfarshire Militia committed suicide on the 11th March last, on the morning after his committal to prison; no blame attached to the officers of the prison.

The educational department in this prison is very satisfactorily conducted; but the numbers in confinement during the past year had been so few that they present nothing deserving notice.

The large amount of earnings in this prison, excites the surprise and curiosity of every governor of a prison in the district, but I believe the amount to be correctly quoted; for as the governor explains,—they have the advantage of a ready sale for the produce of their labour, which few other prisons possess, for example, the demand for sacks greatly exceeds their means of supply, and the same with game boxes during the season; the latter are chiefly made by the gate warder, who being an excellent carpenter, with plenty of time on his hands, devotes it in that way for the benefit of the prison.

Every department was as usual in good, order and highly creditable to Mr. Kerr, the governor.

The prison buildings were in good repair, with the exception of the wash-house, but a new one was in course of erection.

The following were the new buildings approaching completion :—A new washing-house, four punishment cells, a store-room, six reception cells, and a commodious bath-room ; these were all much wanted, and will be found a great improvement in the general working of the establishment.

The governor states that in the discipline and general management of the prison, all has worked harmoniously, and nothing of an extraordinary nature has occurred ; the conduct of the prisoners being generally good, and that of the officers "exemplary."

There had been six deaths in the course of the year from various diseases of long standing, four of these being of parties above 50 years of age ; but the general health of the prisoners has been remarkably good.

Only one case of attempted suicide had occurred, but it was doubtful whether it was real or feigned.

The chaplain in all his reports speaks favourably of the exertions of the teachers, and states that many of the prisoners improve much in reading, writing, and arithmetic. The library is well supplied, and the books are eagerly read.

He remarks that "many of the prisoners evince a strong "desire to improve themselves in the various branches here "taught, and as they improve in secular education many of "them seem to improve in other respects ; but all hopes are "blasted as soon as they return to their former companions."

These are observations which I have often felt it my duty to make ; it is not in a well-ordered prison of the present day, that contamination is to be dreaded, but in society out of doors.

I tried the several cranks at work in the separate cells, and invited complaints, but received none, nor did the prisoners employed at them appear at all distressed by the labour.

They made no complaints.

Average daily number in confinement during the year, 34, being the same as the year preceding.

The buildings were in good order, and the only alteration was the removal of the main entrance from the side next the court buildings to the gate in the south wall, for the purpose of giving the officers a better opportunity of seeing what was passing in the prison grounds, especially behind the building used for stores and stone-breaking, from which a prisoner had, some time before, succeeded in getting over the boundary wall and making his escape.

The general health had been good, and the surgeon's visits regular.

The chaplain had resigned a short time before my visit, and no successor had then been appointed, nor any one charged with the performance of his duties temporarily.

The library books were reported to have been very extensively used, but they were not in good order.

The general conduct was reported to have been good, and the punishments recorded, not very numerous.

Six juvenile offenders had been sent there in the course of the year sentenced to be whipped.

A prisoner named James Brown, alias Alexander White, by the negligence of the warder, made his escape during the September quarter, but was afterwards recaptured. The warder was dismissed.

[Inspected August 19, 1856.]

They made no complaints.

The total number in custody during the year was 12 males and five females.

This is a very unsatisfactory prison, and though it answers the purpose of keeping in safe custody, the few male prisoners usually committed, it is very much to be desired that the County Board would entertain the question of building a new one. The want of accommodation for a resident officer is of itself an unanswerable objection to the present one, as a prison.

The two rooms on the upper floor, intended as cells for females, are insecure, and on that account unfit for use; the four cells on the ground floor may be considered as secure; but they are virtually only two cells, for it is necessary to pass through the two outer to get to the two inner ones, which is much the same as if the occupants of both were in the same cell.

I understand that the County have lately purchased some ground adjoining the Yarl's Palace, which, as it would be a very suitable place, it is to be hoped they have a new prison in contemplation.

The surgeon and the chaplain appear to have been regular in their visits.

The library contains a few books in tolerable order, though they were supplied about 15 years ago.

There had been no punishments.

The keeper, in his report for the March quarter, states that the chief offences for which prisoners had been committed were for breach of the peace and refusing to maintain illegitimate children.

Everything was very clean, and creditable to Mr. Bruce, the governor.

As the confinements have been under five, the averages are not quoted in the returns; the total number in custody during the year was 38 males and four females.

The prison building was in good repair; the only alteration is, that a small house outside the prison has been turned over to the keeper as a store-room.

There had been no change in the surgeon's or the chaplain's duties. The latter, in one of his reports, in remarking that the prison library continues to be much used, and appears to be the means of much good, adds—"I have no practical sug-"gestions to offer, except this, that every year's experience "convinces me that increased severity of punishment, in the "case of hardened offenders, would be true mercy, not only to "society, but, in all probability, to the criminals themselves."

There had been only two punishments during the year.

The usual employments are, teasing oakum and mat-making.

The provisions are supplied by contract, and the accounts settled quarterly.

There are two police-cells on the ground-floor of the prison building, the one belonging to the county, the other to the borough. I found the former in good order; the other was not, and had only a small bundle of dirty rags by way of bedding.

PERTHSHIRE.

GENERAL PRISON, PERTH.

[Inspected April 1, July 31, and Nov. 5, 1856.]

The average daily number in the main prison during the year has been 231 males and 105 females, under sentence of imprisonment, and 167 females under sentence of transportation or penal servitude, making a total average of 503 prisoners.

The only alteration in the arrangements since last year has been the transfer of 26 cells from the small male prison, for the accommodation of females.

The distribution in the main prison is now as follows:—for prisoners under sentence to imprisonment, 222 separate cells for males, with one room capable of containing 12 prisoners in association, and 115 separate cells for females; for prisoners under sentence to transportation, or penal servitude, 194 separate cells for females.

The juvenile, imbecile, epileptic, and lunatic departments have been occupied during the year as formerly. The average daily number confined in these prisons respectively, was 40 juveniles, 7 imbeciles, 5 epileptics, and 28 insane, of which latter 21 were males and 8 females.

The total average daily number of prisoners in the whole prison for the year, was 303 males and 280 females.

The buildings generally are in good repair.

The general health had been good, but there had been 11 deaths, one of them by suicide.

The chaplain in his annual report observes that the teachers and those committed to their charge "are alike attentive to "their respective duties and interests."

"The means of secular improvement within the reach of the prisoners are ample, every facility and encouragement being afforded for their welfare in this respect.

"The instruction imparted embraces reading, writing, and arithmetic, with collateral information. As regards these branches of education, the majority of our inmates on admission betray lamentable ignorance, and the knowledge they do possess has been acquired, in many instances, within the precincts of a prison."

He further states, with regard to the juvenile's association class, "My visits to the school room are frequent, and I am "free to state that the boys, as regards educational progress "and general deportment, were never in a more promising "condition than at present."

"Their attention during the daily morning service in the chapel is highly becoming; the psalmody is conducted by one of themselves, a child nine years of age."

This class has been labouring under the disadvantage of a total change of officers during the past year, but though Colonel Jebb in a late report (p. 73) states—"There is no suitable prison excepting Parkhurst for the correction of a boy convicted of a serious crime." I must, nevertheless, in justice to the general prison, state my belief that few boys go forth to the world from the juvenile class there, without an honest intention to do well, and that, when they do not, it is their misfortune rather than their fault.

The governor reports the general conduct to have been good, and in the recorded punishments I observed nothing requiring notice. Some of the females are occasionally very violent; at the time of my last visit two of them were locked up in dark cells,—one of the two was in handcuffs.

The complaints I received during my visits to the female department were generally rather numerous, and chiefly from convicts who have been in association. The complaints, I need scarcely say, were generally altogether groundless.

Formerly the system of association, in allowing a considerable number to work together in a corridor, was objectionable as tending to awaken the evil passions, which their previous separate confinements had to a certain extent subdued, but the system has been altered, and the association limited to the inmates of three adjacent cells, who had been twelve months in prison, being allowed to work in the corridors two hours each day, and to be allowed to talk on proper subjects, and the same while at exercise in parties of three, for at least an hour and a half each day; this is a great improvement, and if, care is taken in the classification of the parties so associated, it may be found to do good rather than harm. It only came into operation on the 13th January 1857, but is reported to be working remarkably well.

The Eighteenth Report of the Board of Directors of Prisons in Scotland, goes so fully into details of the management of this prison, that it is unnecessary for me to repeat them. I can only state, as I did in my last report, that the frequent visits of the Directors, and the prompt attention of the General

The general health, as well as the general conduct, had been good; and the surgeon had been regular in the discharge of his duties.

A new chaplain, the Rev. T. Dangerfield, had just been appointed chaplain and teacher, and his subsequent quarterly reports show that he enters fully and zealously into the duties of his new office.

There has been a considerable fluctuation in the number of prisoners in the course of the year, but it is to be hoped that they will finally settle down to something like the comparative small number which I found in prison on the day of inspection.

The usual employments are :—

Average daily number in confinement during the year 92, being 10 less than the year preceding.

The prison buildings were in good repair and the drains reported to be in good order. The prison is free from damp and the heating and ventilating are satisfactory.

The general health had been good and there were no deaths during the year.

The chaplain reported that the prison library was in constant use by all who could read, and the books well taken care of. He also reports that prisoners of every class, receive instructions in the elementary branches of education, and some of them make considerable progress; that there are instances of prisoners who on admission had little or no knowledge of the letters could in less than three months read portions of the New Testament with accuracy and ease.

The general conduct had been good. The number of prisoners punished were six less than the year before and only half the number of 1854. This decrease of punishments may be ascribed to the increased accommodation, affording the means of entire separation.

The governor states that there is still a large proportion of juveniles committed to the prison, although somewhat less last year than the two previous years.

The following are the usual employments of the prisoners:—

Greenock Prison

Average daily number in confinement during the year, 30, being two less than the year preceding.

This is an old unsatisfactory prison, but the building was in good repair. The governor in his several quarterly reports observes that the want of ventilation is the cause of sickness, but his remarks are not borne out by the reports of the surgeon; for, with the exception of one case of typhus fever, which was brought in by the prisoner, who was quickly removed to hospital, there seems to have been scarcely any sickness during the year.

Though the prisoners in Greenock prison, have not suffered in health, the numbers confined in it during the year have nevertheless been much too great for the accommodation, viz., 23 cells for males and 10 for females, with an average daily number of 28 males and 21 females, for, besides the objection to doubling up, under any circumstances, and more especially in ill-ventilated cells, there can be no reason in doubling up in Greenock, while the county prison at Paisley is comparatively empty and so easy of access, and I therefore respectfully recommend, either that the confinements in Greenock prison be limited to shorter sentences, or, at all events, that it be understood there must be no doubling up at Greenock while there are empty cells at Paisley.

The library was reported to be eagerly sought for by all who could read, and the books generally well taken care of.

The general conduct had been good.

I found two females employed at the crank, in their cells, looking somewhat distressed with the labour. I pointed out to the governor that the cells were neither large enough nor sufficiently ventilated for such employment, and recommended that it should be discontinued, which he has since reported to me was done from that day.

DURHAM COUNTY PRISON.

Several prisoners complained of the dietary, especially of the badness of the potatoes, and a debtor complained of not being supplied with cod liver oil by the surgeon, but my inquiries satisfied me that there were no just grounds for either of the complaints.

The daily average number in confinement during the year 335, is an increase of 44 on the year preceding.

The chaplain, in his annual report, shows that the increase of the population of the county since 1851, amounts to 44,295, and in remarking on the proportionate increase of crime he states,—

"It is easy to trace some of the causes which have tended towards the moral deterioration amongst them. I may instance the fluctuating population, which the great undertakings now rising into importance all around us, have drawn to this part of the kingdom.

"A mass of persons thus collected together, from various parts of England and the sister countries, is likely, indeed certain, to be of a less settled and orderly character than one which is the gradual product of the soil; and hence causes of crime and violence are more likely to spring up among them."

The prison buildings generally were in good repair, but the great increase in numbers during the last two years, having every prospect of a permanency, has induced the visiting justices to entertain the question of adding a new wing to the prison, which I have reason to believe is now under consideration.

There had been four deaths in the course of the year, but the general health had been good, as also the general conduct.

The following were the punishments for prison offences:—

	Males.	Females.
Whipping - - - - - -	1	–
Solitary or dark cells - -	59	2
Stoppage of diet in light separate cells - - - - - -	135	17
Total -	195	19

As the total number committed during the year amounted to 2,540, the foregoing table of punishments may be considered a very satisfactory exposition of the management of the prison.

The chaplain, in his full and able report, shows, with regard to juvenile offenders, that though they had increased from 127 in the previous year to 210 in the last year, the recommittals have decreased from 16 to 12, and that a fair proportion of those who have been assisted towards a better way of life, are known to be doing well; and he remarks,—

"In the case of the decidedly criminal portion of the juveniles, it is much to be wished that the sentences varying from 14 days to two months could be exchanged for periods varying from 6 to 12 months. I have such confidence in the rules and management of your gaol as to assert, that for a thorough criminal boy no better place can be found for the correction of his vicious habits, and the implanting of virtuous and industrious ones, if only time be allowed for

In consequence of artificial light being withheld from one wing of the prison certified for separate confinement, a question arose between the visiting justices and myself as to the interpretation of the Act 2 & 3 Vict. c. 56, ss. 3 & 4. I met them by appointment in the board room of the prison on the 8th October, to have a conference on the subject, and as neither party saw cause to change their opinions, it was agreed that I should refer the question to you, to which you replied through Mr. Waddington, in a letter dated the 8th November, (which I have quoted in the appendix) a copy of which I sent to the chairman of the visiting justices on the 20th of the same month, communicating to him at the same time, that as the responsibility was left with me to decide, whether artificial light was necessary to the health of a prisoner in separate confinement, I had no difficulty in deciding that if prisoners of ordinary intellect, who are in separate confinement, are compelled to pass from 14 to 16 hours out of the 24 in darkness, without mental relief of any kind, it must prove injurious to health, and in that belief I was bound to consider that artificial light is necessary at certain seasons, to prisoners in separate confinement.

This communication was acknowledged by the chairman of the visiting justices, but I have not yet been favoured with their decision on the subject.

This important prison is most efficiently managed in its several departments by Mr. Green, the governor, by the chaplain, the Rev. Alan Greenwell, Mr. Shaw, the surgeon, and Mrs. Mathewson, the matron.

The prison buildings were in good repair, and had undergone no change, neither had there been any change in the discipline or management, with the exception of the surgeon, who died, and has been succeeded by Mathew Brumell, Esq.

Two of the prisoners complained, the one James Brown, that the potatoes were bad in June last, but as he admitted that he did not complain of it at the time to the visiting Justices, I told him it was too late for me to interfere; the other, Michael Duggan, a Roman Catholic, complained that he had no divine service performed by a minister of his own church, but as he admitted that he was allowed to see one at every proper time, when he required it, I told him it was rather too much to expect that one should be engaged to preach to him alone, every Sunday, and he had therefore better keep out of prison.

The general health had been very good and no deaths.

Average daily number in confinement during the year, 11 males, 9 females, being 8½ more than the year preceding.

The total number committed during the year, 324 males, 210 females, is an increase of 104 over the previous year; the keeper ascribes the increase chiefly to the operation of the Merchants Shipping Act of 1854, as a great many seamen have been committed for desertion, &c.

There had been no change in the construction or the management of the prison since last report.

The general health and general conduct had been good.

There is still no chaplain, nor any clerical visitor. I must again respectfully press this subject on the notice of the visiting justices, for, to allow 534 prisoners to pass through the prison in one year, 25 of them being juveniles, without one of them seeing a clergyman, or receiving moral or religious instruction of any kind, is, I believe, very unusual in prison management.

The prison buildings were in good repair, but the heating and ventilation being very imperfect the cells are unfit to accommodate more than one prisoner; and it appeared that there had been, at one time, as many as 10 prisoners in three cells, while another single cell contained five prisoners.

The visiting justices, satisfied of the necessity of having increased accommodation as well as an improvement in the heating and ventilating, I met them, by appointment, on the 29th April, to confer on those points, when the necessary measures were agreed upon, and a plan was subsequently prepared and approved, but I have not heard that it has yet been carried out. There had been one death, but the general health as well as the general conduct had been good; the only punishments during the year had been five males and three females confined to dark cells.

I have for so many years, in my annual reports, shown the objectionable nature of confinements in this prison, without inducing improvements, that I can but repeat, in substance, my former remarks; but, as Newcastle now stands alone in the district as the only prison of its class, that may be considered a nursery for crime rather than for the correction of criminals, I think it my duty to bring it, if possible, more prominently under your notice.

It appears to me that a young female convicted of a first offence might as well be committed to any seminary of vice in the town as to the female prison of Newcastle, where she is forced to mingle with associates whose habits and conversations all tend to debase the mind and to lead to an evil course of life. It is true they are under certain restraint and subject to punishments for breach of prison rules, but these are set at nought, for punishments in such a prison only serve to inflame the passions instead of correcting or subduing. It is also true they have the services of an able chaplain and efficient teachers, but it can only be considered a mockery of religion sending prisoners to chapel while they are obliged to return to such a den of vice as they now occupy. In short, though no expense appears to be spared in supplying all the requirements of a prison, the prison itself is wanting, and until suitable accommodation is provided, all other appliances may be considered as so much money thrown away.

I know not who is responsible for suffering things to remain in such a state, year after year; but if any one in authority in Newcastle, or any ratepayer, who is interested in the question, would take the trouble to go to Morpeth, which he may do in half an hour by rail, he would there see an efficient prison efficiently managed; and I venture to think that, in contrasting it with the one at Newcastle, he could scarcely avoid marvelling that such a prison as the latter should be suffered to exist in the same kingdom with the other, and still less, within a few miles.

The provisions are supplied by contract; the materials for clothing purchased and made up in the prison.

REFORMATORY INSTITUTIONS

DISTRICT OF SCOTLAND.

Certified under the Acts 17 & 18 Vict. c. 74. and c. 86.

THE reformatories of this district have not generally been a sufficient time in operation to warrant a review of their results; some few of them, however, have arrived at maturity. The Boys House of Refuge in Glasgow, for instance, is perhaps unequalled in the kingdom. The Glasgow Ragged Reformatory in Rotten Row is also in full operation, and working exceedingly well. The Reformatory at Newcastle-on-Tyne, and the one at Paisley, are likewise doing much good.

Others not possessing the same local advantages are but struggling into existence with small numbers, while several have not yet had an opportunity of commencing their state of transition from the ragged to the certified reformatory; but as the several influential individuals, ladies as well as gentlemen, who have set them in motion, appear to be all animated with the same zeal and energy to carry out the good work they have commenced, I have no doubt that these institutions will all eventually bear good fruit.

In my visits to them last year I found a difficulty in many of them, in obtaining the information necessary for framing a report; there were no documents in the schools, and the teachers, or others in authority that I found there, were unable to point out which of the children present had been committed under the Act. The secretaries of the different institutions, I knew, would gladly furnish me with every information, but these gentlemen were not always within reach, in some instances even if I waited a week; and as such delays were inconsistent with the discharge of my other duties, I represented to you, in September last, the necessity of having some uniform system of registration adopted in such schools, to be at all times ready for the visit of an inspector, and with your permission I issued the circular No. 2 in the Appendix.

It was late in the year before that circular was issued, and in calling for returns, agreeable to that form, up to the 31st December last, I have received but few of them in the required shape, some requiring explanations, while others have not yet

APPENDIX.

APPENDIX.—No. I.

SIR, Whitehall, 8th November 1856.

I AM directed by Secretary Sir George Grey to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 9th ultimo, requesting his decision on a question that has been raised by the visiting justices of Durham Gaol, as to the necessity of providing the means of artificial light in cells intended for separate confinement.

In reply I am to state that the law requires that a cell for separate confinement should be "lighted, warmed, ventilated, and fitted up in such manner as may be required by a due regard to health." If health requires artificial light, there can be no question as to the necessity of supplying it, but that is a point upon which Sir George Grey cannot give an authoritative opinion. It is one which he thinks the Inspector of Prisons must endeavour to ascertain for himself before he certifies the fitness of the cell in these respects for the separate confinement of prisoners.

I am, &c.
(Signed) H. WADDINGTON.

Sir John Kincaid,
Inspector of Prisons.

APPENDIX.—No. II.

Home Office, London,
18 Sept. 1856.

GENTLEMEN,

HAVING received the instructions of the Secretary of State to inspect from time to time the several Reformatory Schools within the prison district of Scotland which have been or may hereafter be certified under the statutes 17 & 18 Vict. cc. 74 and 86, and to report on the same, and as it is necessary that I shall at all times have ready access to every information calculated to assist me in the discharge of those duties, I am authorized by Sir George Grey to request that you will be good enough to cause a separate list to be kept, agreeable to the enclosed Form No. 1., of the Juveniles who are received into under the provisions of the aforesaid statutes, and that a separate book be kept agreeable to Form No. 2, showing a quarterly abstract of the numbers who (under the statutes) have been in the school in the course of the quarter, and the amount of the monies receivable for their maintenance during the same period, specifying the sources from which the several amounts are receivable, and describing such as are compulsory payments.

The first abstract to be made up to the 31st of December next, and to embrace the whole period during which the school has been certified; after which, abstracts will be made up at the usual quarterly periods,—the 31st March, 30th June, 30th September, and 31st December in each year.

These books, together with the warrants of committal, to be kept on the premises by whoever has charge of the school, so as to be in readiness for examination when required.

Your acknowledgment of the receipt of this circular will oblige,

Gentlemen,

Your very obedient humble servant,

J. KINCAID.

OF

THE GENERAL BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF PRISONS IN SCOTLAND;

OF THEIR PROCEEDINGS DURING THE YEAR 1856.

TO THE RIGHT HON. SIR GEORGE GREY, BARONET.

One of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State.

CHAMBERS OF THE BOARD,
Edinburgh, 11th February 1857.

SIR,

IN pursuance of the Scottish Prisons' Act of 2 & 3 Vict. c. 42, which has been amended and continued by the Acts of 7 & 8 Vict. c. 34, and 14 & 15 Vict. c. 27, we have the honour to report our proceedings for the year 1856.

During the year Her Majesty was pleased to appoint Lord Elcho and John Balfour, Esq., to be Members of our Board. Appointment of Directors.

We annex a Statement of our Meetings and those of our several Committees, and referring to the 8th and 40th sections of the Original Act, as showing generally the matters which our annual Reports are required to contain, we propose as usual to state them under the following heads:— Meetings. App. No. I.

I. Our Proceedings of a general character.
II. Our Proceedings with relation to the General Prison at Perth.
III. Our Proceedings with relation to the Local Prisons.
IV. A Statement of our Receipts and Expenditure during the year 1856, and Proceedings relative thereto; and,
V. An Estimate of the Funds which we shall require in the execution of our Statutory duties during the current year 1857.

I. Proceedings of a General Character.

The management and discipline of all the Prisons have been conducted throughout the year, under the "Rules for Prisons in Scotland," as certified by the Secretary of State. Of the circumstances under which these were adopted and certified, an account will be found in our Sixteenth Report, the Appendix to which contains the Rules themselves. Having come into force on the 11th November 1854, as a new code, embodying the Rules previously in force, with some alterations and additions, we requested each County Board, and the Governor of the General Prison, to furnish us with a special return of the extent of their enforcement in the several Prisons, on the 1st November last, when they had been just two years in operation. With reference to each separate Rule, we desired an answer to the question, Whether or not it was in full force in the Prison? and if the answer were not to be in the affirmative, an explanation, showing the inapplicability of the Rule to the particular Prison, or the other circumstances under which it had not been fully enforced. The general result of the returns so obtained is satisfactory; the instances where a Rule is not in full force in a Prison to which it applies being few and of minor importance. Rules for Prisons, and Returns of their enforcement.

Operation of Hard Labour and Guard-bed.

We refer to our previous Reports, and especially to the fifteenth and sixteenth, for an account of the circumstances under which hard labour and the guard-bed were introduced as a change in the system of Prison discipline previously pursued in Scotland. Considering it our duty to watch, with much care, the practical operation of this change, we have already reported to you the result of various inquiries made by us on the subject, including a special report required from the Governor and Medical Officer of each Prison at the end of the year 1854. We required a similar report at the end of the year 1856, framing the questions, to which we required the answers of the Governor and Medical Officer, in a shape which, besides affording them an opportunity of communicating the results of their general experience of the change, rendered it their duty to specify any deleterious consequences arising either from hard labour or the guard-bed. A digest of these reports is printed in a tabular form in the Appendix.

App. No. IV.

Establishment of County Boards.

In the month of March, under the provisions of the tenth section of the Original Act, we as usual framed the establishment of County Boards, dividing the numbers of each Board between the landward and burghal parts of the County, as nearly as possible in proportion to the assessments to be contributed by them respectively.

Population of Counties and Burghs, according to which Prison Assessments are apportioned.

We apportioned the sums which, by the estimate in our last Report, we considered necessary to be raised by assessment for the execution of the Acts during the year, and also the sums fixed and determined by County Boards for the current expenses of local Prisons,—between the landward parts of the several Counties, and the Burghs situated therein respectively, in terms of the Acts. As the criterion of this apportionment, we adopted the table of population, of which we gave an account in our Fifteenth Report, except in as far as, in the Counties of Ayr, Edinburgh, Fife, and Linlithgow, we gave effect to certain agreements adopted under Section 22 of 7 & 8 Vict. c. 34, as follows:

Reduced Estimate of Population of Burghs in Ayrshire.

In the County of Ayr, we continued to give effect to the resolution of the County Prison Board reducing the estimate of the population of certain Burghs, as particularly stated in our Sixteenth Report.

Reduced estimate of Population of Musselburgh.

In the County of Edinburgh, we continued to give effect to the resolution of the County Prison Board reducing the estimate of the population of the Burgh of Musselburgh, as also stated in our Sixteenth Report.

Reduced estimate of Burghs in Linlithgowshire.

In the County of Linlithgow, we continued to give effect to an agreement between the Commissioners of Supply, and the Burghs of Linlithgow and Queensferry, reducing the estimate of the populations of these Burghs respectively, and adding the amount so deducted from both Burghs, to the estimate of the population of the landward part.

Reduced estimate of Population of Inverkeithing.

In the County of Fife, we gave effect to an agreement between the Commissioners of Supply, and the Burgh of Inverkeithing, reducing the estimate of the population of the Burgh, and adding the amount so deducted from the Burgh, to the estimate of the population of the landward part.

Table of Populations and Assessments. App. No. XX.

A Table of the several populations as so adopted, and of the relative apportionments is contained in the Appendix.

Suspension of Ordinary Annual Assessments for Building Local Prisons in certain Counties.

The Prison Boards for the Counties of Aberdeen, Argyle, Ayr, Banff, Berwick, Bute, Caithness, Dumfries, Elgin, Fife, Forfar, Haddington, Kincardine, Kinross, Nairn, Perth, and Roxburgh, having reported to us that, from the favourable state of their funds, it appeared to be unnecessary to continue the assessment on these Counties for building purposes for the year 1857, we, after full consideration of the special circumstances of each case, resolved accordingly. The County Board of Ross and Cromarty having intimated to us that, from the state of their funds, it appeared to be unnecessary that the assessment for the year 1857 should exceed £100, we resolved accordingly.

Relief to Counties as to maintenance of certain classes of Convicted Prisoners.

We have, as usual, transmitted half-yearly to the Queen's and Lord Treasurer's Remembrancer in Scotland, Accounts rendered by the County Boards, applicable to each Prison, for the expense of maintaining, after conviction, criminal prisoners confined in the Local Prisons who had been tried with a Jury, and also those convicted by the Sheriffs without a Jury, in cases where the proceedings were conducted under Sheriff's warrants,—these expenses being repaid to the County Boards from Parliamentary grants voted to meet that charge. The Accounts, of which an Abstract will be found in the Appendix, were rendered, audited, and paid for the two half-years ending respectively 31st March and 30th September last. They amount in the aggregate to £5,437, 15s., being a decrease of £1,347, 7s. 6d. on the amount for the previous year, and of £2,739, 17s. 7d. on the amount for 1854.

Removal of Convicts.

In our Seventeenth Report we described the nature of an arrangement which, with your approval, we had adopted, for the removal of convicts, under the orders of the Secretary of State, from the Local Prisons to the Convict Establishments in England, and the General Prison. It was the object of the arrangement to apply uniform regulations, including a fixed scale of charges, to this branch of the public service; and we have the satisfaction to believe that our expectations of its economy and efficiency have been fully realized. We have received the effective co-operation of County Boards in directing the several removals. The officers of the County Prisons on whom the duty of escorting the convicts has devolved, have in general performed it in a competent manner; and the co-operation of the several railway companies, owning the lines between England and Scotland, has tended much to facilitate the working of the arrangement. During the present year there have been removed, under orders issued by you, from Prisons in Scotland, 111 male convicts to Wakefield, and 68 to Millbank. The total cost, including every charge, in these removals, was £852, 8s. 2d., being at an average rate of £4, 3s. 4^{4}d. per convict for transmission to Wakefield, and £5, 12s. 2d. for transmission to Millbank. Seventy-two female convicts were removed from Local Prisons to the General Prison at Perth, at an average cost of £1, 13s. 6^{8}d. per convict. We insert in the Appendix a classified abstract of these expenses. The whole accounts incurred by County Boards in this service have been rendered, audited, and paid quarterly.

Removal to General Prison—Escape at Aberdeen.

The removals of prisoners sentenced to periods of imprisonment, from the Local Prisons, to the General Prison, under the Regulations issued by us, have been conducted as usual in an efficient manner, except in one instance. On the 7th of August, a prisoner, in course of removal from Orkney, escaped at Aberdeen, under circumstances shewing gross carelessness on the part of the person in charge of him, who was not a Prison Officer, but a Sheriff Officer, specially employed on the occasion by the County Board. As in the year 1854, a prisoner, in course of removal from Orkney, had escaped at the same spot, we thought it necessary to admonish the County Board to be more careful in the selection of the Officers employed by them in the removal of prisoners.

Return of recommittals of Prisoners released on Pardon or orders of License.

We reported to you last year the tenor of an arrangement, by which the Crown Agent was to supply you, from time to time, with a statement of the recommitment to Prisons in Scotland of convicts released on pardon or on license—commonly called ticket of leave. At the desire of the Crown Agent, and for the purpose of enabling him to render his statements more complete, we have requested County Boards to furnish us, for his use, with returns from time to time of prisoners, known or supposed to have been pardoned, or released on license.

PROCEEDINGS WITH RELATION TO THE GENERAL PRISON.

The distribution of the accommodation in the Prison was, at the close of the year, as follows:—

State of Buildings.

The buildings and grounds were in general at the close of the year in good order and repair.

Heating and Ventilation.

With the exception of a partial deficiency in the ventilation, owing to incidental causes, which were immediately remedied, the heating and ventilation of the whole buildings were satisfactory throughout the year.

Purchase of additional Ground

In our last Report, we stated the arrangements made with a neighbouring proprietor, with your approval, for obtaining additional ground adjacent to the Prison. Our title to the additional ground was completed during the year.

Additional Buildings.

We refer to our last Report for a statement of the circumstances under which plans and estimates for a new wing, and other additional buildings, were laid before the Board of Works. These buildings had not been commenced at the close of the year. We received an intimation, however, that the Board had accepted the tender of Mr. David Rae, amounting to £27,397, being the lowest tender offered for the execution of the new works.

Works during the year.

The works throughout the year have chiefly consisted of those necessary for the proper maintenance of the buildings and grounds.

Classes of Prisoners who may be received.

There has been no change throughout the year in the arrangements fixing the classes of prisoners, who may be received into the General Prison, as stated at length in our last Report. These classes are,—

Male prisoners sentenced to periods of imprisonment of not less than nine months.

Female prisoners sentenced to periods of imprisonment of not less than one year.

Female convicts sentenced to transportation, or to penal servitude.

Criminal lunatics, whose insanity has either been ascertained in a court of law, or has been certified in terms of Statute.

Mode in which Prison was filled.

At the close of the year 1855, the number of prisoners in custody, in all departments of the Prison, was 543, (viz., 303 males, and 240 females.)

Of prisoners sentenced to periods of imprisonment, 379 were admitted in terms of the sentences passed on them, (viz., 280 males, and 100 females.)

Of female convicts sentenced to transportation, or to penal servitude, 72 were admitted under the orders of the Secretary of State.

Of criminal lunatics, 3 were admitted under our orders.

These several numbers added to those in custody at the close of the preceding year, make the total number who had been confined in the Prison in the course of the year, 998, (viz. 584 males, and 414 females.)

Liberations and other Removals.

There were liberated during the year 283 males, and 81 females, by expiry of sentence, one male on royal pardon, one female on warrant of the High Court of Justiciary, and one female convict on license.

Of the insane, two were liberated by warrant of the High Court of Justiciary, under the circumstances to be afterwards specified, and one was removed on the approaching expiry of sentence to the Local Prison.

Deaths.

Eleven deaths occurred—one of them by suicide—for the particulars of each case we refer to the surgeon's report and relative table, both in the App. Nos. IX. & X.

Appendix.

Number at the Close of the Year.

At the close of the year, viz., on 31st December 1856, the number in custody was 616, viz., 291 males, and 325 females.

Transferences from Department to Department.

Two were removed from the ordinary imprisonment department to the lunatic department, by direction of the surgeon. One was removed from the convict department to the ordinary imprisonment department, on conditional pardon.

App. No. VII.

For more specific statistical information, we refer to the Governor's Report, and to the following documents, printed in the Appendix.

The surgeon, in his Annual Report, to which we refer for further particulars, states that the general health of the prisoners has been good. Health—App. No. IX.

The death by suicide already referred to, was duly intimated to the Procurator-Fiscal, and the Law Officers of the Crown favoured us with a perusal of the precognition taken by him. For the circumstances of the case we refer to the Surgeon's Report. Case of Suicide.

The established system of discipline in the General Prison is that of separation. It has been carried out during the year, subject to the following exceptions. System of Discipline.

As a temporary arrangement for female convicts, pending the adoption of the interim regulations hereinafter mentioned, we directed that certain relaxations of discipline should apply to all who, counting from their respective sentences, had been a year in confinement. By this arrangement they were associated together—on week-days for two consecutive hours, when they were permitted to converse together, and on Sundays for one hour, spent in reading in presence of a teacher: and while at exercise they were permitted to walk and converse in threes, in an orderly manner. These relaxations were adopted by degrees, as the lapse of time brought instances of long continuance in separation under our notice, and came into full effect on 14th March. Relaxation in the case of certain Female Convicts.

The relaxation of the separation of juvenile male prisoners, by their association during the day, was continued throughout the year as formerly. It extends to all whose ages do not exceed 14 years, and to those above 14 but under 18, who, in the opinion of the Governor and Surgeon, specially require the relaxation. We receive from the Governor and Chaplain half-yearly returns relating to this class of prisoners, as they are from time to time liberated. The returns embrace not only the circumstances in which they entered, remained in, and left the class, but such facts as can be ascertained relating to their subsequent career, for a period varying from twelve to eighteen months after their departure. These statements are the result of inquiries which it is the Chaplain's duty to carry out by correspondence and visitation. The arrangements having commenced in the year 1847, we thought that, at the close of the year 1855, they had been in existence for a sufficient length of time, to afford instructive results, of which we appended an analysis in a tabular form to our last Report. We give in the Appendix a similar table, brought down to the end of last year. For information on the statistics of this department during the year, and the method of discipline and instruction there pursued, we refer to the Chaplain's Report. Relaxation in the case of Juveniles. App. No. XIII.

There is as yet no separate department for female juvenile prisoners, but their number is very small, and we have found it sufficient in the meantime to direct that those whose youth and infantile state of mind unsuited them for separation, should be associated two in a cell.

Prisoners, whose mental state, as appearing on their reception in the Prison, or at any subsequent period, has suggested that association would be more suitable for their condition than separation, have been treated accordingly. It is the duty of the Surgeon carefully to watch and act on any symptoms which render a recourse to association proper. Appended to his Report is a tabular statement of the prisoners thus placed in association, with the particulars of each case. He states in his Report, that in every instance of mental affection, unfavourable symptoms were apparent at the date of the prisoner's admission to the prison. From Mental Causes. App. Nos. IX. & XI.

In the instance of sick prisoners the separation was relaxed to the extent of providing them with proper nursing and attendance, and women with infants were permitted a limited amount of association together.

We refer to the Chaplain's Report for a statement of the manner in which he has performed his pastoral duties, of his experience as to the influence which his ministrations have produced on the minds of the prisoners, and of the success with which the educational department, including the moral and religious instruction of the prisoners has been conducted. We refer to the same document for statistical statements and tables, showing the condition of the education of prisoners on their admission, as compared with its condition at their liberation, or the conclusion of the year; for statements as to the re-committals of prisoners, the condition and progress of the juvenile association Education, and Moral and Religious Instruction.

class, the extent to which the Prison Library has been taken advantage of,—and generally for information bearing on the reformatory effects of the discipline of the Prison.

Communications with liberated prisoners.

It is the duty of the Chaplain to communicate with, to visit, and to make inquiries regarding liberated prisoners; and also, in concurrence with the Governor, to endeavour to find employment for them. For an account of the success attending his efforts towards these objects, we refer to his report.

Exercise of Prisoners.

All the prisoners not confined by indisposition have been exercised daily. We refer to the Governor's Report for particulars of the method and extent of the exercise.

Labour of prisoners.

The kinds of work chiefly carried on have been the same as last year, viz.:—by the males—shoemaking, tailoring, weaving, and matmaking; by the females—millinery, dressmaking, and knitting. For the particulars of the labour department, including statistics of the progress made in the knowledge of trade, and the success of the individual training communicated in the Prison, we refer to the Governor's Report. The clear profits from the labour of prisoners was £1545, 19s. 3d., being at the rate of £2, 15s. 8^{6}d. per prisoner, exclusive of the insane, who did no productive work. In our last Report we stated that, with your approval, we had established, in the year 1855, the office of superintendent of stores and manufactures. Owing to the dismissal of the person appointed to the office, it became vacant towards the end of the year, and the proper adjustment of the duties is now under our consideration.

Expenditure of Prison. App. Nos. VII.

Appended to the Governor's Report, will be found classified statements of the expenditure connected with the Prison during the year, showing the current expenses, the cost per head of the prisoners, and the expenditure and returns for prison labour. From this view it will appear that the total nett cost per prisoner amounted to £16, 1s. 2^{5}d., being £2, 9s. 2^{1}d. less than last year.

Revisal of the Scale of Salaries for Teachers.

Having revised the scale of remuneration of the male teachers, we came to the conclusion that their existing salaries, varying from a minimum of £45 to a maximum of £53, were quite inadequate to the importance of their functions, and we adopted, for future appointments, the following scale of remuneration, rising by stages in the length of service:—

1st Stage. under 4 years, £60.	2d Stage. 4 to 8 years, £65.	3d Stage. 8 to 12 years. £70.	4th Stage. 12 to 16 years. £75.	5th Stage. after 16 years, £80.

We placed the existing teachers, as on 1st October, on the 1st stage, with the exception of one, whom, in consideration of his long services, we advanced to the second.

Interim Regulations for female convicts.

On the Report of a member of our Board, Mr. Monteith, founded on inquiries which he had the goodness to conduct for us in the convict establishments of England, and otherwise, we framed certain Interim Regulations for the discipline of female convicts, in the earlier stages of their detention, which have now received your approval in terms of the Statutes. They are printed in the Appendix. We have postponed the consideration of the method of discipline to be adopted towards this class of prisoners in the ulterior stages of their detention, until the advancement of the new works towards completion, may afford an early prospect of carrying them into effect.

App. No. XVIII

New Dietary.

Having taken into consideration the question whether the dietary in the Rules for Prisoners in Scotland would continue to be suitable for all the classes of prisoners, who, under the recently adopted arrangements are likely to be confined in the General Prison, we obtained a report on the subject from the Surgeon of the Prison, which we submitted to Professor Christison and Dr. David Maclagan. In conformity with the opinions reported by them, we framed a new dietary for the General Prison, which, with the rules proper for carrying it out, has since received your approval in terms of the Statutes. The dietary and rules are printed in the Appendix.

App. No. XIX.

Liberation of two prisoners in the Lunatic Department.

The circumstances under which two prisoners were liberated from the Lunatic Department during the year, are of importance, as precedents relating to a class of prisoners whose situation has sometimes been attended with difficulties. In one instance, a female prisoner had been tried on the 8th September 1853, for the murder of her son, and the jury having found that she had killed her son in the manner mentioned in the indictment, but that at that time she was insane and deprived of her reason, the Court adjudged her to be confined during all the days of her life, or until further orders of the Court of Justiciary regarding her. Under the statutory provisions to that effect, she was removed to the General Prison. The Surgeon of the Prison having certified to us that neither at the time of her admission, nor since, had he ever been able to detect the least symptoms of insanity in this prisoner, we, on the 5th of May, brought the matter under your notice, with a request that you would take into consideration whether the case was one in which you could recommend to Her Majesty to remit the sentence, and if not, that you would favour the Board with your opinion of the proper course for them to adopt in the matter. In answer you informed us, that as the prisoner was detained, not during Her Majesty's pleasure, but until further orders of Court, all applications in reference to her release should be made in the regular way to the High Court of Justiciary. The Governor of the Prison having subsequently ascertained and informed us, that the prisoner had no means of procuring an application to be made to the Court, we brought the matter under the notice of the Lord Advocate. Being informed, on his Lordship's part, that the Crown would pay the expense of such an application, our Law Agent conducted the necessary proceedings, and the prisoner was liberated by Warrant of the High Court of Justiciary.

In the other instance to which we refer, a male prisoner sentenced, in respect of his insanity at the time of the commission of the offence charged against him, to be confined subject to the future orders of the Court, applied to the High Court of Justiciary, and on establishing his sanity, obtained a warrant of liberation.

Inspection by Visiting Directors, and Inspector of Prisons. App. No. I.

The Prison was, as usual, inspected by members of the Board, and a statement of their visits will be found in the Appendix. The visitors reported their observations and proceedings at length, and these reports were carefully considered by us, and were frequently the basis of subsequent proceedings. The Prison was also inspected, in the usual manner, by Sir John Kincaid, Her Majesty's Inspector of Prisons.

Returns and Reports by Officers.

According to established practice, information on the condition of the Prison, on the changes in its occupancy and other occurrences, has been supplied to us by the weekly and monthly returns of the Governor, the monthly reports of the Surgeon, the quarterly reports of the Governor, Chaplain, and Surgeon, and the annual reports of these officers as printed in the Appendix.

III.—PROCEEDINGS WITH RELATION TO LOCAL PRISONS.

I.—Prison Accommodation.

Accommodation on Separate System.

From the gradual decrease in the daily average number of prisoners confined in the several Local Prisons, which has been in progress for several years, the separation of prisoners has been each year more effectually carried out; and without any material addition having been made to Prison accommodation, the means of separation have been more complete during the past than during any previous year.

List of Local Prisons. App. No. VI.

In the Appendix we print a list compiled from our previous Reports, of the several Local Prisons, stating, generally, the purposes for which each Prison is legalized, and referring to those portions of our earlier Reports in which fuller information is in each instance to be found.

Proceedings as to building and repairing Local Prisons with the Funds available in the several Counties.

We now give a statement with reference to the several Counties, of any material alterations or repairs which have been made on Local Prisons during the year, and of any other matters relative to their condition of sufficient importance to be reported by us. We state, at the same time, the funds available in each County for the building and repairing of Prisons, being in each case the proportion effeiring to the County of the sum of £10,000, assessable, in terms of the Statute, over the whole Counties of Scotland for that purpose, or such part of it as is found requisite, together with any additional assessments consented to by local authorities, or sums borrowed on the security of assessments.

ABERDEEN,—containing the Prisons of Aberdeen, Peterhead, Huntly, and Fraserburgh.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment, being £734, 17s. 11d., is discontinued for the year 1857.

An addition thereto, amounting to £14,000, to be raised in equal portions in 1850 and the ten succeeding years, had been consented to by the local authorities. As stated in our Sixteenth Report, we obtained in the year 1854 a cash-credit from the Bank of Scotland to the extent of £4749, 1s. 4d. (being the balance on a previous cash-credit), on the security of the ordinary assessment for 1854 and two succeeding years, and of the instalment of £1272, 14s. 7d., for the same years, being part of the said additional assessment. Both the ordinary and additional assessments are discontinued for the year 1857.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment, being £128, 18s. 4d., is discontinued for the year 1857.

of Edinburgh, on a plan more particularly referred to by us, under the head of the Management and Discipline of Local Prisons. The Court Buildings' Prison in this County has been taken down, having been discontinued in terms of the Declaration to that effect contained in the Appendix. We stated in our previous Reports that the County Board had taken steps for obtaining the use of cells better suited for their purpose than those of the Prison so discontinued; but no application has as yet been made to us to legalize these cells. App. No. V.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment is £1462, 2s. 6d. An addition thereto, amounting to £3500, to be raised in the year 1852, had been consented to by the local authorities. As formerly reported, we authorized the County Board to obtain a cash-credit from the Bank of Scotland to the extent of £13,500, on the security of the assessment, under section 36 of the Original Act, as continued for the year 1845, and twelve succeeding years; and an additional cash-credit from the said Bank to the extent of £3350, on the security of the additional assessment above-mentioned. These credit-accounts in the course of last year were, on the application of the County Board, consolidated and closed, as on 30th June last, on which there remained due to the Bank a balance of £2014, 1s. 4d., with interest until payment; and we authorized a new credit-account to be opened in name of the County Board with the said Bank, for a credit, not exceeding £2000, in addition to the balance of £2014, 1s. 4d., and interest due on the former credits, which balance we transferred to the debit thereof, on security of the ordinary assessment of £1462, 2s. 6d. per annum, for the years 1856, 1857, and 1858. A sum of £100 has been received by the County Board as the value of the old materials of the Edinburgh Lock-up House.

FORFAR,—containing the Prisons of Dundee, Forfar, Montrose, Arbroath, and Brechin.

In our late Reports, we had to represent the inadequacy of the Prison of Dundee for the proper enforcement of the separate system. This inadequacy has been modified by a continued reduction in the average number of prisoners, especially of females.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment, being £707, 13s. 9d., is discontinued for the year 1857.

HADDINGTON,—containing the Prisons of Haddington and Dunbar.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment, viz., £313, 7s. 1d.

KINCARDINE,—containing the Prison of Stonehaven.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment is £113, 18s. 4d. The ordinary assessment included in our Estimates for 1855, and the additional assessment for that year, were subsequently, on our representation, authorized by the Secretary of State to be dispensed with as not being required. The assessment is discontinued for 1857.

In the Prison of Airdrie, the accommodation appearing to be insufficient for the average number of prisoners, we directed the attention of the County Board to the subject, and were informed by them that they had under their consideration a proposal to add to the accommodation of this Prison.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment, viz., £1345, 0s. 10d.

LINLITHGOW,—containing the Prison of Linlithgow.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment is £113, 17s. 11d. An addition of £136, 2s. 1d. per annum for 1851 and the six succeeding years was consented to by the local authorities. In our Fourteenth Report, we stated that we had authorized the County Board to open a credit-account with the Commercial Bank of Scotland, not to exceed £1378, 5s. 9d., on the security of the ordinary assessment for 1852 and six succeeding years, and of the additional assessment for 1852 and five succeeding years.

NAIRN,—containing the Prison of Nairn.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment, viz., £88, 10s. 11d.

PEEBLES,—containing the Prison of Peebles.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment, viz., £35, 9s. 2d.

PERTH.—containing the Prisons of Perth, Dunblane, and the Police Cells at Perth.

The Prison of Perth still scarcely contains sufficient accommodation for the average number of prisoners confined in it. In our last Report, we mentioned that the decrease in the number of prisoners might affect the consideration of the question of providing increased accommodation, which we brought under the consideration of the County Board. The average number of prisoners, though showing a slight increase over that of the previous year, is still far below the number stated in our Fifteenth Report.

In the Prison of Dunblane, the inadequacy in the accommodation for the keeper and his family, as stated in the Twenty-first Report of the Inspector of Prisons, was referred by us to the County Board, who informed us that they were in the course of executing alterations intended to remedy the defect.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment, being £630, 6s. 3d., is discontinued for the year 1857.

RENFREW, containing the Prisons of Paisley, Greenock, and Pollockshaws.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment is £562, 17s. 1d. An addition, amounting to £8385 18s., to be raised in equal portions in 1849 and eleven succeeding years, has been consented to by the local authorities. As formerly reported, we negotiated a credit with the Bank of Scotland for £2755, in addition to a balance of £2657, 7s. 2d. due to the Bank on the former credit, on security of a portion of the ordinary annual assessment for the years 1853, 1854, and 1855, and of the instalment of £698, 16s. 6d. for the year 1853 and seven succeeding years, being part of the addition of £8385, 18s.

ROSS & CROMARTY,—containing the Prisons of Dingwall, Tain, Cromarty, and Stornoway.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment is £253, 2s. 1d. It is limited for the year 1857 to £100.

ROXBURGH,—containing the Prisons of Jedburgh, Hawick, and Kelso.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment being £320, is discontinued for the year 1857.

SELKIRK,—containing the Prison of Selkirk.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment, viz., £29, 19s. 7d.

STIRLING,—containing the Prisons of Stirling and Falkirk. In reference to the Prison of Stirling, we were under the necessity of stating in previous Reports, that the accommodation did not suffice for the proper separation of the average number of prisoners confined in it. In our last Report, we stated that from certain causes the disproportion between the accommodation and the number of prisoners had been considerably reduced; we have the satisfaction to state that this reduction has since continued. In the year ended 30th June 1854, there were to 53 cells a daily average of 105 prisoners. In the subsequent year, the average to 54 cells was 89. In the corresponding period of 1856 it was 77.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment, viz., £332, 15s. 5d.

SUTHERLAND,—containing the Prison of Dornoch.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment is £59, 9s. 7d. An addition of £2360, 17s. has been consented to, and distributed over the year 1842 and six succeeding years. We approved of the proportion of the additional assessment, viz., £337, 5s. 4d. per annum, for the year 1846, 1847, and 1848, being commuted for an annual sum of £88, 10s. per annum for the year 1846 and fourteen succeeding years. As formerly reported, we obtained from the Bank of Scotland a credit to the extent of £1400, on security of the ordinary and additional commuted assessments for 1848 and twelve succeeding years.

WIGTOWN,—containing the Prisons of Wigtown and Stranraer.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment, viz., £143, 15s. 5d. The cash credit mentioned in our last Report, as having been obtained on security of a portion of the ordinary and additional assessments, has been paid up.

ZETLAND,—containing the Prison of Lerwick.

Funds.—The ordinary annual assessment, viz., £76, 5s. 9d.

2. Management and Discipline of Local Prisons.

Introduction. The Local Prisons are under the immediate superintendence of County Boards. Their cordial co-operation with us in the conduct of this department, and the efficiency with which they have performed their duty, have limited this branch of our Report to the few statements we are now to make.

Separation. We have reason to believe that the separate system of discipline, for which the reduction of the number of prisoners has afforded increased facilities, has been very generally carried out.

Health. We have nothing of a particular nature to report under the head of the health of the prisoners, which appears to have been good.

Instruction. Our returns shew that due provision has been made, as enjoined by statute, for the moral and religious instruction of prisoners.

Labour. Provision was made for supplying the prisoners with useful work; and the Returns under this head, in the Appendix, shew that profit has arisen on the labour in every Prison. App. No. XXI.

Inspection of Prisoners and Prisons. We have received from County Boards, Reports of the monthly inspection by them during the year of the Prisons under their charge, as prescribed by the Rules for Prisons, from which it appears that this duty has, as usual, been satisfactorily performed.

Escapes from Prisons. Three escapes from Local Prisons have been reported to us during the year. The circumstances of each case were fully investigated. One occurred in the Prison of Peebles on the 4th March. A prisoner, when at work in the garden, had been left for a short time by the keeper, whose wife accidentally left the gate unlocked. The prisoner took advantage of the opportunity, but was retaken within a quarter of an hour. The keeper and his wife having been reprimanded by the County Board, and the keeper having been certified by the Inspector of Prisons as a good officer, and generally attentive to his duties, we did not consider farther proceedings necessary. The second escape was accomplished by an untried prisoner in the Prison of Airdrie on Aug. 5. He had been set by a warder, in the Governor's absence, to clean cells and corridors, which gave him access to a ladder chained to the wall, which he forced away, and getting access to an inner corridor, the gate of which was left open, he took the ladder through a window, and by means of it scaled the wall. He was recaptured. The warder, as guilty of neglect of the rules which prohibit the employment of untried prisoners in menial offices, and require that the prisoners who are legitimately so employed should be watched, was dismissed by the County Board, who reprimanded the keeper. We considered no farther proceedings necessary. On the 19th of December, an escape was effected from the Prison of Brechin, by a convicted female prisoner, who had been admitted into the keeper's apartment, where she managed to get possession of the key of the outer gate. She was retaken. The County Board have reported to us that, in consequence of their discovering that an attempt to escape from the same prison had been made some days earlier, which showed great carelessness of management, the keeper and matron had resigned.

Suicide. During the year, only one act of suicide occurring in a Local Prison, has been reported by a County Board. It was committed by a prisoner undergoing the sentence of a Court Martial in the Prison of Inverness. It was investigated by the County Board and by the Law Officers of the Crown, who favoured us with their precognition. The circumstances did not, in our opinion, appear to attach blame to any Prison Officer.

Suspension and Resumption of Sunday Exercise at Paisley and Cupar.

The County Board of Renfrew reported to us, that in the Prison of Paisley they deemed it expedient to suspend on Sundays the 74th of the Rules for Prisons, enjoining the daily exercise of prisoners. We intimated, that although circumstances might, with the approval of the Surgeon, justify an abbreviation on Sundays of the usual period of week-day exercise, we did not feel ourselves at liberty to sanction any such suspension of a Rule certified by the Secretary of State. We intimated our disallowance of a similar suspension in the Prison of Cupar. In both instances we had the satisfaction to be informed that the County Board had given immediate directions to enforce the Rule.

Chapel in Prison of Edinburgh on the principle of Association.

We were requested by the Prison Board of the County of Edinburgh to approve of Plans for the erection of a Chapel, which they stated to be framed "chiefly on the principle of association." They explained that provision was made for separating convicted from unconvicted criminal prisoners, and civil prisoners from both; and for entire separation in cases where, from circumstances arising out of the feelings or character of particular individuals, the Governor might consider such seclusion admissible and expedient. They further stated that the arrangement admitted of the future extension of entire separation if it should be found expedient. We intimated, that we did not object to the County Board proceeding on the arrangement as explained by them, but that, as the extent to which they proposed to carry out association was an innovation on the principle which had hitherto prevailed in the Prisons of Scotland, and was a matter on which there was much difference of opinion among men of experience in prison discipline, we recommended them sedulously to watch the operation of the system, and remedy any defects which might arise from it. We farther desired the County Board to direct the Governor, under the discretionary powers with which they proposed to invest him, to take effectual measures for preventing young persons who are not known as habitual offenders, and are committed to short imprisonments, from being seen in the chapel by old offenders.

Returns by County Boards of the Appointment of Prison Officers.

The County Boards last year submitted to us, as usual, for our consideration and sanction, Returns of the appointment of new Prison Officers, and of Prison Officers promoted, and their respective Salaries.

Quarterly Reports of Prison Officers.

We received during the year full copies of the Quarterly Reports made in terms of the Rules, to the several County Prison Boards, by the Governors, Chaplains, and Surgeons of the Prisons. The transmission to us of these documents has enabled us to bring promptly under the notice of the respective County Boards, any matters regarding the state or management of the Prisons under their charge, to which we deemed it desirable that their attention should be called. After being considered by us, these Reports were transmitted to Sir John Kincaid, Her Majesty's Inspector of Prisons, who furnished us with his opinion on any matters contained in them on which we considered that it would be advantageous to consult him.

Returns relating to Prisons and Prisoners.

App. No. III.

We obtained the usual Returns from County Boards relating, under an extensive classification of departments, to Prisons and prisoners, of which a digest is printed in the Appendix.

IV.—RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURE, AND PROCEEDINGS RELATIVE THERETO.

We now, in terms of the Statutes, lay before you an Abstract of the whole Receipts and Expenditure during the year 1856, classifying the several articles thereof, and showing whence the Receipts have been derived, and to what purposes the Expenditure has been applied. For the particulars thereof we refer to the states of our Accounts set forth along with our General Balance Sheet in the Appendix.

We divide this department into four heads:—

1. Assessment for the Expense of converting the Buildings at Perth into a General Prison.
2. Current Expenses of the General Prison.
3. Current Expenses of the General Board.
4. Assessment for Building, Altering, and Repairing Local Prisons.

1. Assessment for the Expense of converting the Buildings at Perth into a General Prison.—The sum assessed for the year 1845 and the subsequent years, under this head, has been £1200, being the amount to which the assessment was restricted by the Act 7 & 8 Vict. c. 34. On this loan, the balance due at the end of the year was £3090, 1s., with interest since 1st June, which, from funds in hand and future assessments, will be extinguished in the course of 1858. Another loan for £4000, for which this assessment was also mortgaged, was paid up during the year 1856. The amount of the assessment, as apportioned on the several counties, is payable on the 15th of December yearly. A small portion is still in arrear. For the whole expenses of the Board, including these salaries, and the expense of removing convicts, the sum of £2710 was voted in the Session of Parliament of 1856, for the service of the year from 1st April 1856 to 31st March 1857. 4. Expense of Building, Altering, and Repairing Local Prisons.—The funds to be accounted for in this department are:— Expense of Building, Altering, and Repairing Local Prisons.

1. The proportion chargeable to each County of the sum of £10,000 a year, authorized by the Acts to be assessed over Scotland for this branch of Prisons' expenditure. The method of apportioning the sum, as prescribed by the Acts, is stated in our previous Reports, and the amount effeiring to each County has been stated in the department of our Report relative to the Building of Local Prisons. It has been usual to discontinue this assessment in those Counties where the state of the funds rendered it unnecessary, and during the year 1856 it was discontinued accordingly in the Counties of Aberdeen, Argyle, Banff, Berwick, Bute, Caithness, Dumfries, Elgin, Fife, Haddington, Kincardine, Kinross, Nairn, Perth, Ross and Cromarty, and Roxburgh. The amount so discontinued is £3886, 2s. 6d., leaving £6113, 17s. 6d. to be assessed on the remaining Counties. This assessment is payable on 15th December, A portion is still in arrear. We have, in some instances, sanctioned arrangements by which County Boards have been authorized to retain this assessment instead of transmitting it. Supra, p. 12.
2. Certain additions to the ordinary annual assessment, consented to in terms of the acts by the local authorities.
3. Transactions on cash credits negotiated with certain Banks on the security of the assessment. In some instances these cash credits have been established by us with the Bank of Scotland and operated on by our order. In other instances they have, with our authority, and under certain conditions, been contracted with incorporated banks by County Boards. We have fully stated the circumstances of the establishment of both classes of cash credits, in the Reports applicable to the years in which they were contracted.

During last year, the Bank of Scotland has charged, on the credits granted by them for building Local Prisons, Interest, including Commission, at the following rates, viz., 6 per cent. to 30th June, 5½ per cent. to 8th October, and 6 per cent. to 31st December, except on the credit granted for building Prisons in Ayrshire, on which the rate charged is a half per cent. less than the rates above mentioned. The rate of Interest allowed by the Bank on those Credits where there were surplus deposits, is as follows, viz., 3½ per cent. to 30th June, 2½ per cent. to 8th October, and 3½ per cent. to 31st December.

With these explanations the following Abstract of Receipts and Expenditure during the year 1856, under this head is submitted:—

Current Expenses of County Boards.

Current Annual Expenses of County Boards, including Aliment of Prisoners, &c.—The sums to be raised for this purpose do not come into our hands, but are payable directly to the County Boards, and are at their disposal.

We have to report, however, that in pursuance of the 38th section of the Original Act, the several County Prison Boards, with the exception of the Prison Board for the County of Orkney, fixed and determined, at meetings held by them for the purpose in the months of April, May, or September last, the amount of Assessment required to be imposed on their several Counties for the current annual expenses of their Prisons. From the Prison Board of Orkney we have received no Report. We, as usual, apportioned the various sums to be assessed on the several Counties in the manner already stated, and gave due notice in terms of the Statute. These assessments become payable to the several County Boards in eight months from the date of the notice. The aggregate amount of these assessments for the last year was £29,555, 9s. 5d.

Expenditure of County Boards.

We called upon the County Boards to make a Return of their whole expenditure for the year ended 30th June 1855, classifying the separate articles thereof, according to a form which we transmitted to them. The results are shown in the Appendix, to which we beg to refer.

App. No. XXI.

Table of Assessments and Population for 1856.

For your further information, we have thrown into one Table the whole Assessments imposed on the several Counties in Scotland, under the Prisons' Acts, during the year 1856, and the apportionment of such Assessments among the several Landward parts of Counties and Burghs, specifying also their relative population. This Table appears in the Appendix.

the said Acts, for the current year, for defraying the expense of converting the Buildings at Perth into a General Prison, and furnishing and completing the same. As we have already more fully stated, this assessment was mortgaged to the Exchequer Bills Loan Commissioners for a loan of £15,950 expended on the buildings of the General Prison, the balance due on which will be extinguished in the year 1858. The Table which follows shows the apportionment of this Assessment on the several Counties.

2. Expense of Building, Altering, and Repairing Local Prisons.—We estimate that the sum of £5071, 17s. 11d., will be required to be raised by Assessment, in manner provided by the Acts, for the current year, for defraying the expense of Building, Altering, and Repairing Local Prisons. The Table which follows shows the apportionment of this Assessment on the several Counties; and also £923, 8s. 7d., the additions to the ordinary Assessment consented to by certain Counties, so far as leviable for the current year. The sum of £8517, 5s. 7d., assessed in the year 1844, was to provide for the current expenses of the year 1843; the sum of £8261, 14s. 1d., assessed in the year 1845, was to provide for the current expenses incurred in 1844; the sum of £5482, 1s. 2d., assessed in 1846, was to provide for the current expenses incurred in 1845; and the sum of £3642, 5s. 8d. was to provide for the expenses incurred in the portion of 1846 prior to the 1st October; since which period these expenses have been borne by the Public Treasury.

Accounts of the Board.

Our Accounts have been regularly submitted to our Accountant, and checked and docqueted by him. They have also, in so far as relates to the Public monies passing through our hands, been, in conformity with instructions from the Commissioners for auditing the Public Accounts, submitted to them from time to time for their audit, and we have been informed in substance by the Commissioners that the same had, in so far as yet audited, been found quite accurate.

The Accounts for the Removal of Convicts have been submitted to the Queen's and Lord Treasurer's Remembrancer from time to time for audit, and he has intimated to us, that down to the close of the year they have been found accurate.

Having thus stated our proceedings under the various heads on which we are directed by the Statute to report to you, we conclude by bringing under your notice, in a comprehensive shape, information on the numbers of persons confined in the Prisons of Scotland, as they have from time to time, over a series of years, appeared in the statistical information reported by us.

Generally satisfactory.	From the great dislike expressed, its use considered satisfactory.	Repeated subjections to crank labour not felt so irksome as at first. By teasing oakum, satisfactory.	Satisfactory.	The crank considered severe and liable to injure health, unless in each case accompanied with the highest rate of diet. As a means of punishment it is effectual.	The prisoners have generally lost weight. No other bad effects have been found.	No bad effects found.	Care is taken that the crank should be so used as not to be hurtful to health beyond what is stated; but hard labour on prison diet, even the highest, the Surgeon has no doubt must injure the health.	28

No prisoner so sentenced.	Quite satisfactory.	None.	No experience.	It is not prejudicial.	None.	47
Satisfactory, except as to diet.	Satisfactory.	Governor suggests an alteration of diet.	None more than from ordinary labour, unless the person was previously diseased.	The same.	Surgeon concurs with the Governor, and adds that many of those sentenced to hard labour, are quite unfit for any labour, from age, disease, and other infirmities, and had to be remitted.	48
Satisfactory.	Satisfactory.	Hard labour crank discontinued since August, on suggestion of Inspector of Prisons, as the Prison was not properly ventilated.	None.	None.	Surgeon concurs with the Inspector of Prisons as to ventilation.	49

Satisfactory.	Satisfactory.	Guard-bed and crank labour not generally liked.	None, but seven prisoners have been exempted from it.	Found not prejudicial to prisoners in health, but exempted from it seven sick prisoners.	None.	59
Very satisfactory with crank; unsatisfactory with oakum picking.	Experience limited. Their use suspended during winter by the Surgeon.	There is a difference of opinion as to picking oakum.	None.	None.	Owing to defective state of heating apparatus, cells not warm enough to allow the use of guard-bed with safety.	60
Satisfactory.	Satisfactory.	None.	None.	None.	None.	61
Satisfactory.	Satisfactory.	None.	None.	None.	None.	62
Rather conducive to health.	In winter seldom used from the excessive coldness of the cells.	None.	No prisoner whose health was considered at all delicate has been subjected to hard labour.	The same remark applies to the use of guard-beds.	In Surgeon's opinion, guard-beds are unsuitable in a Prison so deficient as this is in the means of being properly heated.	63
Very satisfactory.	Satisfactory.	None.	Finds the labour used to be beneficial to health, especially the crank.	The use modified according to the health and strength of the prisoners. Nothing prejudicial has arisen from it.	The Surgeon approves both the hard labour and the guard-bed.	64

No. VII.—Report by the Governor of the General Prison at Perth for the Year 1856.

Sir, General Prison, Perth, 5th January 1857.

I have the honour to transmit to you, for the information of the General Board of Directors of Prisons in Scotland, my Annual Report for the year 1856.

Few changes have taken place, but several additions have been made in the Staff of Officers during the year. In the Male department, a Door-warder was appointed in the early part of the year, owing to the detached situation of the Small Male Prison. In consequence of the increased number of prisoners in the Female department, a Superintendent of associated convicts, a Teacher, three Warders, and one Night Warder, were appointed during the year.

The Officers have, with few exceptions, conducted themselves with strict propriety, and they have performed their several duties faithfully and zealously.

The Prison arrangements have been similar to last year, with the exception, that, in the month of October, 26 cells in the Small Male Prison were transferred to the female accommodation; 12 of these being set apart for prisoners under sentence to transportation or penal servitude, and 14 for prisoners under sentence to imprisonment. The accommodation of the Main Prison is therefore as follows:—1*st*, For prisoners under sentence to imprisonment, 222 separate cells for males, with one room capable of containing 12 prisoners in association, and 115 separate cells for females. 2*d*, For prisoners under sentence to transportation or penal servitude, 194 separate cells for females.

The average daily number of prisoners in the Main Prison during the year has been 503; viz., 231 males and 105 females under sentence to imprisonment, and 167 females under sentence to transportation or penal servitude.

The Juvenile, Imbecile, Epileptic, and Lunatic departments, have been occupied during the year as formerly. The average daily number confined in these prisons, respectively, was 40 juveniles, 7 imbeciles, 5 epileptics, and 28 insane, of whom 20 were males and 8 females.

The total average daily number of prisoners in the whole prison for the year, was 303 males and 280 females.

The conduct of the Juvenile Class throughout the year has been satisfactory, considering that a total change has taken place in the Officers of that department since last Report. The boys have made considerable improvement in educational instruction and knowledge of a trade.

The number of Juveniles who have been in the Class last year was 89, and the number of punishments was 164.

The following statement shews the number of Juveniles, and of punishments, for the last seven years:—

	1850.	1851.	1852.	1853.	1854.	1855.	1856.
Number of Juveniles who had been in Class,	97	79	69	76	98.	108	89
Number of Punishments inflicted, . .	200	107	90	63	82	77	164

The prisoners have been exercised in the airing-yards and paved pathways, and no case of stiffness of the limbs has occurred during the year.

The daily average duration of exercise throughout the year was 64 minutes to all the prisoners. The highest daily exercise on a week day was 80 minutes, and the lowest 46 minutes.

Male and female prisoners under sentence to imprisonment were exercised in the airing-yards, and females under sentence to transportation or penal servitude on the paved pathways, as formerly. Since 14th March, all female convicts after having completed one year from conviction, have had a relaxation of the discipline by being associated at exercise, and permitted to walk and converse together in threes in an orderly manner; they are also associated at work for two hours daily, under similar restrictions, by direction of the General Board.

From 11th June, female prisoners whose youth unfit them for separate confinement, have been associated by being placed two in a cell, and they are exercised on the paved pathways along with females under sentence to imprisonment who have infants. They are also assembled on Sundays for one hour, and receive religious instruction from a teacher —all by authority of the General Board.

The general conduct of the prisoners has been good, and they have, with few exceptions, improved in moral and religious instruction, education, and general habits.

The number of punishments inflicted during the year was 393 on males, and 196 on females, and the number of prisoners punished was 122 males and 72 females; of these the general conduct of 25 males and 5 females was good, 39 males and 36 females medium, and 58 males and 31 females bad.

Of 286 male and 83 female prisoners liberated during the year, 148 males and 69 females received good conduct gratuities on liberation, in terms of the 89th of the Rules for Prisons in Scotland.

Under the superintendence of the Chaplain, the education of the prisoners has been conducted as formerly, and the Teachers have performed their duties with efficiency.

Every economy and care have been attended to in transmitting prisoners on liberation to their places of residence.

Of 286 male and 83 female prisoners liberated during the year, I have reason to believe, from information as to them received by the Chaplain and myself, that 122 males and 36 females obtained employment shortly after liberation.

The heating and ventilating of the Prison has been very satisfactory throughout the year.

This year, as formerly, the Inspector of weights and measures for the County inspected the weights and measures used in the Prison.

The supplies for Prison use were, as far as practicable, provided by public contract, and articles for which no contract had been entered into, were provided by estimate.

The chief kinds of work carried on in the Prison, have been Shoemaking, Tailoring, Weaving, Matmaking, and Shirtmaking. A full and constant supply of work has been readily obtained for the prisoners generally, but some difficulty has been experienced in keeping the shoemakers and tailors fully employed at profitable work.

With the exception of prisoners sentenced to hard labour, all were employed, when practicable at their own trades, and a large proportion of them were taught trades in Prison which might be useful to them in after-life. Any work performed by prisoners in the Lunatic Wing is done voluntarily. The occupation of the males consists chiefly in keeping the various apartments and passages in order; the females are employed in shirtmaking and knitting.

The following Table shews the different Trades at which the prisoners who were admitted, and liberated, or removed in 1856, have been employed; the number who were good tradesmen on admission; the number who had a slight knowledge of a trade on

From the View of the Outlay connected with prisoners' labour, and the Returns therefrom, for the year ended 31st December 1856, appended hereto, it appears that the clear profit during the year from the labour of prisoners is £1545, 19s. 3d. sterling, or, exclusive of the insane, an average of £2, 15s. 8^{6}d. per prisoner.

The Classified Table, appended hereto, of the Expenditure of the Prison during the year 1856, exclusive of the Expenditure on the labour account, shews that the total cost of each prisoner in that year, exclusive of the expense of transmitting prisoners to and from the Prison, which amounted to £1, 1s. 3^{6}d., was £18, 14s. 2^{10}d., and after deducting the profits arising from the labour of prisoners, the nett cost per prisoner was £16, 1s. 2^{5}d.

I have the honour to be, Sir, your most obedient humble Servant,

John Hill Burton, Esq., JA. STUART.

Edinburgh.

No. VIII.—Report by the Rev. William Brown, Chaplain of the General Prison at Perth, for the Year 1856.

General Prison, Perth, 5th January 1857.

Sir,

In submitting, with all deference, through you, to the General Board of Directors of Prisons in Scotland, this, my Twelfth Annual Report, being for the year ended the 31st of December 1856, I have the honour to state that it has been my constant aim and anxious desire faithfully to discharge the duties devolving upon me, agreeably to the Instructions issued for the Regulation of the Chaplain's department, and that I am not aware of having acted otherwise than in strict conformity thereto.

The following Table will shew the total number, sexes, and average ages, also the age of the oldest and youngest of the Prisoners, who have been admitted and re-admitted into the General Prison, since it was opened on the 30th of March 1842:—

In reference to the above Table, it may be stated, that during the year 1845, prisoners above 30 years of age were not received into the General Prison; that between the years 1849 and 1855, no female prisoners, except insane or lunatic criminals, were admitted,—that in the month of July 1855, however, a portion of the Prison was again appropriated for the reception of ordinary, in addition to convict female prisoners; and that during the years from 1850 to 1855, the Admissions included, besides ordinary prisoners, transportation or penal servitude male convicts.

The preceding Table includes the insane or lunatic criminal prisoners who, since the opening of the Hospital for their accommodation in October 1846, have been received as follows:—

The Admissions in 1856, in all 455, include 280 males and 100 females sentenced to imprisonment,—one of the males thereafter to a Reformatory School in Glasgow or Greenock for 5 years; 70 females sentenced to transportation or penal servitude, for periods varying from 4 to 21 years, and 2 for life; also 3 lunatic criminals—1 male and 2 females.

As regards the prisoners re-admitted during the year, in all 41, they were liberated:—1 in 1842; 2 in 1843; 1 in 1845; 3 in 1849; 1 in 1850; 1 in 1851; 4 in 1852; 2 in 1853; 5 in 1854; 13 in 1855; and 8 in 1856.

Since the opening of the Prison, the total number of re-admissions (355) as compared with the whole number of liberations (4879) has been 7.27 per cent.,—as respects the males 7.76, and the females 4.66 per cent.

The total number of prisoners in custody on the 31st ultimo was 616,—namely, 291 males and 325 females. Of these, 50 had been in the General Prison before—35 males and 11 females once, and 4 males twice. The whole were distributed as follows:—

The preceding Table, prepared, in accordance with my usual practice, from actual trial and inspection of the educational acquirements of the prisoners, indicates results highly favourable—that the Teachers, and those committed to their charge, are alike attentive to their respective duties and interests. The means of secular improvement within the reach of the prisoners are ample—every facility and encouragement being afforded for their welfare in this respect. The Instruction imparted embraces Reading, Writing, and Arithmetic, with collateral information. As regards these branches of education, the majority of our inmates, on admission, betray lamentable ignorance; and the knowledge they do possess has been acquired, in many instances, within the precincts of a Prison. Not a few have suffered much from early neglect and ill treatment, the development of whose intellects in a right direction is thereby greatly retarded. These creatures, fit objects of pity and compassion, it behoves us, the overseers of this Prison, to treat with judicious consideration; and kindly but truthful dealing has, I have reason to know, a beneficial and soothing influence over them.

While the prisoners are well attended to in regard to secular knowledge—the improvement of the intellect—they are not lost sight of as respects religious instruction—the culture of the heart. They are supplied with a copy of the Bible or New Testament; and in relation to those who cannot peruse the Word for themselves, the Teachers are under instructions to read to them statedly therefrom. The prisoners are also encouraged to commit to memory, besides the Shorter Catechism, portions of Scripture, including Psalms and Paraphrases. They have the privilege, moreover, of attending from Sabbath to Sabbath the Chapel for public worship. The means thus in use towards their spiritual improvement are well fitted to remind them of the presence of an Unseen Being, to whom they must render an account; yea do, I have reason to believe, frequently stagger those who, without such appliances, are apt to ignore their responsibility—at times, even the most recusant. The Truth will, it is to be hoped, sooner or later, by the working of the Holy Spirit, find its way to the understanding and the heart; darkness and ignorance—oppressors of the human mind—be dispelled, and rays of heavenly light shine into their souls. But these, the deep things of God knoweth no man. Instances, it is true, of finesse, obsequiousness, and plausibility, do ever and anon occur amongst our inmates, arising, doubtless, from a desire to gain the good graces of their custodiers—more especially the superior officers of the Prison; but such cases, characteristic of human nature, are comparatively rare. Men certainly are deceived—men also deceive themselves.

The demeanour of the prisoners, male and female, in the course of my stated interviews with them, is characterized by a remarkable degree of civility and respect. "A word fitly spoken"—the Truth plainly stated and reiterated in their ears, such as—"Thou, God, seest me;" "The way of transgressors is hard;" "The soul that sinneth, it shall die;" "Behold the Lamb of God, that taketh away the sin of the world,"—is "like apples of gold;" and, in the spirit of Christian charity, it is not for me to judge otherwise than that there are here such as shall be saved.

The Juveniles' Association Class continues to receive not a little of my time and attention. My visits to the schoolroom are frequent, and I am free to state that the boys, as regards educational progress and general deportment, were never in a more promising condition than at present. Their attention during the daily morning Service in the Chapel is highly becoming. The Psalmody is conducted by one of themselves, a child nine years of age. The number of boys associated was, on the 31st ultimo, 36; their average daily number during the year, 40.8,—the greatest number having been 53, and the least 32.

The books in the Prison library are all of a sound, religious, and moral tendency, bearing upon the happiness—present and future—of fallen man. They are judiciously distributed once a week amongst such of the prisoners as can read with tolerable freedom. They are received with lively satisfaction, and generally taken good care of.

The number of prisoners liberated or removed during the past year was 382, viz., 293 males and 89 females. Of the males, 1 received a free pardon, 1 was discharged from the hospital for lunatics, and 7 died, including one by suicide. Of the females, 1 was liberated by bill of suspension, 1 on order of license, 1 from the hospital for lunatics, and 4 died.

The following Tables will give a comparative view of the state of the discharged prisoners as to Education, on admission and at departure, with their ages and sentences:—

Three of the males were well-educated on admission.

Of the discharged male prisoners, in the course of the year, 145 are entered in my Register as expected to do well, and 122 as having found work, besides 37 who were liberated prior to 1856. From personal inquiries in Edinburgh, Glasgow, and other Towns, as well as from information otherwise obtained, I have learned that several of those who were previously reported on as being in employment are still at work, and apparently conducting themselves with propriety.

As regards the liberated female prisoners, the Matron considered 34 of them as hopeful, and has reported that 36 returned to their friends, or were otherwise provided for.

I have the honour to remain, Sir, your most obedient Servant,

WILLIAM BROWN, Chaplain.

No. IX.

REPORT by WILLIAM MALCOM, Esq., M.D., Surgeon to the General Prison at Perth, for the year ended 31st December 1856.

General Prison, Perth, 1st January 1857.

SIR,

I BEG to report to you, for the information of the General Board of Directors of Prisons in Scotland, the state of health of the prisoners in the General Prison, and the casualties and deaths which may have occurred in it.

The general health has been good; no infectious or contagious disease having shown itself during the year, or even since the opening of the Prison, a fact which speaks strongly for its healthy site, and for the care taken of the prisoners in cleanliness, clothing, and food. Very few cases of Influenza or Bowel Complaint occurred this year, diseases which in former years visited the Prison, when there was epidemic in the Country around.

Eighty-seven persons have been placed on the Sick List during the year, of these thirty-six have been seriously and dangerously ill, and fifty-one more slightly.

Five women have had children in the Prison, these are included in the above eighty-seven.

Ten prisoners have died. The particulars of each case is given in the Table of Deaths. One man committed suicide, he had been in the Prison 36 days, and effected his purpose by hanging himself with a cord attached to the Foul Air grating. He was a quiet morose lad, and had not given any indication that the state of his mind was likely to lead to such an issue.

Twenty-nine prisoners for whose condition I considered association better suited than separate confinement, were put in association by my authority, during the year 1856. There were at the beginning of the year 20 who had been previously placed in association. The number remaining in association at the end of the year, is 23. In every instance of mental affection, unfavourable symptoms had made their appearance at the date of admission to the Prison. Of those in association, there were three epileptics.

For further particulars I refer to the annexed Table, which contains the specialties of each case, including the reason for preferring association to separate confinement, and the time when any symptoms suggesting this alternative were first observed.

The health of the prisoners in the Lunatic Wing has been very good; one prisoner died whose case is mentioned in the Table of Deaths.

The Juvenile Ward continues to work well; the boys are healthy and active. In general they are diligent and attentive to their Teachers, and I think are likely to benefit by their discipline here.—I am, Sir, your obedient Servant,

WM. MALCOM, Surgeon.

No. XVIII.—INTERIM REGULATIONS for Female Prisoners under Sentence of Transportation, or of Penal Servitude, confined in the General Prison at Perth, in Supplement and Modification of the Rules for Prisons in Scotland, made by the General Board of Directors of Prisons in Scotland, and submitted to one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State for his Certificate.

The Prisoners to be divided into two Classes, viz., (1) The Penal or Probationary Class; and (2) The First Reformatory Class.

I.—Probationary Class.

Every Prisoner to be in the first instance placed in this class.

Each Prisoner to be subjected to confinement in a separate cell, for the period of twelve calendar months from the date of her sentence.

On the expiry of the twelve months, each Prisoner is to be advanced into the First Reformatory Class; unless for insubordination, or other misconduct, the Matron, with the approbation of the Governor, shall judge it proper to continue her in the Probationary Class for a longer period, which it shall be competent to do indefinitely, unless in the opinion of the Medical Officer it should be deemed injurious to health.

The separation of Prisoners to be entire, both indoor and during the period of outdoor exercise, with the exception of attendance on the Chapel Service.

On the afternoon of Sundays, each Prisoner, who cannot read, to be visited and read to by a Warder, Teacher, or Scripture Reader.

During the first six months of confinement, each Prisoner to be employed in picking oakum or coir, a ten hours' task, proportioned to her powers, being assigned to her each day.

After the lapse of the first six months, each Prisoner to be employed in sewing, knitting, or other feminine work, unless in the case of refractory or ill-conducted Prisoners, who shall be continued at the employment of teasing oakum or coir for such period as the Matron, with the sanction and approbation of the Governor, shall judge proper.

Each Prisoner to have exercise in the open air, from an hour to an hour and a half each day, but not to be allowed to communicate with other Prisoners during it.

The Dietary of the Prisoners to be supplied according to the prescribed Rates and relative Rules.

The Education of Prisoners to be conducted in their separate Cells.

No visitors to be admitted during the Probationary period.

It shall be the duty of the Matron to take every means of becoming acquainted with the character of each Prisoner immediately on admission, and of gaining her confidence, and to keep such a separate record applicable to each as may afford the means of judging of her conduct and demeanour, both during the course of her imprisonment, and at the termination of it.

Acts of misconduct to be reported to the Matron, and after being inquired into, and disposed of, to be recorded by her with a view to regulate the disposal of the Prisoner on the arrival of the period when, if well conducted, she should be entitled to advancement.

From the above Regulations the following Classes shall be admitted as exceptions in so far as regards separate confinement:—

(1.) Female Prisoners under 14 years of age.

(2.) Weak-minded Females, to whose mental condition separate confinement might, in the opinion of the Medical Officer, be injurious.

1.—Female Prisoners Fourteen Years of age and under.

These shall be associated on the same principles as the Male Juvenile Prisoners in the General Prison after the same period of Separate Confinement, and their Education and Discipline conducted, as nearly as may be, on the same plan, regard being had to difference of Sex as to their Employments, &c.

Prisoners who shall have been so associated for at least a year before attaining the age of 14 shall, on attaining that age, be placed in the First Reformatory Class, unless from insubordination or misconduct it shall be judged expedient by the Matron, with the approval of the Governor, that they should in the first instance be subjected to the discipline of the Penal or Probationary Class.

Prisoners so associated, and who shall have attained the age of fourteen before the termination of the first year of association, shall continue in association until the termination of the first year, then to be disposed of in the same manner as the immediately preceding Class.

2.—Weak-minded Females.

These to be associated in Classes of not less than three, and subjected in other respects to the same Rules and Regulations as the other Female Convicts during the Probationary period.

Note.—The Medical Officer should be directed to be extremely careful in admitting Persons into this Class, otherwise impositions will be practised, and the salutary Discipline of the Prison materially interfered with.

II.—First Reformatory Class.

Prisoners in this Class to have the privilege of working in association for two hours each day in the corridors, but only to the extent of the inmates of three adjacent cells being so associated, during which period they are to be allowed to talk on proper subjects.

The Prisoners to be employed in sewing, knitting, and other feminine works.

Exercise to be taken in parties of three, for at least from an hour to an hour and a half each day, and the Prisoners to be allowed to converse on proper subjects during the period of exercise.

Education of the Prisoners to be conducted in their cells, but in classes of three or more according to circumstances.

The Prisoners to be assembled in classes in the Chapel, or in some suitable and convenient place, once a week, for the purpose of practising Sacred Music.

The Matron to exercise her discretion in the collocation of the Prisoners as regards proximity to each other in all these cases, it being understood that no change is ever to be made at the request of a Prisoner.

Each Prisoner after three months' good conduct to be entitled to a badge, and after six months' good conduct to a second badge. Holders of one badge to have an allowance put to their credit of twopence a week, and holders of two badges of fourpence a week.

The badges to be worn on the dress, and forfeited for misconduct for a longer or shorter period at the discretion of the Matron, with the consent and approbation of the Governor.

Acts of misconduct to be reported to the Matron, and dealt with in the same manner as in the Probationary Class.

Noisy or disorderly Prisoners to be excluded from the privilege of association both in the corridors and at exercise, and if their misconduct shall be persisted in, they shall be returned to the Penal or Probationary Class for three months, or such longer period as may be deemed expedient by the Matron, with the consent and appropation of the Governor.

The Dietary of the Prisoners to be supplied according to the Rates and relative Rules.

The foregoing Interim Regulations for Female Prisoners under sentence of Transportation or of Penal Servitude, confined in the General Prison at Perth, having been submitted to me, I hereby certify my approval thereof.

of pease, the other ingredients being the same as in the barley-broth and potato-soup, except that the quantity of vegetables may be smaller by about one half. Two pints of barley-milk, must contain 4 oz. of barley, (boiled in water till it is soft, and the water partly boiled away,) with ½ pint of good skimmed sweet milk and a little salt; the rest of the quantity being made up with water.

4. Fish may be substituted for barley-broth at the rate of 6 oz. of fish for one pint of broth.

6. Potatoes, whether in their ordinary form or made into soup, must not be given for dinner more than twice each week; but they may be given for supper as often as may be convenient, provided that they be not given on the days on which the prisoners have potatoes or potato-soup for dinner.

14. In the evening, work should cease a quarter of an hour before supper time; and no prisoner should be required to work after supper unless he has neglected to perform his stated quantity in the ordinary working hours.

15. The eating and drinking vessels in which the food is distributed should not be collected till half an hour after the prisoners have received them, at breakfast and supper, and till 40 minutes after, at dinner.

IV. The Surgeon shall have power to make any variations in particular cases, from the foregoing dietaries, which he may deem necessary, always, however, recording the same in writing. If, too, the Surgeon should consider the foregoing dietaries, or the regulations connected with them, hurtful to the health of the prisoners, he shall immediately report his opinion, and the grounds of it, to the Secretary of the General Board. Powers and Duty of Surgeon as to Dietaries.

The foregoing Rules for the Dietaries of the General Prison at Perth having been submitted to me, I hereby certify my approval thereof.
